PEPPERS STRETCH THE FOOD BUDGET

Stuffed green peppers, easily made dish, easy to prepare and a "natural" for stretching down on out of food budget.

Reducing a food budget can mean many of us and sometimes it seems impossible to make it come out even and please the family, too. But it can be done. It goes without saying that the smart housewife watches for the best buys. She spends a little time carefully reading the ads in her paper before going to the market and she carries home only what she needs and the prices. Buying tips to keep in mind include the following:

Meats: The price per pound isn't all that counts. What percentage of waste—bone, fat, etc., is there? A pound of one meat may cost less than another, but if there's a lot of bone and fat to discard it may not be the bargain it sounds.

Butter: All grades have the same food value and say slight difference in flavor may not even be noticed unless you're a butter expert. Buying a pound at a time instead of a 1/4 pound stick as needed trim off a few pennies too.

Eggs: Check the price of different sizes and shell colors. The color of the shell has no relation at all to its food value. Too small an egg may not be economical, too large a one may be extravagantly costly.

Vegetables: Think in terms of cost per serving. Whether you buy loose, fresh or canned try to buy those which come out even in terms of the number you serve. One left over portion can cancel out a few pennies saving you thought you made.

STUFFED GREEN PEPPERS

6 large green peppers
3 cups chopped cooked meat (lamb, chicken, canned luncheon meat)
1 medium onion, minced
1/4 teaspoon black pepper
2 cups soft enriched yeast-raised bread crumbs
1/4 cup melted margarine or butter

Cut thin dice from stem and of green pepper. Remove seeds. Cook peppers in boiling salted water about 5 minutes or until barely tender. Drain on paper towels. Place in baking dish. Mix together in large mixing bowl meat, onion, pepper, bread crumbs. Top lightly with melted margarine or butter. Fill peppers with mixture being careful not to pack tightly. Pour 1/2 cup of water in bottom of baking dish and bake 30 minutes at 350° F. (moderate oven). Makes 6 servings.

PRESSURE COOKING DOES NOT DESTROY FOOD VALUE

The report that pressure cooking destroys food value is misinformation being spread by certain representatives of other cooking utensils. Miss Janet Cameron, nutritionist at VPI, says all nutrients available during the pressure cooking can't time to one-third, and costs without any longer reducing caloric value. It is the best way to cook foods that need long cooking.

Excerpts From Speech Reveal Senator Byrd's Viewpoints

Excerpts from speech by Senator Harry F. Byrd (D. Va.) at Aecomac, Va., 8 p.m., Wednesday, May 28.

As reported in the Richmond Times Dispatch my opponent as of April 1 is quoted verbatim as follows:

"On every one of the great issues which have confronted him during his administration, the President has made the right decision. He made the right decision on this one."

In this one paragraph my opponent has clearly presented one of the fundamental differences between us. I have not been a "rubber stamp" for President Truman.

A year or so ago the President publicly announced his willingness to have me purged from the United States Senate when he said: "There are too many Byrds in the Senate." To make it apply specifically to me he spelled out B-Y-R-D-S.

In contrast to his suggestion that I be purged, it is significant that almost simultaneously with my opponent's announcement of candidacy for the Senate the President attempted to give him public recognition by announcing his appointment to the Board of Visitors of the Military Academy.

I have supported the President when he was right and I have opposed him when he was wrong.

The President has been pressing Congress with all the power at his command to adopt the Ewing plan, which is socialized medicine, and the Brannan plan for socialized farming, which is vigorously opposed by the American Farm Bureau Federation, the National Grange and all other reputable organizations of farmers.

At a conservative estimate socialized medicine and socialized farming would cost the Treasury of the U. S. not less than $25 billion a year. They would socialize our health and our food, and thereby irrevocably commit us to socialism from which there can be no retreat. We would find ourselves in the same situation as England which has gone so far down the road to socialism that she can never recover the free enterprise system.

If Southern Senators and Congressmen had been "rubber stamps" for Mr. Truman and gone with the New Dealers, these and other similar measures would be law now with all their disastrous consequences.

I opposed the President in his efforts to repeal the Taft-Hartley Act, a debt he incurred to the labor leaders in the political campaign of 1948. I voted to override his veto of the Taft-Hartley Act.

I have opposed the President in his nomination of poker-playing cronies, such as Mon Wallgren, whom he nominated to be chairman of the National Security Resources Board, one of the most important agencies of the government having to do with our preparedness program. This nomination was defeated when I cast the deciding vote against it in the Armed Services Committee.

I have carefully scrutinized all of the nominations by the President, and acting under constitutional authority, requiring advice and consent of the Senate, I have been instrumental in Senate rejection of others continued by the President to responsible positions who were found to be incompetent and untrustworthy.

I opposed and condemned the action of the President seizing the steel plants which was the most Czarist-like action any president of the U. S. has ever taken. There was no authority in law for this so he relied upon what he defined as the unlimited power of the executive. Such acts by chief executives would destroy our form of government under which each of the three branches is independent of the other, and eventually we would have dictatorship and totalitarian government.

I voted to deny to the President public funds for the purpose of operating illegally seized plants. Such an amendment has been approved three times by an overwhelming majority of the Senate. This vote accomplished the useful purpose of indicating clearly the Senate's disapproval of this autocratic action by the President.

My opponent has said that if he had been in the Senate he would have voted against withholding public funds for the purpose of operating the seized plants.

If re-elected:

(a) I will continue my efforts to bring about in the Washington government a rigid code of honesty such as has characterized the Virginia State government. Our Washington government must be cleansed of corruption and the peddling of political influence in the administration of our public affairs.

(b) I shall continue my efforts to hold down federal taxes which are bearing too heavily on all classes of our citizenship. As a member of the Senate Finance Committee, I know that in many instances these taxes are now confiscatory, destroying the business operations of our people and draining their personal pocketbooks. At least part of the high taxes which are now necessary are the result of waste and extravagance at Washington. In addition retrenchment is necessary.

(c) I shall continue opposing Mr. Truman's profligate spending to the utmost of my capacity. By his own admission, if the President's program is carried out, we would add nearly $30 billion to the federal debt and bring the total to nearly $300 billion. This is more than twice the assessed value of all the land, buildings, industries, and tangible property in America.

(d) I shall continue working for balanced federal budgets. The federal budget has been out of balance for 18 of the last 20 years. We must balance it soon or it may never be balanced again before we go over the precipice of financial disaster.

(e) I shall strive to check the concentration of power at Washington because graft and waste are fertilized by concentration of power and the people lose control of their own affairs.

(f) I shall do all I can to strengthen our national defense and support all measures to do our share in arming our allies. But by word and deed I shall do all I can to stop colonial extravagance by the military establishment, and especially waste in civilian manpower.

(g) I shall do my best to stop our trend toward socialism, and strengthen our free enterprise system as the source of our power and the guarantee of our liberty.

In short, we must clean up the mess at Washington and restore our government to the principles which have made us the greatest of all nations.

If re-elected, I shall be dedicated to this general program.

My opponent says the President has made the right decision on every one of the great issues which have confronted him in the nearly eight years of his administration. I have mentioned a few of the great decisions with which I do not agree as the record will clearly show.

I do not wish to be re-elected as a "rubber stamp" for any one person.

LEFT-OVER CEREAL

Pour left-over cereal into a glass that has been rinsed out with cold water. Chill thoroughly and tip it out of the glass. It can then be sliced and fried until it is crisp. A bit of syrup poured over the top will make it more appetizing.

And No Popcorn

Mulling over the timeworn excuses people give for not going to church, the Rev. Grant H. Elford of Lake Crystal, Minn., and Dr. Ronald Meredith of Fresno, Cal., on a trip together compiled this list of reasons:

1. The manager of the theatre never called on me.
2. I did go a few times, but no one spoke to me. Those who go there aren't very friendly.
3. Every time I go they ask me for money.
4. Not all folks live up to the high moral standards of the films.
5. I went so much as a child, I've decided I've had all the entertainment I need.
6. The performance lasts too long; I can't sit still for an hour and three quarters.
7. I don't always agree with what I hear and see.
8. I don't think they have very good music.
9. The shows are held in the evenings, and that's the only time I am able to be home with the family.—Newsweek.

PA and MA

Last night, just as Pa and I were finishing supper, Sally Hawkins, she's one of our neighbors, came flying in to talk to us about some paper she had signed; said she didn't read it and now she was wondering if she should have signed it.

She said she went to her crib in the afternoon and the president passed around a paper for them to vote. I asked her what they were voting on. She said she didn't know. So I asked her to let me see the paper, but she said she didn't have it. She just signed it. And the others signed it, and the president smiled it to somebody. Pa and I just sat and looked at her. "Don't you have any idea what it was about?" I asked.

Sally thought a minute and recalled that it had something to do with "registering to vote for something."

Then the light began to dawn on Pa and me. I said, "Sally, you've already done what your club is asking its members to do. For years you've been registered to vote. All you have to do now is keep paying your poll tax and you can vote in all the elections. Don't you remember that you and I went to the county treasurer's office right after Thanksgiving and paid our poll taxes?" Sally remembered. "Well, I said, that fixed you up to vote for this year. Of course, if you had been paying your poll tax for the first time, you would have had to take your receipt the treasurer gave you and go to the registrar in the district, show him the receipt, and get him to register you so you could vote in the elections that are coming up."

Sally heaved a sigh of relief and said she understood now what it was all about but that the girls at the meeting were chattering so fast that she never thought to read the paper. She just signed it and passed it to the next girl.

After Sally had gone, Pa said he was more convinced than ever that women ought not to be allowed to vote, that they didn't settle "their bird brains" long enough to know what was going on. I won't even tell that girl.

Pa and Ma in This Week's Sun

"Pa and Ma," a copyrighted feature, is a story by Edna Smith, Richmond writer, in which the appearance of the characters is a trial run, showing the work.

This feature, which we offer in the Sun, is accompanied by pictures of Pa and Ma. Pa is a lovely gentleman who "comes off the deep end" occasionally, but in these occasions, he's always brought back to firm ground by Ma, his practical, hard-working wife. The joys and problems of this farm couple, together with those of their neighbors, combine to make a story of rural life that could be found duplicated in almost any farming neighborhood today.

This is the first time this home-own feature has been made available to weekly newspapers.

If you like "Pa and Ma" and would like to see it become a regular feature in these columns, please let us know.

QUICKLY ANNOUNCED... With announcement of a vote's during inauguration at the time, England's Queen Elizabeth will visit the White House at Gloucestershire.

Helpful hint for presidential candidates: If you must go out for writing votes, be sure your name is something easy like Smith or Jones, instead of Kefauver or Eisenhower.

Did You Know?

The way of the transgressor is hard we are told, but around Washington, D. C., it doesn't always seem to be quite hard enough.

By the time a husband will stand without hitching, he's hardly worth owning.

This time of year we once again learn the sad facts of life: our own garden will never look as good as the one in the seed catalogues.

The Tower of Babel was 300 feet in height.

Mayor Franz Jones of Vienna comes to the U. S. to learn how to solve traffic problems. We can certainly give him plenty of advice.

When the ordinary person tries to make some easy money, he loses his shirt.

A state court recently ruled that it is not cruel and human treatment for a husband to stay out late several nights a week. Not is it very healthy.

The cries of admiration that go up from a group of women when they see a cute baby are not unlike the cries of their husbands when they see a cute baby.

Everybody has big ideas, but only the man who masters the details can translate a big idea into a reality.

3,400 boys and girls under 15 years old were killed in traffic accidents last year.

Three out of four motor vehicles involved in 1951 accidents were passenger cars.

Rhode Island was the first state in the Union to build its own airport.

"First-Footing," a Scotch custom, means that the first person to visit you on New Year's day must bring a bottle and give you a drink for good luck.

Dutch youngsters put their wooden shoes before the fireplace on Christmas eve.

AN IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

UNITED STATES DEFENSE BONDS!

Now...

for your Series E Bonds!

- 1 The Series E Bonds you've bought since May 1, 1951, now pay you 3% interest, compounded semi-annually if held to maturity.
- 2 And you can still hold your bonds beyond maturity. The automatic extension privilege applies not only to the new Series E Bonds, but also to all old ones — and every unexpired bond you own earns higher interest for this extended period!
- 3 The Series E Bond is a better investment than ever — it has improved interest terms in the early years — and interest starts after six months.
- 4 The annual purchase limit is doubled — now $20,000 maturity value. Now, invest more in Series E Bonds — through Payroll Savings where you work, or the Bond-a-Month Plan where you bank.

Now Series E Bonds Paying Series F and G

Series F — a new 12 year appreciation bond, available in denominations of $25 up to $100,000, sold at 75% of par value. It pays 2.75% compounded semi-annually if held to maturity, and is redeemable after six months. Annual limit of $20,000 jointly with Series K Bonds.

Series G — a new 12 year current income bond available in denominations of $25 up to $100,000. Annual limit of $20,000, jointly with Series A. Pays interest semi-annually by Treasury check at the rate of 2.75% per annum. Redeemable after six months from issue date at stated redemption value. Full details of the new Series J and K Bonds are available at any Federal Reserve Bank or Branch.

And Beginning June 1, a New Series H Bond!

A new current income bond, available in denominations of $500 up to $10,000, paying 3% interest if held to maturity (interest paid semi-annually by Treasury check). Annual purchase limit, $20,000. Details of the new Series H Bond are now available at your nearest Federal Reserve Bank or Branch.

NOW EVEN BETTER... INVEST MORE IN DEFENSE BONDS!

For your comfort and pleasure, Winter or Summer...

UNIQUE OPTICAL SERVICE OFFERED TO RESIDENTS OF VIRGINIA BEACH AND PRINCESS ANNE COUNTY

The Salasky Optical Co., a name known to residents of Princess Anne County for over 40 years and located NOW at 2101 Atlantic Avenue, across from Cherry-Pearson's Men's Shop — has been offering to the people of this community an optical service that is generally associated only with a metropolitan area.

This service is quick, accurate, and reliable. For those who have the misfortune to need optical repairs and cannot be without their eyeglasses, The Salasky Optical Co. can make these repairs, while you wait and thereby NOT have to be without your good vision for all your workday seeing.

Eyeglass frames, minor adjustments and repairs are made while you wait. Replacement of lenses, or lenses, and new eyeglasses, all in a "one day service." This eliminates that unnecessary trip to Norfolk which entails its many problems, such as transportation to the city, the problem of parking, and that feeling of not feeling like "home-folks" in a strange place.

The Salasky Optical Co. has had this branch of their business on the beach for a number of years and is personally conducted by Dr. Stanley Salasky — who resides at Virginia Beach the year round. The other branches of the Salasky Optical Co. are located in Norfolk, Portsmouth, and Newport News, Va.

So for the best in eye care and service when you need it, call the

WHAT'S THE RIGHT COMBINATION FOR VALUE?

1. Advanced Styling 2. Proved Performance

HERE'S THE car that gives you everything—economy, beauty and high-stepping performance. Here's the car that adds together all the things you want... in an unbeatable value combination.

Take economy. Pound for pound, Mercury's the most economical car in the land—officially proved by its 3-year record in the Mobilgas Economy Run (twice the Sweepstakes winner against all comers; three times champion in its class).

Take styling. Mercury gives you a fresh, new look—smart styling that will stay in style—not an outmoded "carry-over" design.

Take performance. This year's Mercury has 12% more power, hustling V-8 power, and even higher compression.

Want more? Just keep on adding. For there's extra stamina and long life to keep repair bills low, extra built-in value to keep trade-in value high... proved conclusively by registration figures and used car market reports.

Come down and we'll let you see for yourself. Just ask for a key, a car, and be our guest on the road!

FOR COUNCIL

CITY OF VIRGINIA BEACH

TUESDAY, JUNE 10, 1952

FRANK A. DUSCH

Here is a summary of our platform which we have previously made:

1. We favor the continuation of the progressive school plans in the City of Virginia Beach, Virginia, and if elected shall do all in our power to make Virginia Beach Schools the finest in the State.
2. We commend the plans, which are now on record, to extend sewerage into every section of the City of Virginia Beach, and if elected shall endeavor to secure the fulfillment of this plan.
3. We endorse the continued improvement of the Streets, as definitely set out and planned, and pledge to accelerate the carrying out of this plan as much as possible. Pacific Avenue should be improved in the immediate future, and we pledge its early construction.
4. We heartily endorse and commend the unselfish and patriotic efforts now being carried on to combat erosion. The plan by which the erosion can be corrected and secure the restoration of an adequate beach is of principal importance to the City and must be accomplished and maintained as an absolute necessity. As planned, the cost of this is borne by a special tax, which is commonly known as the "Luxury Tax," and there will be no direct tax on real estate, or personal property for the maintenance of the Ocean Front. To this, we pledge our support to its being carried out.
5. We favor the complete annexation of the territory asked for in the suit now pending in the Circuit Court of Princess Anne County, Virginia, and shall support to the fullest, the successful completion of this suit. We do, however, oppose giving to the annexed territory public improvements and facilities until all such public improvements and facilities are furnished within the present boundaries of the City of Virginia Beach.
6. We commend the transition of the Town to a City of the second class, which gives the City of Virginia Beach a modern charter and does not create any unnecessary positions or departments. The transition of the Town to a City makes the City financially independent of the County of Princess Anne, and an efficient and economical operation of the affairs of the City will give it a sound financial condition.
7. We pledge to secure, as nearly as possible, an equalization of taxes so that no one will bear more than his just share.
8. We heartily commend and congratulate the various Civic Clubs and Garden Clubs, and other organizations for their untiring efforts for the beautification of the City, and pledge to them our wholehearted cooperation.
9. We pledge to do all in our power for the installation of additional fire hydrants throughout the City so that each and every one may have proper and necessary fire protection.
10. We shall use our best endeavors to secure efficient and economical government for the City so that all taxes may be kept as low as possible.

GARDEN GAB

Perennials Can Bloom All Season

Even the perennials with the longest flowering period do not bloom throughout the garden season. In planning the perennial garden, therefore, it is necessary to consider the habit of the flower, its size, shape, and color.

It is not bloom alone that makes a garden attractive and interesting. For permanent effects, foliage may be more important than flower, and both should certainly be considered when selecting perennials. So should the texture and height of the plants. Color of both flowers and leaves should be regarded as important in the perennial-garden picture.

The perennials of early spring which thrive at the seashore are: candytuft, basket of gold, phlox subulata, hardy primrose, anemone, and columbine. Their usefulness is not over when the flowers are gone. Definite shades of green appear in their foliage to give contrast in color and texture for the balance of the season. By mid-May the garden is beginning to be crowded with growing plants and planning is very necessary to maintain a continuity of bloom for the entire season. The border could include some or all of these dependable perennials: gaultheria, grey gooseberr, daylily, beecham, tritoma, hardy aster, and physostegia or lion's-head.

For the heat of the summer at the seashore the hardy phlox forms the backbone of any perennial border. If it is used as a cut flower, it will continue its bloom until frost. It should not be allowed to go to seed, as the seedlings will revert to an insipid plant. The plants do not require division until every third or fourth year.

There are a few small growing summer chrysanthemums which are overlooked by many gardeners. For big results with little effort, there is nothing that is more satisfactory. The more you cut them the more they bloom.

For the later blooming perennials there is brilliant color available and almost infinite variety among the chrysanthemums. For the finest results with these old favorites, they should be divided each spring.

These plants should give a satisfactory season of bloom when planted in well-prepared soil and may be mulched with pine straw to cut down weeding and watering.

Florida Wax Scale. This scale is particularly bad on anemones and must be attacked this week and next, while in its crawler stage, or you will have to wait till next year, as it will be protected by a wax-like coating the remainder of the time. This scale appears on twigs only, as a dirty white conical bulb about one-fourth inch in diameter, and has two partial white lines which you can see on each side where its body meets the twig. Each female lays several hundred eggs which hatch the first half of June.

Recommended spray: 2 tablespoons of Florida Violex oil and 1 teaspoonful of Black Leaf 40 to 1 gallon of water. Spray the first week in June and again about 10 days later.

Insurance

to meet the costs and expenses of their accident claims and allow a reasonable profit on insurance company operations."

Like almost everything else, automobile liability insurance has been caught in the inflationary spiral and that is one reason why rates are moving upward, the National Bureau's general manager said.

When a motorist takes out an automobile liability insurance policy, he pointed out, the insurance company assumes the responsibility for meeting, within the limits and coverage of the policy, claim costs for the bodily injury and the property damage (for which the motorist becomes liable).

On the average, the insurance companies have been paying out more money each year to meet claims for the deaths, bodily injuries and property damage caused by insured motorists, according to Mr. Leslie.

'Girl in White' Has New Twist On Old Theme

MGM—Doctor Is a Lady

Here is a new twist on the somewhat familiar theme of men of medicine and their fight against prejudice. In this case the protagonist is one of the nation's first woman doctors and the story is of her fight at the turn of the century to prove her worth to a profession heretofore made up almost exclusively of men.

In "The Girl in White," MGM has a slickly-fashioned drama nicely played by a trio of strong box office names—June Allyson, in the title role, and Arthur Kennedy and Cary Merrill as the physicians in her life. Sprightly period detail in costumes and sets as well as a general lightness in treatment also contribute to the film's wide audience appeal.

Miss Allyson first is bitten by the doctor bug when, as a pig-tailed girl of 13, she sees a woman physician, played by Mildred Dunnock, save her mother in childbirth. June goes on to medical school and graduates third in her class; at which point she spurs a proposal of marriage from a fellow student, Kennedy, in favor of her career. Kennedy, like all the other medical men, figures June should go back to the pots and pans. It takes all kinds of wrangling before she finally lands a job as a resident physician in a big New York hospital, where Kennedy also practices.

June's triumph over the distrust and prejudice of the hospital staff, especially superintendent Merrill, is told with humor and drama. Her pluck in riding the horse-drawn ambulance, tending injured dock workers and making accurate diagnoses win her respect, both as a doctor and as a woman. After a brief period of hero worshiping Merrill, June finally admits her love for Kennedy and promises to wait his return from fellowship study abroad.

They will be at the Beach Theatre starting Sunday, June 8, for a three-day run.

Paul Revere Junior American Citizens Club Elect Officers

By MISS E. L. COOPER

The Paul Revere Junior American Citizens Club will continue to meet throughout the summer under the sponsorship of the Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach, Inc. Meetings are held each Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Chesapeake Beach Community House.

Recently elected officers are: president, Edward Maley; first vice-president, Michael Farrell; second vice-president, Carol Hlland; secretary, Jackie Lee; song leader, Sharon Storey.

Continuing its study of special events recorded in history which highlight the building of America, programs for the June meetings will feature Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederacy, born June 3, 1808.

Nathan Hale, Patriot, born May 6, 1755; Flag Day, first observed May 14, 1877; First Virginia Juneteenth, held June 19, 1865; and the Constitution ratified by new states on June 21, 1788, establishing the United States government.

Carrying out one of the purposes of the organization is the true Paul Revere spirit, to help others, the club voted to forego refreshments and contribute $2 to the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund to purchase dried milk for Brazilian children who are suffering because of milk shortage due to the drought. This is a project of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Another good deed carried out during the month of May was the selling of Buddy Poppies. Twenty dollars and one cent was raised by this sale.

CLEAN EGGS UP PROFITS

Produce clean eggs! That's good advice for any poultryman, and particularly those who are feeling an egg price-feed cost squeeze, says Dr. Robert Krueger, poultry marketing specialist at VPI. Dr. Krueger says eggs which have the internal characteristics of grade A, but have a soiled shell usually are sold as grade C. This may mean a decrease of as much as one-third in the price paid producers.

Here are some suggestions:
Build nests 15 inches high with a 7 to 8 inch board along the front to keep nesting material inside.
Fill nests with 4 to 5 inches of fine, clean, absorbent material, such as shavings, oats, buckwheat, peanut hulls or cut straw. Add nest material as needed.

Allow one square foot of nest space to 5 or 6 hens.
Pick up eggs three times a day. Frequent gathering will reduce the possibility of eggs being soiled or broken. Since most eggs are laid early in the morning, it is a good idea to make the first pick-up between 9 and 10 a.m. The second and third gathering should be at noon and at 5 p.m.
Keep floors dry. Prevent wet floor litter by ventilating properly, keeping storms from blowing in open windows, and using guards over the drinking fountains.

Dr. Krueger says in spite of all that can be done, about 10 per cent of the eggs produced still need cleaning. Only slightly soiled eggs may be cleaned with some sort of an abrasive such as emery cloth or buffer. Rub only the soiled area, and scrub only as long as necessary to remove the spot.

Place badly soiled eggs in a wire basket. Let warm water from a faucet flow over the palm of your hand and sprinkle the eggs until all are wet. Move the basket from under the faucet and rinse off any remaining dirt by holding each egg under running water. Place the eggs in a separate basket to dry. Never leave eggs in water to soak.

the sheep project. Another plan is to have sheep shearing schools within the reach of the same club members.

At the Harrisonburg event the lambs will be graded by representatives of the State Division of Markets, and only the choice grades will be eligible to show. However, all lambs will be sold. The club members will compete for some $150 in prizes donated by local businessmen.

Top Grades Brought Sizeable Premiums In Feeder Calf Sales

Fancy and choice grade feeder calves brought sizeable premiums in the 21 "open-market" feeder calf sales in Virginia in 1931.

A study of price-grade relationships showed that the fancy and choice animals averaged 107 per cent of prices for good grade, while prices for medium and common grade calves averaged only 91 per cent and 90 per cent respectively, of prices paid for good grade calves, says J. D. Johnson, agricultural economist at the Virginia Experiment Station at VPI.

The 10,392 calves sold were graded as follows: fancy and choice, 47 per cent; good, 33 per cent; medium, 17 per cent; and common, 1 per cent.

An analysis of prices paid for 2,182 beef-type yearling steers showed that the price differences between grades showed a price pattern similar to that for feeder calves. Fancy and choice steers averaged 105 per cent of good grade; prices for medium grade steers averaged only 93 per cent of good grade prices.

A comparison of yearling steer prices to steer feeder calf prices of the same grade in the same area, on the same date, showed that feeder calf prices averaged $6 per hundred-weight higher than yearling steer prices.

A similar study at five leading

Southwestern Virginia feeder calf sales, and five valley and northern Virginia feeder calf sales showed that seasonal price differences between the yearling grades of feeder calves at the part of May and the first part of

June, and again during the latter part of August and in September. Price differences between the yearling grades of feeder calves at the part of May and the first part of

Local DAR Fashion Show Most Successful; Group Aids School

The Princess Anne County Chapter D. A. R. sponsored a fashion show and card party at the Virginia Beach Community House recently. This chapter is young, with small membership, yet has some noteworthy achievements to its credit.

Concerted efforts of the chapter are on the Blue Ridge school for Boys (and opened to girls recently) at St. George, Va. This is among the approved schools supported by the D. A. R. There are 12 schools receiving large sums of money and clothing from the D. A. R.

The Virginia Daughters selected as their state project the Boys' Dormitory at Blue Ridge, with 51 chapters contributing $2,491.10 to the Blue Ridge fund. Gifts of money were given to Blue Ridge for current expenses, and at Christmas the boxes of clothing were sent to the school and three scholarships awarded.

The fashion show and card party had Mrs. Fred Perkins as chairman, Mrs. Mildred Alexander of W. G. R. was the commodore and presented attractive models wearing gowns from Berenson's in Norfolk and Virginia Beach. All types of women's wear, from beach tops worn by teenagers and smart frocks for all wearers including those of more mature years, were displayed. Rosenbaum's shoe salon furnished stylish and up-to-date shoes. Mrs. Charles Fitchings played the accompaniment during the show.

The chapter is emphasizing Flag Day, which is on June 17. This will be celebrated on the chapter's regular meeting day at a luncheon meeting, the last get-together till fall.

Many 'Necessities' Found in Bathrooms

In a bathroom used by two young people, under twenty and of opposite sex, an inventory made by this writer revealed the following items:

Eight partially used doctor's prescriptions, dichloride tablets, suppositories, borax, Annette's perfect cleanser, nose oil sprayer, Epsom salts, after-shaving lotion, two razor sharpeners, Pee-Chee shoe cleaner, Deodorant powder, absorbent cotton, Spalding's glove softener, adhesive tape, Handi-tape, dental floss, nose drops, Orlin root powder, vaseline, brushless shaving cream, Odo-ro-no, soda mints, Nozema, phenolax, Rubi-Rub, follicle lotion, talcum powder, zinc oxide, chloroform liniment, Germinal foot powder, potassium permanganate, boric acid ointment, lozels, box of razor blades, safety razor, shaving brush, Tee-off dusting powder, hydrogen peroxide, Ambrosia, witch hazel, aspirin, tooth powder, four toothbrushes, brilliantine, skin cream, bay rum, agar-agar, rubbing alcohol.

In another bathroom in the same up to the extent of a 360 degree red signal blinker on the top and 5-inch luminous letters at each end and on both sides reading "State Police." The new blinker is an improvement in that it not only can be seen from any angle but cannot be blotted out by cars parking around the patrol car at a trouble scene.

A Page County resident was operating a tractor when a motorcycle crashed into it, injuring him as well as the motorcycle operator. Driving the motorcycle was his son.

Both the Roe and Oldsmobile were named for the same man—R. E. Olds.

TRAFFIC FACTS

On July 1 of this year a law goes into effect providing a mandatory jail sentence for driving after suspension or revocation of the offender's driving permit. This is quite different from the offense, with which it is often confused, of driving without a permit. In the latter case, the driver has not been ordered not to drive for some offense and is not guilty of so heinous offense as the first. The jail sentence is a fitting punishment for contempt of our laws and will serve as a much needed deterrent since the driver with a suspended license stands little chance of being apprehended if he stays out of traffic trouble and is prone to take a chance when punishments are light.

Before the automobile, gasoline was an unwanted product. A distillate in the process of refining kerosene—greatly in demand for oil lamps of the day—careless refining caused it to pollute the kerosene and either give an unsatisfactory flame or explode. However, mixed with air it has more explosive power than TNT and is ideally suited for the internal combustion engine.

May we invite you to handle the easiest and safest steering wheel in existence at the moment? (Chrysler's full-time Power Steering.)

May we invite you to try out brakes which require as little as one-third the usual foot-pressure, and still stop you in many feet less than other cars do? (Chrysler Power Brakes.)

May we invite you to sit on the most comfortable seat cushions, and enjoy the fullest window vision you can find? May we invite you to ride on the rough-road miracle of the Oriflow shock absorbers which only Chrysler-built cars have?

May we invite you to drive a Chrysler Imperial... and learn how much you'd

Nixon Electric Company Has Complete Appliance Stocks

The Nixon Electric company, which opened at Virginia Beach in September at 606 Seventeenth Street, announces this week the opening of an appliance line in connection with its electrical contracting business.

J. E. Nixon, owner of the firm, stated that they have been appointed as dealer for Apex, Deepfreeze, Estate, D. W. Whitehead and Stewart Warner.

It was also announced that J. Hoffman, factory representative, will be at the Virginia Beach store on June 5, 6 and 7.

FORESTRY DATA

The Virginia Forest Service now maintains more than 100 fire look-out towers throughout the disjunctive spring and fall fire seasons.

Almost half the forest fires in Virginia are caused by careless smokers. Be sure your match or cigarette is out before dropping it.

To build a five-room house, you will need the lumber from 50 to 60 trees ranging from 14 to 20 inches in diameter.

The first cargo shipped from Virginia to England included tar, pitch, soap ashes, and chipboards. Forest products have remained an important source of income since.

Dredge In Position: Pumping Starts Today

Favorable weather conditions for the past week has enabled the dredge to reach the beach at the Radio Inlet site where sand pumping operations are expected to begin sometime today or Friday. The dredge moved into its position late Wednesday. Activity at the site has picked up noticeably during the past few days, particularly as the dredge reached the beach and secured itself against unfavorable weather.

Members of Virginia Beach Erosion Commission, under whose supervision the project is being carried out, expressed satisfaction with the progress being made, and one member said "the weatherman has certainly been good to us the past week." It is expected that favorable winds that have prevailed all week.

The first phase should get under way next week. This includes establishing a 100 foot wide beach from Seventh street to 22nd street and repair and rehabilitation of the seawall and boardwalk. If the funds permit this phase may be extended to include 24th street.

Observers feel that a good portion of the beach should be restored by July 15 if the pumping operation begins early next week.

County Board To Name New Commission

The Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors will hold a special meeting Friday night to set a nine-man planning commission.

The decision to do so was reached at a special meeting of the board at the court house Monday night. The board for the past several months has been plagued with an unusual number of zoning requests. Many sections of the county are becoming heavily developed and residents of these areas have sought protection through zoning ordinances.

The county board also granted final approval to two zoning matters which have been hanging fire for several months. Amendments to the present Bird Neck Point ordinance were granted at the special meeting, as was the proposed ordinance for Bel-Aire, a section on the Little Creek Road.

Two exceptions were allowed in the area zones for Bel-Aire, which lies between the Norfolk County line and the Wilder Drive-In Theatre.

The county board also voted to hold another special meeting at the court house Monday night for the purpose of open-air bids on the installation of water mains and fire hydrants in East Ocean View.

At Monday night's special meeting, the board also authorized the construction of two airplane watching towers—one at Princess Anne and the other at Ocean Park.

Marvin Tower was also appointed as the county's electrical inspector at an annual salary of $3,000 plus $100 per month as expenses.

Executive Secretary V. Alfred Ethridge was also authorized to make a trip to Washington to "follow up" on the county's effort to secure a flood story water main on an ordinance to relieving a water shortage in North Virginia Beach.

JOIN SUN-NEWS STAFF

Mrs. Alice Brewer White, left, and Mrs. Lucille Clark, who have joined the Virginia Beach Sun-News staff. The two ladies, well known to radio and television fans throughout the Tidewater area, will edit a weekly women's page which will appear for the first time in next week's Sun-News.

NEW WOMEN'S PAGE WILL BE FEATURE OF SUN-NEWS

The new woman's page of the Virginia Beach Sun-News which will begin next week will be titled "The Feminine World at the Beach" and will feature news and features on fashions, home-making notes, cooking recipes and gracious entertaining hints, brief items about books, garden chatter, a woman-of-the-week column and a "Watch-For" summing up of the Fall and Winter Fashions in the 1952 picture.

Story advertisements, bordering the page, will highlight shopping spots on the beach. "Straight From The Shoulder—Fashion, That Is!" and "Attention for Merry Matrons" by Alice Brewer White will be the new summertime features appearing on the woman's page of The Virginia Beach Sun-News beginning next week, June 19.

Mrs. White, fashion and woman's director of WTAR-TV, will be in New York attending the Couture Group showings of the New York Dress Institute's Nineteenth National Fashion Press Week at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

For the past six years, Alice Brewer White has been representative of the NBC affiliated station in Norfolk, twice a year—in January for the Spring and Summer fashion showings and in July to see the Fall and Winter collections—and has acquired a large and loyal listening audience among the women of Princess Anne County. Her fashion reports and interesting interviews with national celebrities and top-flight designers have highlighted her daily "Woman's World" half-hour program, heard each morning over WTAR at 9 o'clock.

Again, as has been the custom of the Norfolk station, Mrs. White will do a week's programs by direct wire from the NBC studios.

New Council Members
In the transition of Virginia Beach from a town to a city of the second class, it will have five councilmen instead of six.

George C. Simpson.

The organization itself campaigned on a 10-point platform supporting principally projects now in process, including a long-range plan of street improvement, beach erosion control, annexation of North Virginia Beach and construction of the Virginia Beach High School now nearing completion.

The summary of the unofficial vote by precinct follows. Precinct 2 is at Pacific avenue and 31st street and Precinct 1 at the city hall:

BAYSIDE NEWS

Miss M. W. Newman, Reporter

W. B. McKinley, secretary of the Bayview Lions Club, reports that the club sold approximately 1,000 brooms and 300 door mats in the recent Lions Club broom sale, and are still working on the disposal of the few left. The funds will be used for charity and community improvement projects.

The Chesapeake Beach Men's Club scrap drive is still in effect. Several truck loads of scrap iron and metals have already been accumulated in a huge pile at the Community Center.

The Parent-Teacher study group of the Bayview Parent Teacher Association, under the direction of Mrs. Carl Otto, adult education chairman, reviewed and discussed opportunities for summer activities open to the children of the Bayview area at the final meeting of the year. Various committees were represented by adult leaders who related the activities of the club or group they represented. As a result of the meeting the following tabulation was made:

Summer Activities Open to Children of Bayview Area

All children from all areas and religious faiths are welcome. No charge.

Haywood Methodist Church—Robbins' Corner, June 9-13, 9 to 11:30 a. m. Ages 4 to 6th grade (for 4 to 14). Phone 63-2187.

Presbyterian Church—Robbins' Corner, June 9-13, 9:30-11:30. Ages 4 to 15. Phone 63-0003. (Only first 50 children applying will be accepted).

East Ocean View Presbyterian Church—June 16-17, 9-11 a. m. Ages 4 and up. Phone 8904.

Playgrounds:
All children from all areas are welcome. No charge.

Chesapeake Beach Playground (behind Community House), tennis, basketball, slides, skating, monkey bars, swings.

Bayview School (adult director in attendance from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.). Above activities plus some craft and art work, and many supervised games. Contact Ocean View Community Center.

Ocean Park (behind fire station), same as Chesapeake Beach Playground, except no asphalt play area activities.

City Park, zoo, playground, directed games on certain days. Phone 47461. Band concerts, square and social dancing.

Chesapeake Beach Community Center—Many activities for varied age groups. Changing, flexible schedule. Mostly free. Good for groups as well as individuals.

East Ocean View Activity Club—Meets at fire station twice a month on Fridays. Ages 8-12. Barn dancing, movies, skating, ceramics, oil painting, social dancing.

YMCA, boys, ages 9-14, $8.00 per year. Entitles boy to a Saturday class and one other day a week. Swimming, gym, full program. Phone 26328.

Boys' Club, membership and activities free. All boys eligible, ages 8-16. Drop in any time.

Oceana Fair

booths for the sale of cooked foods, fancy work, etc., and at 7 o'clock there will be an auction with Trafton Robertson officiating as auctioneer.

The chairman of the fair is Miss Ruth Epperson. Mrs. W. Emmett Kyle, Mrs. George E. Smith and Mrs. Richard Goodman are in charge of the publicity; Mrs. Paul Forbes, Mrs. E. C. Mansfield, Mrs. Ray Shields, Mrs. W. B. Jones, Mrs. Ralph Champney and Mrs. Charles Field III are the special gifts committee.

The old church on Court House Road, a mile south of Oceana, had to be razed when the government bought the site to expand the air force facilities. The church goes back beyond 1880 when, as a log church, it was the Chapel of Ease. It became Eastern Shore Chapel because it was on the eastern bank of the Lynnhaven River. The rebuilt church will occupy a site on Laskin Road on the south branch of Wolf Snake Creek, within a mile of the first site.

The new church will be an exact reproduction of the one that had to be razed, except for modern heating and other modern facilities. The parish house will be modern, designed to take care of the church activities. The auxiliary hopes to have a full program of fun for the children, interesting events for the adults, and to clear a generous amount for the parish house furnishings.

this class included men from all parts of the United States and from Hawaii, Alaska and Puerto Rico, according to Mr. Willis.

The FBI National Academy was created in 1935 to train police executives and administrators. Mr. Willis emphasized the importance of this training at the present time, particularly in view of the internal security problems facing our nation. The graduates are expected to return to their own department and train their fellow officers in the scientific skills learned at the FBI National Academy.

The men in the current graduating class received their training at Washington, D. C., and at the FBI Academy at Quantico, Va. Their course occupied 12 weeks and covered over 100 subjects. Particular emphasis was given to courses on Ethics in Law Enforcement, Searches and Seizures, Evidence, Confessions, and Constitutional Law.

The officers attending the National Academy Sessions are a select group. Each man must be designated by the head of his own law enforcement agency and is accepted by the FBI only after investigation.

The faculty of the FBI National Academy includes FBI instructors as well as outstanding specialists from outside the FBI in fields related to law enforcement. One week of the course is devoted to firearms training on FBI ranges.

Some of the more important phases of the course include classes on Police Organization and Administration, Police Records, Selection of Personnel, Office Management, Preparation of Police Manuals, and Teaching Methods and Public Speaking.

Mrs. Annarino To Speak at Luncheon

Mrs. T. Annarino, noted floral decorator, will discuss floral arrangements at the monthly luncheon of the Supply Officers Wives Club at the Norfolk and Country Club on Thursday, June 19. It was announced today.

The Supply Officers Wives Club is an organization of the wives of Navy Supply Corps officers attached to Navy ships and shore establishments in the Tidewater area. Mrs. John E. Wood, wife of Rear Admiral John E. Wood, commanding officer of the Norfolk Naval Supply Center, is honorary president.

Floral arrangements for the luncheon at the club will be prepared by the club members. Mrs. Annarino will critique and judge these arrangements.

Mrs. F. A. Hunk, luncheon chairman, said that any members who wish to submit arrangements may do so by calling her at 68915 by Tuesday, June 17.

Members of the committee planning the luncheon are Mrs. L. O. Butterfield, Mrs. E. A. Salmon, Mrs. C. C. Williams, Mrs. O. W. Nettis, Mrs. W. C. Richardson, Mrs. M. L. McCulloch and Mrs. E. P. Hart.

All members receive automatic reservations for the luncheon. Newcomers to the area or members wishing to cancel are requested to call Mrs. George Deak at 28211, extension 3827, or Mrs. John Whitner, 623105.

Collective farms in the U.S.A.R. are called Colthor.

Red Cross Annual Dinner June 17th

The annual dinner meeting of the Princess Anne County Chapter American Red Cross will be held at the American Legion Clubhouse, Laskin Road, Virginia Beach, on Tuesday, June 17. Dinner will be served at 7 p.m. A pleasant evening of entertainment is in store for the guests. One of the main items of business is election of officers to serve for the coming year.

Members of the Red Cross organization are especially invited. However, the public at large is also cordially invited to attend. The dinner is moderately priced and all those who plan to come are requested to telephone Red Cross headquarters, Virginia Beach, 930, by Saturday morning, June 14.

Magicians Perform At Seaside Park

The free outdoor attraction at Seaside Amusement Park during the entire week, including Sunday, June 15, will be Willard & Company, magicians who introduce considerable humor in their performance. The feats they perform are amazing and mystify the public. There are two performances daily at 4 and 9 p.m.

The front boardwalk has been streamlined in its effect. Many of the former round brick decorated posts have been removed with the addition of the concrete boardwalk, and as a result a clearer view of the entire park fronting on the ocean is visible from one end to the other. Several new neon signs indicating the various offerings have been added on the street front side and the whole general effect is quite impressive to the visitors in this amusement center.

The beautification program, the addition of a brick rectangular and terraced wall will be completed in the next few days, and the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Garden Club are planning to plant colorful flowers and shrubbery in the center of the same. The effects of this improvement will greatly improve daytime visitors and tourists who first come into Virginia Beach via the Laskin Highway.

Mrs. Sydnefischer Wins Trip To Hawaii

Mrs. Sarah Sydnefischer, 219 6th Street, Virginia Beach, has been awarded an all-expense trip to Hawaii on Pan American Airways as a result of capturing state place beauty in an international sister contest conducted by Capital Airlines.

The contest, which was open to all company personnel in the 77 cities served by the airline, ran for a three-month period. Winners were determined by the amount of international air travel sold during the time of the contest.

The prize, one of eleven overseas trips, provides for six days in Hawaii, Honolulu, for two, with all expenses paid.

Mrs. Sydnefischer is an agent for Capital at the city clerk's office of the Naval Operating Base at Norfolk. A former graduate with an A.B. degree, she is a native of Clinton Forge, Va.

PAINTERS ARE AWARDED FOR TURBULENCE GRADUATES

Several parties have been set to honor members of the graduating class of the Virginia Beach Naval Air Station. The first of these was a reception on Saturday night at a barbers at her home in Laskin Road. A beach party was given by Miss Grace Atkinson at her home in Bird Rock Point on Monday. On Wednesday Miss Carol Green celebrated at her home in Laskin Road at a "bible party."

MR. AND MRS. JENNIFER TO HONOR ANN MAY

Mr. and Mrs. William MacKenzie Jenkins have issued invitations for a cocktail party on Thursday, June 19, from 5 to 7 o'clock, at the Princess Anne County Club in honor of Miss Ann May, debutante of the season.

Radio messages throughout the station were carried through the CAP's radio network, under the direction of Capt. James R. L. Fitzgerald. With bases of operations both at Byrd Field in Richmond and at Norfolk, the mission was perfectly coordinated by this radio network. Howitzers said.

SUPPORT THE CANCER DRIVE

Air Force Praises Virginia CAP

Civil Air Patrol personnel of the Virginia Wing had assisted with their search and rescue procedures today after receiving high praise from Air Force Air Rescue Service officers for their work in a simulated search mission last Sunday.

More than 50 planes, from CAP units throughout Virginia, took part in the day-long exercise. First Lt. Robert W. Coulter, who headed the Air Force team of officers grading the mission, said the Virginia Wing had the greatest mobile support unit to the state faster than any of the 13 simulated missions he has graded in other states this year. The Virginia unit reached the scene in only 15 minutes after when the "target" was located.

The purpose of the exercise was to test the efficiency of CAP's search and rescue procedures. The Air Rescue Service officers planted dummy parachutes in two different locations in Virginia before the mission began. The volunteers subsequently had to be located from two Air Force planes while enroute from Washington to Lynchburg.

The search began shortly after 9 a. m. when Lt. Col. Alfred C. Nowitzky, CAP operations officer who was mission commander, ordered the planes into the air. With the CAP, planes of the State police and the aviation section of the Virginia National Guard searched more than 12,000 square miles. Both targets were found before 2:30 p. m., and mobile units were on the scene shortly afterwards.

Radio messages throughout the station were carried through the CAP's radio network, under the direction of Capt. James R. L. Fitzgerald. With bases of operations both at Byrd Field in Richmond and at Norfolk, the mission was perfectly coordinated by this radio network. Howitzers said.

We don't know yet who will write the words to the Democratic campaign song, but it looks more and more like the music will be by Froman.

IN GARDEN TYPERS TO GIVE SUPPER PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. H. Gordon Tyler have issued invitations for a supper party on Sunday evening, June 15, at 7 o'clock, at their home in Laskin Road, Virginia Beach, in honor of W. Lee Tyler, Virginia Beach, and Eleanor E. Gordon Tyler, Laskin Road, of the season. The guests will include the season's debutantes and their escorts.

MARTHA THOMPSON TO BE HONORED AT LUNCHEON

Mrs. Gordon L. Pender and her daughter, Mrs. Richard D. Lantry, have issued invitations for a luncheon today, Thursday, June 12, at 1 o'clock at the Princess Anne County Club, at Virginia Beach, in honor of Miss Martha Pender Thompson, debutante of this season.

CAPT. MRS. VAN PATTEN HOSTS TO SON AND GUESTS

Capt. Elwyn H. Van Patten and Mrs. Van Patten, of Seattle, Wash., and the former's sister, Mrs. Charles Coulter, of Richmond, are spending some time at the R. L. Woodard cottage, 20th Street, Virginia Beach. They were joined Saturday by Captain and Mrs. Van Patten's son, John Harper. Mrs. Van Patten, who has just been graduated from Princeton University, and a chorale, John Paul of New York, who will be their guests.

MRS. FRANCES C. HAWKS ENTERTAINS CLASSMATES

Mrs. Frances Conwell Hawks, a student at Randolph-Macon Woman's College, Lynchburg, has arrived to spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Edward Hawks, at their summer home at Virginia Beach. Mrs. Hawks has as her guests for several days, five classmates, Miss Lela Gilliam, of Lexington, N. Y.; Miss Betty Pracy, of Little Rock, Ark.; Miss Sally Scott, of Murfreesboro, Tenn.; and Miss Lou Ann Watkins, of Henderson, N. C.

CARPET GOLF POPULAR WITH SERVICE MEN

The Navy has landed again! The first three persons to play on the Carpet Golf Course at 18th Street and Atlantic when it officially opened last Saturday were service men. Dan Jaworski, of "Sk", of South Bend, Indiana, came in first with a score of 45. John Winters of Chicago was second with a score of 47. Nate Lima, also of Chicago, trailed Winters by one stroke with a score of 48. G. B. Sider is the owner-operator of Carpet Golf.

COMMISSIONER HERRING SERIOUSLY INJURED

Distressing news comes to the Game Commission that their commissioner from Dayton, Va., has been seriously injured. Early reports are meager, saying only that T. G. (Uncle Tom) Herring has fallen and broken his back.

The sun that never used to set on Britain has certainly gone under a big cloud.

MEMORIAL SERVICE HELD TO HONOR AT CHURCH JUNE 15

The regular monthly meeting of the Beauty Bible Class of the Virginia Beach Methodist Church, located on 18th Street, will be held in the class room on June 18 at 8 p.m. Mrs. L. C. Haffey, president of the class, will preside. Group No. 5, with Mrs. George Smith as leader, will be in charge of the program. All members of the class are urged to be present.

The public is invited to attend the Sunday School on Sunday morning at 9:45 o'clock.

Reserve Officers Train in Capital

Four Army Reserve officers from the Norfolk area are currently undergoing a two-week tour of active duty training at Virginia Military District headquarters in Richmond. They are members of mobilization designation detachments in Norfolk and are earmarked for specific military assignments in case of a national emergency.

The officers are Maj. John W. Shuler, 106 Axton Parkway, Portsmouth; Capt. William M. Carpenter, 109 East 94th street, Virginia Beach; Capt. Robert O. Clifford, 50 Ollins Road, Portsmouth; Second Lt. Haywood F. Forbes, 161 Rodman Road, Norfolk.

Major Shuler is employed as a superintendent at the Kelly Tar and Chemical Corporation. During World War II the major served as an infantry company commander with the 86th Division in the Italian campaign. He was awarded the Combat Infantryman's Badge, the Silver Star and Bronze Star Medal and the Purple Heart. He holds a B. S. degree from Wolford College and was a member of Kappa Alpha social fraternity. He entered the Army in January, 1952, and was promoted to a reserve status in February, 1946. Married, the major has three children, aged 6 months, 4 years and 6 years. His parents reside at 126 E. Cleveland street in Spartanburg, S. C.

Captain Carpenter is the manager of Radio Station WLOW in Norfolk. A former Associated Press newspaper man, Captain Carpenter served in World War II as an engineer officer with the 303rd Engineer Combat Battalion with the 10th Infantry Division in the European Theater of Operations. Entering the Army in 1941, he reverted to inactive status in 1946.

Captain Clifford served the Army in 1942 and entered with the 476th Central Postal Directory Battalion in Europe.

BEAUTIFUL . . .

June is a beautiful month in Virginia. Our which own vast beaches and tourists through our highways. Yet our Governor's Highway Safety Committee points out that it is a pity so many of them seem our scenery because they insist upon driving too fast. Please slow down, enjoy yourself and live.

Second Lieutenant Forbes served in the Coast Guard from August, 1943, until November, 1946. He is employed by Sears Roebuck and Company in Norfolk. He has two children. Forbes has a Bachelor's degree from Wake Forest College in North Carolina and is a member of the Marine in Norfolk. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Haywood F. Forbes, Sr., live in Shawtown, N. C.

These officers are being briefed on Army developments by staff officers of the Virginia Military District headquarters. Major Shuler and Lieutenant Forbes are assigned to the S-4 section and Captain Clifford and Carpenter to the S-3 section while on training duty.

Air Reserve Offers 45 Days Summer Recruit Training

New recruits joining Norfolk's Marine Air Reserve Squadron 333 may participate in a total of 45 days active duty for training at the U. S. Naval Air Station, Norfolk, Va., this coming summer by electing to attend, in addition to annual maneuvers, a special 30-day recruit basic training program.

The new 30-day basic or "boot" training will be conducted by Marine Air Detachments at 28 Naval Air Stations throughout the country, beginning July 3. Upon satisfactory completion of the training, recruits will have qualified for promotion to private first class and will be ready for on-the-job training in an aviation specialty with the reserve squadrons during the 15-day annual training maneuver which immediately follows.

The 30-day training will cover arms and equipment, combat conditioning, marksmanship, combat principles, map reading, chemical warfare, military customs and disciplinary matters, close order drill, the mission and history of the U. S. Marine Corps, and other basic military subjects. The recruits will receive full pay, quarters and subsistence, uniforms, health and dental care. In addition they will be covered by $10,000 worth of government insurance. They are not required to engage in aerial flight so part of the training but may do so, on occasion, if they desire.

The primary objective of the new 30-day program is to strengthen the basic military training of the large influx of recruits who join reserve squadrons of the Marine Air Reserve at the end of each school year. Ordinarily, a recruit would have to attend one weekend training period, monthly, for a period of seven and one-half months to complete the equivalent course of instruction. The active duty program, in addition, offers a greater opportunity for efficient progress.

Price and Wage Controls Not Longer Needed

Extension of price-wage control authority only until December 31 and a vigorous policy of selective decontrol in the interim is suggested in the latest statement released by the Committee for Economic Development. Provisions for a 90-day freeze of prices and wages if a sudden inflationary crisis should arise later also was proposed.

The statement, issued by the Program Committee of C.E.D.'s Research and Policy Committee, said: "The need for price and wage controls is rapidly passing, if it has not already passed. We believe that price and wage controls are inappropriate instruments for the control of inflation except in times of great emergency. No emergency now exists which requires their use."

In the past 15 months there has been little evidence of general inflationary pressure. Many prices have fallen below their ceilings and many more would not rise if their ceilings were removed, the committee said in calling for selective decontrol during the rest of this year.

"Price and wage controls place too much power in the hands of government. They tend to distort production and limit the ability of the economy to respond to changing needs. They involve substantial waste and inefficiencies in production and distribution and, as now employed, are unfair to large sections of the economy," the committee said.

DAIRYMEN LEAVE VIRGINIA'S RANK IN DAIRY TESTING

How does Virginia rank among states in various phases of DAIRY testing work?

Glen K. Tuley, assistant dairy husbandman at VPI, says the 1951 reports from the Bureau of Dairy Industry, indicate that emphasis should be placed on production levels in Virginia.

The average production of DAIRY cows in Virginia during 1951 was 8,246 pounds of milk and 347 pounds of butterfat. The national average was 7,172 pounds of milk and 336 pounds of butterfat.

When compared with other southern states, Virginia stands in a more favorable light—first in milk and butterfat production, in number of cows on DAIRY test, in per cent of herds of 15 cows or more on DAIRY test, and in per cent of milk cow population on DAIRY test. Virginia ranks second among the southern states in number of lactation records reported.

As compared to all states, Virginia ranks 31st in milk production per cow, seventh in number of cows on test, third in per cent of herds of 15 cows or more on DAIRY test, 13th in per cent of milk cow population on test, and 15th in number of lactation records reported.

Plans Underway For State Short Course

Some 1,600 top-ranking 4-H Club members from throughout Virginia will gather at VPI June 23-28 for their 29th annual State 4-H Short Course.

Naming of winners of several state contests, many of them carrying awards trips to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, will highlight the session.

Classes, tours, and recreation are scheduled for the day programs. At the Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday evening sessions the group will hear addresses on citizenship by Rev. James E. Tull, pastor of the Blackburg Baptist Church.

The Virginia Chapter of All Stars, honorary 4-H organization, will be in charge of the Tuesday evening program. The annual All Star ceremony and initiation of new All Stars is scheduled for Friday evening.

During the week's programs the 4-Hers who will hear addresses by Dr. Paul D. Sanders, editor of The Southern Planter, Richmond; Dr. Walter S. Newman, president of VPI; Franklin Wilson, Augusta, 1951 International Youth Exchange director; F. H. Daffner, assistant director of the Extension Service; and G. H. Carr, district agent, Luray.

Presiding over the Short Course will be: Daniel Braggner, Franklin County, president; Dale H. Hays, Lee, first vice-president; Virgil McMillan, Henry County, second vice-president; Edgar Paul Robinson, Bedford, third vice-president; and Rosamie Rogers, Frederick, secretary.

Presiding over concurrent sessions of the Virginia 4-H Leaders' Association will be: Miss Elsie Turner, of Franklin, president; Mrs. Mary Steele, Fairfax, first vice-president; George W. Shields, Westmoreland, second vice-president; Mrs. Samuel D. Foster, York, third vice-president; and Mrs. Howard Pilsen, Patrick, secretary.

The All Stars, who will celebrate their 30th anniversary June 20-22, and who will remain through the Short Course, will be provided over by: Lynn Moore, Meadmont, big chief; Mrs. H. H. Hurt, Cumberland, lesser chief; George Puryear, Henrico, scribe; Paul Sanders, Nelson, scout; Irene Stoneman, Henrico, corresponding secretary; and W. A. Turner, VPI, medicine man.

Wyse Asks More Volunteers For Civil Defense in Virginia

"Civil Defense is expanding and we need volunteers more than ever before," J. H. Wyse, State Civil Defense Coordinator, has urged. In anticipation of an increase in the services to be actively organized in the civil defense program, Mr. Wyse announced an effort to secure volunteers to man the expanded service. It is being worked out with the various statewide civic organizations in cooperation with the Federal Civil Defense Administration.

The plan works like this. State heads of the interested organizations furnish the state offices of civil defense with a list of the heads of local clubs and chapters throughout the state.

The state in turn passes the plan to the Federal Civil Defense Administration. A list of suggestions and plans is mailed to the head of each local group from Washington. The list includes suggested registration forms which the local group may reproduce or they may register the number they require by writing to Wyse at the State Headquarters in the Capitol Building at Richmond.

Persons interested in volunteering fill out the forms and turn them over to the co-ordinator of Civil Defense in the county, town or city in which they live. Registrants do not have to specify what they want to do, but as the various services are organized they may be called on to give what they are able to contribute to a service of their own choosing.

Mr. Wyse urges residents of Princess Anne county who are members of organizations participating in this program to register when called upon and to see that the registration card is placed in the hands of Mr. Ivan D. Mason at Princess Anne, Va., who is the Co-ordinator of Civil Defense.

Up to the present, the state office has called principally for auxiliary firemen and postmen, the majority of whom are men. The program now is advancing into the fields of health and welfare services where the services of women are particularly desirable.

Some of the women's clubs in the state already have been supplied with the kits by the FODA and many members are displaying their desire to aid in the civil defense effort by turning in their names to the local civil defense organizations.

"It is estimated that more than 50 per cent of the total civil defense corps will be made up of women," Mr. Wyse said. "It is against the policy of civil defense not to let any group of women to take over any phase of civil defense, but by using this method to bring before our organizations the need for volunteers and to give their membership an opportunity to volunteer as individuals for civil defense work."

Both men and women are needed badly for the Ground Observer Corps which now is functioning with 225 posts throughout the state, most of them in the localities and small towns. The rural areas will be used in taking care of emergency and refugees in the event of an enemy attack and as the program of the health and welfare organizations progress, greater opportunities for participation in these fields will be open and require volunteers.

GARDEN GAB

The great garden of quality begins to show itself as the gardeners get well into the summer, but we find many more flowers coming into bloom now with their particular beauty — and there is still time to plant as many things.

June can be a delightful month for the gardener, as your Council of Garden Clubs gives you just a few of the jobs you might like to carry out in your garden.

Remove and remove bloom, and while nothing else is gone, so keep on planting them.

Plant gladioli every two weeks until July.

Plant your borders with white flowers, which will bloom until frost.

Plant gardenias, crepe myrtles, hydrangeas, and hydrangeas — their color is lovely in summer.

Don't overlook planting cushion mums, which bloom in late summer and early fall.

Shade dahlias and mums, remembering to keep tying them loosely until they are grown.

Spray roses every 10 days for best results.

Water anemones and camellias well every few days during hot weather, and keep a pinch each on them at all times.

Feed tuberous begonias and other summer bulbs with liquid manure every two or three weeks for more and better blooms.

Keep all faded flowers picked off. This adds to the beauty of your garden, and is better for your plant.

Remove old stems from climbing roses immediately after they bloom. This gives more strength to the new canes, from which come your best blooms.

Feed and water peonies well after blooming. This helps produce more and finer blooms another year. Do not cut off the tops until after frost has killed them.

Plant the single tuberous in the back of your border. This flower is particularly lovely and, if planted now, they will bloom in late August and September.

Plant calliopsis, carnations, lilies, and all iris that bloomed in April. A most important "must" in your garden is water, water, water.

Congratulations!

We tip our hats to Marie Richardson's Antique Shop on Laskin Road. If all property owners would improve their property to this extent, what a beautiful place this would be!

Tips Are Given For Cannibalism Control

Cannibalism, which sometimes breaks out in a turkey flock in the brooder house, can be controlled by certain management practices.

Lee W. Herrick, associate poultry husbandman at VPI, says the exact cause of cannibalism may be hard to find. Pools may start by just trying to clean their beaks, or because of crowding, inactivity, poor nutrition, or a desire for roughage.

To help prevent cannibalism, be sure there is plenty of space — floors, feeder, water, hover space — and a balanced turkey mash.

Cannibalism can be controlled by using hog rings or turkey bits, or by debarking with a pocket knife or an electric debarker. In debarking, cut the upper part of the back to the "quick," being careful not to cut back too far. Most beaks may be cut back about one-quarter inch. Turkeys debarked at 10 weeks of age probably will need to be debarked a second time if kept in confinement until they are 24 to 28 weeks of age.

Feeding fresh greens has reduced

Miss Janet Gregory Graduates at Vassar

Miss Janet Gregory, of Virginia Beach, was among the graduates who on Tuesday heard Howard Mansfield Jones, speaking at the Vassar Commencement exercises of Vassar College, which modern poets and their editors for "perpetually confusing the truth of poetry with the truth of philosophy and mistaking a work of imagination for a work of observation."

The Master of Ceremony of Vassar told the graduating class that although we are living in troubled times, he could not "see anything in literary criticism or in modern writing likely to help" him beyond or over his own experience.

The literary instruction in liberal education had its important place, Mr. Jones felt, and it could not claim for itself any "quality of pseudo-knowledge" about science, philosophy, history, or religion, without doing injustice to the sciences, the philosophy, the historians, and the believer who should be "fairly heard and weighed against the assertions of literature."

On Sunday, the Baccalaureate sermon was delivered by the Rev. Alfred B. Swartz, chaplain of Kenyon College and former chaplain and professor of religion at Henschung University in Central China.

GRADING APPLES IN ORCHARD REDUCES HANDLING NEEDS

Virginia's fruit growers, particularly those with smaller orchards, might profit by grading their apples in the field, says Fred Dreiling, associate horticulturist at VPI.

Grading machines capable of handling 50 to 60 bushels an hour — apples from the buckets of 6 to 8 pickers — are now on the market.

Since several handling operations are eliminated when apples are graded in the field, the amount of bruised fruit is greatly reduced, Dreiling says. In orchards where the grading machines are used, the pickers carefully lower the picking containers onto the moving belt of the grader, rather than into field crates. Orchard-graded apples go directly into the containers in which they move to market, or to cold storage.

Growers who store their fruit "or-chard run" (as it is picked from the trees) ordinarily pay storage and cartage charges on a large percentage of the crop that later goes to the processing outlets. By grading in the field the small and defective fruit can be eliminated and the growers pay storage charges on number one fruit only.

The grading machine is portable, and can be moved to the picking house for growers who want to pick out of storage, for market.

cannibalism in many flocks, and stopped it in some. If fresh greens are not easily available, good quality baled hay may be used.

A commercial "no-pick" valve, or plain roofing tar applied to the pick-end of brooder houses to range where there is plenty of fresh green grazing and space frequently stops the trouble.

If turkey roasters are to be grown in total confinement, Herrick advises either using bits or debarking them. If the job can be done on short notice and at any time, it will be satisfactory to do it immediately after cannibalism starts. If not, do it when the birds are 10 to 12 weeks old.

'Shirts Ahoj' Begins Run Here Wednesday

Curvaceous Esther Williams sings, dances and swims her way through this melodious Joe Pasternak production, all done up pretty and bright in color by Technicolor. She is ably assisted by Joan Evans and Vivian Blaine. And just to make sure that the customers go away satisfied, numbers featuring Billy Eckstine and the De Marco Sisters have been added. In short, this M-G-M musical has all of the ingredients which should spell robust box-office revenues.

"Shirts Ahoj" is a story of the girls in the WAVES. Although for different reasons, the Misses Williams, Evans and Blaine have left civilian life, all find themselves in agreement as WAVES recruits — life is pretty dull without a man in a young girl's life. The lightweight story, which is simply a vehicle for the music, dances and swimming ballets, deals with "the man problem" adequately.

The big entertainment value, however, lies in song and dance routines. Especially good are numbers such as Miss Williams leading a bucket brigade of WAVES and singing about the wetness of the service. She shines again in the many water ballets, the best of which is the "nursery game" sequence.

Sidney Lanfield directed, while Harry Warren did the songs and music and Ralph Blane the lyrics. George Stoll was the musical director. Nick Castle created the musical numbers and was responsible for their staging. The screenplay was written by Isobel Lennart. Others in the cast include: Barry Sullivan, Keefe Brasselle, Dean Miller, Margalo Gillmore, Jeff Donnell, Russell (Bubba) Tongay and Kathy Tongay.

Warns Politicians

DR. LOUIS H. BAUER of Hempstead, New York, new President of the American Medical Association, who this week urged both major political parties to write platforms which "disavow all threats to our Constitutional independence and liberty."

CHICAGO — Warning both the Republican and Democratic parties that the eyes of the world will be upon them during their July conventions in Chicago, the new President of the American Medical Association, Tuesday night, challenges them to nominate fearless men of integrity who will be guided by the highest concepts of national welfare and world freedom.

Dr. Louis H. Bauer of Hempstead, New York, in his inaugural address delivered here at the 101st Annual Session of the AMA, declared that "a candidate who emerges from a smoke-filled room will be the candidate of defeat."

The People Watch

The two major political parties and their leaders have the task of giving the American people a Government that serves rather than a Government that dominates, Dr. Bauer said. Then, addressing his remarks to the July convention delegates, he added: "You will not be alone in the convention hall. In these days of nationwide radio and television you will have millions of Americans watching you, testing your stamper, weighing your judgment, analyzing your motives."

The first women colonists came to Virginia in 1608.

NITROGEN STARVATION CAUSES CORN LOSS

Nitrogen starvation of corn costs Virginia farmers money every year. W. W. Lewis, agronomist at VPI, says this starvation, which shows up in yellow color or firing of corn, can be avoided by side-dressing with nitrogen.

If enough nitrogen is used between now and the last cultivation to keep off the starvation signs through August, it will boost Virginia's corn yields by at least 15 to 20 bushels per acre. On the estimated 1,000,000 acres of corn in Virginia, this increase would add over 15,000,000 bushels to the feed bins.

The cost of the additional nitrogen is more than offset by increased yields. Two pounds of nitrogen, costing less than 30 cents, usually will produce one bushel of corn worth $1.50 to $1.75. On a larger scale, 100 pounds of nitrogen fertilizer costing about $3 may be expected to produce 8 bushels of corn worth $12 to $14.

So long as the Korean peace talks aren't getting any place anyhow, why don't we move them to a town that people can both spell and pronounce?

Political box-scores differ in one important point from baseball box-scores. They don't show the errors.

Comdr. and Mrs. Rogers Whichard, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ashcraft and Mr. and Mrs. William R. Hennigway have issued invitations for a cocktail party on Sunday afternoon, June 15, at 218 7th Street, Virginia Beach, in honor of Miss Martha Pender Thompson, debutante.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dawson of Arlington spent the weekend with Mr. Dawson's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Taylor, in Lankhorne Park. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor have as guests this week their grandson, Tanner Rose, of Richmond, and Miss Terry Cox of Arlington.

Comdr. and Mrs. Roger Whichard of Norfolk are spending the month of June at a cottage on 64th street.

Church Ceremony Joins Midgett-Terrell

The marriage of Miss Peggy Joyce Terrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Edward Terrell, of London Bridge, to Duane Earl Midgett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earle W. Midgett, of Ocean, took place Friday evening, May 30, at 7 o'clock, in the London Bridge Baptist Church.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. Edward Hughes, pastor of the church, in a setting of white gladioli, ferns and lighted candles.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an applied white, gaudy gown over satin, with matching gloves, and but little veil was arranged from a halo bonnet. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses centered with white orchids.

Mrs. Leslie Lee Kemp was her sister's matron of honor and only attendant. She wore a strapless gown of applied pink nylon net topped with a matching bolero. She wore a halo of nixed flowers with pink nylon net and carried a Colonial bouquet of nixed flowers.

Verdon Spence was best man and the groomsmen were Lloyd White and John Edward Terrell, Jr.

The mother of the bride wore a teal blue dress with grey accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of navy blue with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

After the ceremony a reception was given at the home of the bride. Later the couple left for a northern winter trip. The bride wore a traveling navy blue and white checked suit with red accessories, white straw bonnet trimmed with red nylon net and velvet ribbon, and a corsage of white orchids.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Kemp, Jr., and Miss Rhoda Leslie, of Silver Spring, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. L. H. White and children, Larry and Branda, of Menden, and Mrs. James L. Hinman and daughter, Corolyn, of Princess Anne, Md.

Miss Temple Forsberg spent last weekend in Lexington and attended the finals at Virginia Military Institute.

Mrs. Robert Maule Boyd and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maule Boyd, Jr., have moved to their new home on 82nd street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Twohy IV and children, Merrick and Jane Clark Twohy, of Norfolk, are spending some time at the Adlington cottage on 71st street.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrell Cox and two children returned Sunday to their home in Arlington after visiting Mrs. Cox's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Spelling, at their home in Lankhorne Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Addington and Miss Mildred Murphy have returned to their home at Cedar Cove Farm, Princess Anne County, after attending the graduation exercises at the University of Virginia. They were joined there by Miss Helen Addington, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. William Fessenden in Baltimore, and who accompanied her parents to Norfolk.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clements, of Virginia Beach, announce the birth of a daughter, Rhonda Newman Clements, on Saturday, June 7, at Norfolk General Hospital. Mrs. Clements is the former Miss Andrew Newman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Newman, Sr., of Eclipse.

TWIN QUEENS

CHICAGO—Gem (left) and Pat Dumas, Chicago, were the LP-Gas Twins—Miss Britane and Miss Pagan—at the annual convention of the Liquefied Petroleum Gas Association here. W. E. Lander, Charlotte, N. C., LP-Gas president, crowned the identical 21-year-old queens. They ruled over 1,500 representatives of the fast-growing LP-Gas industry who flocked to Chicago from all parts of the country. LP-Gas, also known as butane, propane, bottled and tank gas, supplies modern gas service to homes, small towns and industries.

Patricia King Fetes Sorority Members At House Party Here

The guests are Miss Edna Knight, of Montgomery, Ala.; Nancy Jordan, of Long Island, N. Y.; Connie Shanks, of Raleigh, N. C.; Mary Grace Flower, of Cherryville, N. C.; Dian McCombs, of Portsmouth, Green Cove, of Raleigh, N. C.; Helen Beard, of Hillsboro, N. C.; Ruth Ledford, of Durham, N. C.; Frances McCall, of Newburgh, N. Y.; and Rosa Mac Savage, of Cape Charles.

Brown-Leonard Invitations Out

Mr. and Mrs. George Scott Brown have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Vera Christine Brown, to Stanley Horle Leonard, Jr., on Saturday afternoon, June 21, at 4:30 o'clock in Nassau Methodist Church, Princess Anne County, and for the reception which will follow at the home of the bride.

Mrs. O. C. Lewis will entertain at a bridge party at her home on Prospect Parkway Cradock, in honor of Miss Brown. The guests will number twelve.

Mrs. Hal Pope Costello, of Washington, is spending the month of June visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Comdr. and Mrs. Rogers D. Whichard, at their cottage at 64th Street.

Dr. and Mrs. Preston M. White, their sons and daughters, Preston M. White Jr., and Misses Nancy and Sarah White are spending the months of June and July at their cottage on 76th Street, Virginia Beach. Mrs. White and Miss Nancy White returned Wednesday from a cruise to Bermuda.

Janet Gregory and P. E. Weary To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Terry Gregory, of Virginia Beach, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Janet Edith Gregory, to Peyton Edwin Weary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Albert Weary, of Cincinnati and Virginia Beach. Miss Gregory will be graduated this week from Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., with a Bachelor of Arts degree.

Mr. Weary is a graduate of Phillips Exeter School, Exeter, N. H., and took his pre-medical training at Princeton University, where he was a member of the Cannon Club. He is now attending the Medical College of the University of Virginia.

The wedding will take place in the last summer.

Mr. and Mrs. William Selden Grady have issued invitations for a cocktail party on Saturday afternoon, June 14, from 5 to 7 o'clock, at their home at 814 Colony, Virginia Beach, in honor of Miss Ann Reid May, debutante of the season.

Mrs. George B. Smith entertained Friday at her home "Laurelwood" at Lynnhaven at a hamburger roast in honor of her daughter, Ann Smith. The guests numbered 30.

Mrs. David Pender, Jr., and her daughter, Miss Martha Pender, spent last weekend in Bryn Mawr, Pa., where they attended the graduation of Mrs. Pender's daughter, Miss Mary Merriman Pender, from the Shipley School on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgilus Nussbaum of Norfolk have arrived to spend the summer at their cottage on 47th street.

Miss Page Hinch, a student at Mount Vernon Junior College, Washington, has arrived to spend the summer vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Riven Hinch, on 63rd street.

Miss Bessie Harvey Reed, of Virginia Beach, has returned to her home at 814 Colony, after being in Richmond last week and attending the wedding of Mrs. Mather's cousin, Leon Clay Camp, and Miss Hilda June Page.

Miss Noel Duncan attended the finals at Virginia Military Institute in Lexington last weekend.

Mrs. Stuart James spent last week in New York with her daughter, Miss Anne James. Miss James left Saturday by plane to spend several months in Europe.

Mrs. Edith Anderson and her daughter, Miss Page Anderson, of Savannah, Ga., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ashcroft at their home on 77th street.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Cannon of Washington arrived last Sunday to spend a week with Mrs. Emmet Caldwell at her home on 60th street.

Mrs. Albert Pfeiffer, of East Orange, N. J., returned Friday after spending ten days with Mrs. Emmet Caldwell at her home on 60th street.

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Stanton, daughter, Miss Patsy Stanton, and son, Buck Stanton, left last Sunday for a six-week motor trip to the west coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mather have returned to their home at 814 Colony, after being in Richmond last week and attending the wedding of Mrs. Mather's cousin, Leon Clay Camp, and Miss Hilda June Page.

UNIQUE OPTICAL SERVICE OFFERED TO RESIDENTS OF VIRGINIA BEACH AND PRINCESS ANNE COUNTY

The Salsky Optical Co., a name known to residents of Princess Anne County for over 40 years and located NOW at 2101 Atlantic Avenue, across from Cherry-Pearson's Men's Shop — has been offering to the people of this community an optical service that is generally associated only with a metropolitan area.

This service is quick, accurate, and reliable. For those who have the misfortune to need optical repairs and cannot be without their eyeglasses. The Salsky Optical Co. can make these repairs, while you wait and thereby NOT have to be without your good vision for all your workday seeing.

Eyeglass frames, minor adjustments and repairs are made while you wait. Replacement of lens, or lenses, and new eyeglasses, all in a "one day service." This eliminates that unnecessary trip to Norfolk which entails its many problems, such as transportation to the city, the problem of parking, and that feeling of not feeling like "home-folks" in a strange place.

The Salsky Optical Co. has had this branch of their business on the beach for a number of years and is personally conducted by Dr. Stanley Salsky — who resides at Virginia Beach the year round. The other branches of the Salsky Optical Co. are located in Norfolk, Portsmouth, and Newport News, Va.

So for the best in eye care and service when you need it call the

Wage Board Approved Pay Scale For 517

Approved of wage increases within the provisions of existing regulations was voted by 517 Virginia employees who voted by the 5th Regional Wage Stabilization Board.

In two Richmond cases the Board considered an average hourly increase of slightly more than 9 cents for 30 members of the International Association of Machinists employed by the Carver-Walsh Co., and approved a 1 cent hourly increase for 17 (AFL) meat cutters of the Richmond Abattoir, Inc. Both cases were presented at the 5th of the Board.

Previously had agreed with the union to pay a 6 cents per hour raise, of which 5 cents was payable under the self-administering provisions of Regulation No. 8 covering cost of living increases as measured by the Consumers Price Index of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Southern Dairies, Inc., also of Richmond, was permitted to increase by 54 weekly the base rate of six thousand state contribution salaries.

Three hundred sixty-eight employees of the American Cyanamid Co., Celco Chemical Division, of Piquette River, Nelson County, will receive a raise in pay as a result of a petition filed by the company and District 56, United Mine Workers. All but 14 are

Institute Speakers Are Named At VPI

Dr. Robert F. Chandler, president of the University of New Hampshire, has been named one of the evening speakers for the 19th annual Institute of Rural Affairs at VPI, July 30-August 1.

His address, which will be based on the general theme of the Institute, "The Land-Grant College Serves the People," is scheduled for Thursday evening, July 31.

L. B. Dietrick, director of the Agricultural Extension Service at VPI, said the Institute, as in years past, will feature different sections on "Economics," "Rural Youth," and "Family Life." Speakers for the various sections have not yet been named.

The first evening, Wednesday, July 30, the farmers, professional workers, and others attending the Institute, will hear a humorous address by Rev. Lawrence Hall, rector of the Episcopal Church, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Pro-institute sessions of the Virginia Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs, and the Virginia Agricultural Conference Board have been scheduled for July 30. Mrs. Will Dickerson, Spotsylvania County, president of the Federation, and Dr. Paul D. Sanders, editor of the Southern Planter, Richmond, and chairman of the board, will preside at the respective sessions.

Another feature of the Institute will be the presentation Friday night, August 1, of "certificates of merit," to two individuals judged to have contributed most to Virginia agriculture during the past year. Nominations are now in the hands of the VPI committee in charge.

Director Dietrick said some 1,500 farmers and others are expected to attend.

ANARCHY AT ITS WORST

From the Banquet Journal, Banquet, Virginia:

"When the outbreak of students happened in foreign countries the cry goes up that communism is responsible, and perhaps it is, but when such things take place in America it is, of course, credited with a semblance of unity among the youth. But what happened at Yale University, the supposed school of the 'elite', a few days ago, to our way of seeing it, is neither communist, nor is it anarchy. In simple English it is nothing more nor less than anarchy of its basest sort, notwithstanding the claim that Yale is the alumnus of millions of America's honored citizens and their offspring."

Three W's Are Observed By 4-H Club Gardeners

By FAYTHEN SAUNDERS

Memphis Star 4-H Club

Contrary to popular belief, people are not born with that proverbial "green thumb." "Oh, no," you say, "well I know a guy..." Yes, there are people who seem to be able to stick anything in the ground and make it grow while we knock our selves out at the job with no luck. Well, chances are, that fellow "with the green thumb" has learned the three W's of gardening and is putting them to practice. Here is the key to your green thumb and gardening success, the three W's, watering, weeding, and watching.

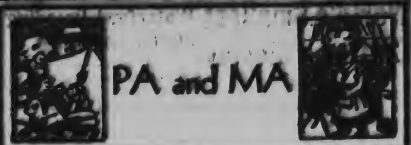

There are more reasons for keeping your garden free from weeds than meets the eye. Weeds not only ruin the appearance of a garden, they also draw heavily on the moisture supply and plant food of the soil. Every weed in your garden represents a certain amount of nourishment which should have gone to your crops. The most effective way of getting rid of these "garden killers" is by frequent shallow cultivation either by plow or by hoe. This also keeps the surface soil loose and mellow.

Although Virginia Beach gardeners do not have to depend entirely upon irrigation for the production of crops, a certain amount of watering is necessary.

Whenever irrigation methods are practiced, the water should not be applied until needed, and then the soil should be soaked, merely wetting the top of the ground does little good. After irrigation, the land should be cultivated as soon as the soil is dry enough, a soft, loose covering of soil tends to preserve the moisture in the ground. Watering is usually more satisfactory when done in the early morning or late afternoon.

Finally we come to the hardest and most important job of all, watching your garden. Keep an eye on its progress, and its needs at all times. Work out a good succession crop plan and keep your garden full of growing vegetables throughout the entire season. As soon as one crop is removed, another should take its place. For best results don't attempt to follow a crop with another of its kind, but with some unrelated crop. For example, early peas or beans can be followed by late cabbage, celery, carrots, or beets; early corn or potatoes by turnips or spinach, etc. It isn't necessary to always wait until the early crop is entirely removed, a later crop may be planted between the rows of the early crop. Look out for insects and diseases.

There are two main classes of in-

I've just come back from Lintner's store. I had to go down there to buy seeds to be dealt with. The chewing or biting insects may, for the most part, be controlled by the use of chemical poisons, such as lead arsenate or paris green; by hand collection; or other special methods. The sucking insects, especially the plant lice, must be controlled by contact poisons, such as nicotine or pyrethrum. Among the most important disease-control measures are crop rotation, soil treatment, the use of disease-free seed and plants, seed treatment with fungicides, spraying and dusting with fungicides, and the eradication of wild host plants on which certain diseases live during the winter months.

Your June planting may include pole beans, bush beans, beets, carrots, celery, sweet corn, leaf lettuce, radishes, rutabagas, turnip salad, and tomato plants. Tomato plants should be set out in the late afternoon well watered, and sheltered from the intense midday sun and early afternoon sun by baskets for several days afterwards.

A few things I'm going to need on the farm. Now I'm feeling pretty low. I shouldn't let things get me, but I can't help thinking about how it was down at the store when it was run by Jim Lintner's father. Back in those days I used to go to the store with my Pa, and when election time was coming up, the men in the neighborhood sat around the potbelled stove and the cracker barrel and argued loud and long about who was the best candidate or candidates.

Now the old cracker barrel that furnished inspiration for many a cross-roads politician has been split up for kindling, and all the refreshments you get at the store is the bottled drink you pay for yourself. And you stand up to drink it. There's not a chair in the place, and the stove is gone. Now the fellows chat a little while, get tired, and go home. They don't stay long enough for anybody's benefit to be selected. Of course, with the army of candidates in the field this year for every office from county dog catcher to President of the United States, I guess we couldn't expect a very firm decision on anybody, not yet. Maybe that's what the people who sponsor some of the candidates have in mind. I guess they've got a grudge against the public. I don't believe that even Dad's old crowd could figure out the best candidates in the rings now.

As for the President's job, it doesn't matter how much talk there is about the job being a killing one, there are always plenty of people who are ready to die for their country—in the White House, of course. That's about the most popular "killing" job I've ever heard of. I'd think that some of these candidates who are beating their brains out trying to get people to say, "We want him," would remember that the men who get the presidential nominations are often ones who didn't make such a big play for it. It'll probably wind up with each party convention deciding on the man who's made the fewest people mad around the country. If a big shot can meet that test, he may get the nomination. But most of the big boys can't pass that test.

I guess I had better start bringing this chatter to a close and do some of the chores Ma's always after me to do. Right now she's making life miserable for me because I haven't helped her weed the flower beds. She's out in the yard now, and she just called me in a tone that's made up my mind. So long, folks, I'll see you in the flower beds—I mean, I'll see you later.—PA.

HINTS FOR HOMEMAKERS

Start your child off in the right direction with correct first shoes. Miss Jane Craig, home agent, recommends that both uppers and soles be of pliable leather. The undersurface of the soles should be roughened to lessen chances of the child slipping as he takes his first steps.

Since proper fit is of utmost importance, it is wise to patronize a reliable store with a reputation for careful and correct fittings. You can check the shoes yourself to see if the salesman has allowed at least one-half to three-quarters of an inch of space between the end of the longest toe and the tip of the shoe. Run your hand inside the shoes, as well, to make sure the linings are smooth, with no rough seams to cause discomfort.

Once the walking has begun, teach your child to walk correctly. Train him to point his toes straight ahead; else there may be trouble later with toeing-out or pigeon toes.

With summer and vacation time here, it's time to give leather luggage an inspection. Treat it with a dose of saddle soap to remove all the dirt. Follow with a rub-down of car wax. Or, to both clean and shine with a single application, rub a solution of equal parts of cider vinegar and linseed oil into the leather. Polish with a soft cloth. Canvas luggage responds to the soap and water treatment. If it is slightly discolored, add two tablespoons of ammonia to a quart of soap water to clean up the canvas.

Your child will have fun with a toy made from the common household matchbox. Tie several empty boxes together with string or cord. Make the engine by taking the drawer out of a matchbox, and standing the cover up in the drawer. Now, tie a long string to the box. Each box, car is held in place by shutting the drawer on the string.

Vacation: Doing something for two weeks that would bore you stiff if you had to do it the year around.

Money collected by extortion is taxable, U. S. Supreme Court rules. Maybe wives ought to keep this in mind.

Now is the time we start getting suspicious of any garden tool (a) that doesn't work automatically and (b) you can't ride.

DON'T LET YOUR WIFE DISCOVER THIS TOO LATE!

Women by the thousands are discovering in the beautiful Chrysler Saratoga the easiest "big car" of all to handle... the most generously comfortable to ride in... and the most instantly responsive to their command.

That's why we say to you... and your wife... "Come in and see for yourselves what the Saratoga does for you." And do it now, before you decide on any car... not later, when you may regret not having all the things you can have in a Saratoga!

Yes, it is a big car with big car power... a breath-taking 180 H.P. performer (the most revolutionary V-8 engine in 35 years) that answers to the touch of your toe with delightful gusto. And it doesn't call for premium fuel, either!

Does your wife think there's too much car here to handle?... let her try the Power Steering that does 4/5 of all the steering work and gives you 1/5 greater control on the road and when parking!

Is she safety-minded? Chrysler Power Brakes give her quicker, safer stops... with up to two-thirds less foot pressure. She'll appreciate Chrysler's Safety-Cushion dash panel. And in case of a blow-out, she'll have the assurance of Safety-Rim wheels that won't "throw" a tire.

How about comfort? Come, both of you, for a ride!... feel how those amazing Oriflow shock absorbers "liquidate" even the worst road bumps. Chalk-high seats plus big, big windows let even the tallest little lady see out properly. Doors open wide... and she can keep her hat on!

Here, in short, is the car beautifully designed for men and women. The liveliest, best handling car in America. The car you'll both be glad you saw first. Why not stop in today?

NOTE: Power Steering standard on Crown Imperial. Available, too, on any new Chrysler.

Spud Prices Fluctuate as Controls End

OPB Director Ellis Arnall last week announced that the regulations governing the sale of white flesh potatoes would be revoked as a result of the vote in the U. S. Senate to discontinue controls over fresh fruits and vegetables.

The Price Agency says the Senate has rendered effective enforcement of the present potato regulation virtually impossible and that honest operators would be penalized by violations which might follow the Senate action. OPB further estimates that distribution of the potato crop would be complicated through inducement to shippers to withhold supplies in the expectation that controls on potatoes would be terminated by Congressional action on July 1.

Price officials say the Office of Price Stabilization has maintained potato controls in the interest of the consuming public and in accordance with the law during the past several months. During this time, potato supplies have been extremely short. OPB says it hopes that the present stringent shortage of supplies may be relieved to some extent in the reasonably near future.

Discontinuation of OPB Regulations Not to Prevent Prosecution of Violators

Any suspension of OPB regulations will not affect appropriate enforcement action with regard to violations of those regulations occurring before the suspension, announce the Office of Price Stabilization. The announcement was made by Ellis Arnall, OPB Director, in connection with his recent orders suspending controls on various commodities in selling well below ceilings.

Mr. Arnall pointed out that while it is a main purpose of the OPB to stabilize prices, it is also important that proper prosecution be continued on all cases of violations developed before removal of any controls.

Mr. Arnall declared, "Obviously, it is essential to the orderly administration of the price stabilization program that businessmen comply with all applicable regulations as long as they are in effect. . . . It would, moreover, be unfair to those businessmen who have complied and continue to comply, to overlook violations by their less conscientious competitors while applicable regulations were in effect. For these reasons, appropriate enforcement activity will be continued with respect to all violations of OPB regulations, including those which have been or may be subsequently suspended."

The Office of Price Stabilization reports that the nation-wide total of enforcement activities in the thirteenth week reported on included 81 injunctive and treble damage actions filed for OPB by the Department of Justice in U. S. District Courts. Of this number, 28 were treble damage actions.

Society Is Observing 75th Year

The Family Service Society of Richmond is celebrating its 75th Anniversary this year. First known as the City Mission in 1877, it worked with churches in dispensing material relief to the poor of the city in the days of deprivation following the War Between the States.

A member agency of the Richmond Area Community Chest, the Family Service Society extends its services to the City of Richmond, Henrico County, and to the part of Chesterfield County included in the Richmond Area.

seeking damages of almost one million dollars. Only one criminal action was filed during the week.

Single damages of slightly over $50,000, representing actual overcharges, were paid to the U. S. Treasury in 84 cases in which the violations were found to be negligent and not due to negligence. Seven cases were settled for more than actual overcharges, for a total of almost $9,000, while a total of $4,847.83 was returned to the customer or consumer in 358 cases.

Questions and Answers on OPB

Q. If a builder is hired to build a house on land belonging to another person, is the builder required to comply with the provisions of Ceiling Price Regulation 93?

A. The builder hired to build a structure on land belonging to another is performing a "construction service"; hence, he is required to comply with the provisions of CPR 93.

Q. If a completed new house that has never been lived in is sold by the builder, who owns both house and land, is he subject to ceiling price regulations?

A. The builder who owned the land and did the construction work is exempt from OPB control when he sells the property.

Q. Is the sale of construction services by an individual man or woman who neither employs nor uses one or more employees, nor employs nor uses the construction services of one or more subcontractors, subject to ceiling price regulation?

Women Prove It's Not Entirely A Man's World

The Chamber of Commerce is not a man's world!

Two Virginia ladies proved that point when they walked off with a pair of scholarships to the Southeastern Institute for Chamber of Commerce Executives set for the University of North Carolina June 15 through 21.

Mrs. Elizabeth McDermott, office manager of the Lynchburg Chamber of Commerce, won the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce scholarship, and Miss Margie Woodward, office secretary of the Front Royal Chamber of Commerce, was named the recipient of the Virginia Association of Chamber of Commerce Executives scholarship.

And the judges were all men. Al Rachal, secretary, Roanoke Chamber; Dr. Curtis Bishop, president, Averett College; and R. H. Bogie, of Alexandria, president of the Virginia State Chamber, awarded the ladies for the difficult task.

The week long institute will cover the many phases of Chamber of Commerce work, and is designed to give the student a better background for service work.

Rock Rose Travels 140 Miles From Home

Fish, like humans, sometimes get the wanderlust and travel far from their native waters. Dean Roseberry, assistant chief of the commission's fish division, reports.

Roseberry backs up his statement by citing the case of a Back Bay bass which traveled 140 miles from where it was tagged. The bass was tagged by commission biologists March 27, 1951, in Kettle Slough at Back Bay. It was 12 inches long at the time of tagging. It was recaptured on May 21, 1952, in the Meherrin River in North Carolina, an approximate distance of 140 miles.

The course taken by the wandering bass had to be from Kettle Slough through Currituck Sound, through Albemarle Sound, up the Chowan River into Meherrin River where it was caught. At the time of capture the bass was 12 3/4 inches long and weighed 1 3/4 pounds.

Road Force Has Training School

From the Virginia Welfare Bulletin, published in Richmond:

Guards in Virginia's Road Force Camps who are responsible for the supervision of food preparation are being trained at the first permanent road camp in the state in the proper methods of food handling.

The school, organized by the Road Force office, is designed to instruct the "yard guards" in all phases of food preparation and handling. One guard from each of the thirty camps is being instructed in a two-week intensive course, the first of which began May 5th at Road Camp 27, in Dinwiddie County. At two-week intervals, a new group of guards report to the schools, in groups of ten each, for the training course.

The curriculum for the school was prepared by the supervisor of dietetics for the Department of Welfare and Institutions, and includes fifteen lessons. The guards spend several hours each day, including Sundays, in study, and the rest of the day is spent in actual work in the kitchens of the camp. General principles of sanitation, proper food storage, correct methods of dishwashing, principles of nutrition, menu planning, record keeping and proper methods of cooking are among the subjects covered. Specific instruction in baking, preparing vegetables, meats, soup, beverages and packed meals for workers on the roads are included in the course.

In presenting the course, the department has the co-operative services of the Health Department and of private meat packers and food distributors in instruction. The school also covers training in health and sanitation, and on storage and preparation of foods, and demonstrations of the proper methods of cutting meat and preparing food are included in the program.

This school, the first organized by the Division of Corrections for the training of guards, is designed to provide more efficient guard service among the State's institutions.

Camp No. 27, at Church Road in Dinwiddie County, is the first of the permanent road camps built in Virginia which are designed to replace the temporary camps now in use. Two other camps, in Augusta County and in Pittsylvania County, are now under construction, and plans are drawn for the construction of a fourth permanent camp in Fairfax County.

The Dinwiddie Camp is equipped with modern kitchen facilities, with up-to-date ranges and modern dishwashing equipment. On the farm land surrounding the camp, the inmates raise much of their own vegetables and meat. Other food supplies are provided from the farming institutions of the Division of Corrections.

In planning the school, correc-

The Norfolk & Western Railroad was one of 15 eastern railroads which has announced greatly reduced round-trip coach fares for small groups and families. The new "group economy fares" will bring railroad travel costs to new lower levels for groups of three or more adults and for families traveling together, the announcement said.

The new fares, designed to attract motorists that would otherwise travel by automobile on the crowded highways, will become effective on June 25, subject to the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission and the various state public utility commissions. They will be in effect as an experimental basis for the summer vacation season, terminating October 23, 1952.

The group economy fares offer a flat 25 per cent saving in fare for three or more adults, or the equivalent, traveling together. Under this plan the 25 per cent saving will be available to three or more adults, or for two adults with two children of the usual half fare age, or larger groups traveling together.

These bargain fares will apply to round-trip coach tickets between points that are more than 100 miles apart, with certain exceptions. The family fare plan offers savings for parents traveling with children under 16 years of age.

Lily Show At Front Royal June 19 and 20

The tenth annual Lily Show, to be held in Front Royal, Va., June 19 and 20, will feature two sections—lilies and arrangements. The winner in all classes will receive prizes.

In the first section, the exhibitor will vie for the Eleanor Traux Harris Challenge Cup, the Violet Harris Memorial Cup, the Garden Club of Virginia Cup, Mrs. Maudie Matheson Sr. Cup, and the President of the American Horticultural Society will be given for the best stalk of lilies in the show.

The Eleanor Traux Harris Cup was established in 1937 as a perpetual memorial to Mrs. Floyd Harris and stand as an expression of the great love and affection of the Garden Club of Virginia for the personality of Mrs. Harris and as a tribute to her influence and leadership in horticultural enterprises.

One of three cups of old Georgian design is awarded annually for the best horticultural achievement made by a member of the Garden Club of Virginia at each of the three annual shows—the Narcissus Show, the Rose Show and the Lily Show. The winner holds the cup for a year.

Officials hope that it will be the first step in the formal training of guards at correctional institutions in the State. More efficient food preparation and conservation is expected to grow out of the training of the supervisors, and better job training of the inmates assigned to the kitchens will result.

The three training groups were begun on May 5th, May 19th, and June 2nd.

Reservists From Area On Cruise

A number of Norfolk and Portsmouth naval reservists helped make Naval Reserve history when they embarked Sunday at the St. Helena Annex, Naval Shipyard, on the USS Hemming for a month's cruise to Europe.

The Hemming, a ship attached to the Fifth Naval District, is one of six destroyer escorts specifically designated by the Commander of the Eastern Sea Frontier for the training of naval reservists. The six vessels will form a naval task element taking upwards of 1,000 reservists and regular crew members on a training cruise to ports in Portugal and France.

The Hemming, commanded by Lieutenant Commander Leonard E. Field, USN, of 216-66th street, Virginia Beach, has as executive officer a Norfolk reservist, Lieutenant Henry E. Fowler, 1714 Springfield Avenue. Among the Norfolk reservists who will make the cruise are three high school students as well as the acting principal of Granby High School, Lieutenant Commander S. R. Butler, USNR.

Lt. Cmdr. Butler, whose home is at 6130 Sylvan Avenue, also is training officer of Organized Surface Battalion 5-4. During the last war he served at the Naval Air Training Center, Memphis, was executive officer of the Air-Sea Rescue Boat facility at Fort Pierce, Fla., and later taught Air-Sea Rescue techniques at Mayport, Fla. Later, he served in the Pacific as navigator on the USS Webster.

Enroute to Europe and on the return cruise, the reservists will engage in underway exercises such as boat drills, general quarters, gunnery practice and various navigational problems.

Other ships making the cruise will be the USS Tilt, USS Olsen, USS Kyne, and the USS Snyder.

Lt. Robt. Cavey Serving With Transport 21

Lt. Robert E. Cavey, USN, husband of Mrs. Mary Jane Cavey of 7206 Atlantic Ave., Virginia Beach, Va., and son of Mrs. Justin V. Cavey of Route 1, Pawawake, Wn., is serving on the staff of Commander Transport Division 21, aboard the amphibious force flagship USS Chilton, which is taking an active part in the Navy's Training Exercises in Caribbean waters.

More than 30 ships of the Atlantic Fleet are participating in the Naval maneuvers and simulated warfare. The members of the Second Marine Division who were embarked in amphibious ships have already stormed ashore on the island of Vieques, near Puerto Rico, in a practice assault landing, as a dress rehearsal for the amphibious assault on Okinawa Beach, N. C., to be made sometime in June as the climax of the exercises.

Peach Trees Loosening Out

The number of peach trees in Virginia is decreasing faster than the number of apple trees, according to preliminary reports in the Virginia Department of Agriculture's apple and peach tree survey.

In the case of both fruits, the Department said, orchardists are pulling out more trees than they are replanting, continuing a trend in recent years.

Department spokesmen emphasized that only 10 per cent of the questionnaires mailed to apple and peach orchardists had been returned and urged growers to mail their's back.

Not enough returns have come in yet to give any information on varieties of either peaches or apples, according to the Department.

In the survey, forms were mailed to growers representing about 3,000 commercial apple and peach orchards asking how many trees and what varieties they had abandoned, pulled out, or planted since the last survey in 1949.

When all forms are in, the Department hopes to have up to date information on trends in varieties of apples and peaches so that it can

MORE THAN MEETS THE EYE - IN THE NEW ELECTRIC REFRIGERATORS

MORE COLD FOR LESS CURRENT!

Electrical refrigeration has always been economical—but today's modern electric refrigerators are so perfectly engineered and insulated that most models use only about half as much electricity as older models!

MORE STORAGE—LESS FLOOR SPACE!

New electric refrigerators give you much more storage capacity—in the same or less floor space used by your old refrigerator! Some 8 cu. ft. models take only as much space as former 6 cu. ft. models. And—modern electric refrigerators cost less per cubic foot than pre-war models!

MORE FEATURES—MORE FLEXIBILITY!

Practically all new models give you generous storage space for frozen foods, plus greater ice cube capacity and quicker freezing! Many models are self-defrosting, or need no defrosting! Special moist-cold and dry-cold areas keep different types of food under the best conditions. Shelf space is roomier and more efficient than ever!

VIRGINIA ELECTRIC AND POWER COMPANY

MARIE RICHARDSON'S spacious new quarters for her ANTIQUES DECORATING SHOP on Laskin Road is a clever example of what an imaginative, determined and clever woman could do in the old Virginia Beach building. Be sure to make an early visit to this unusually attractive shop where you'll find gifts of all types, Venetian blinds, modern and traditional furniture, lamps and interior decorating ideas with services in carpeting and wall papering. It's quite a place.

MRS. RICHARDSON'S phenomenal success in five years as an employer for the successful business women's bracket at the Beach. A hobby, a decorating training course at William and Mary Extension School, a small lamp shop and now—Laskin Road's new and established. Summer visitors, beat a path to MARIE RICHARDSON'S door, in appreciation of having found a big-time shop, seaside you might say!

HARRELL'S PHARMACY has two locations which give "service for the sick" at the Beach. Visitors are most welcome. One is the HARRELL MAYFLOWER PHARMACY, the new Mayflower pharmacy (there is also a large, air-conditioned HARRELL COFFEE SHOP adjoining) and the other is located in the Jefferson Hotel, corner Atlantic and 18th Street. WILLEY C. HARRELL, owner, is particularly proud of his pharmaceutical services with the original and old-fashioned ideas of a drug store in a drug store. He maintains registered pharmacists at all times to give aid to the sick folks—and even vacationers like to know where top prescription service is given. Of course, if you're in need of sun oils, lotions, cosmetics, beach towels, T-shirts, and even hats, you'll find them. And, luncheon or sandwich, they're at HARRELL'S. . . You'll find all the things you expect to find in an A-1 modern drugstore. . . at both HARRELL STORES.

THE VIRGINIA BEACH FISHING PIER, open day and night, 24 hours for fishing on the 912 foot pier. Benches all along the pier seaward. Local and visiting "Isaac Waltons" have been pulling in trout, spots, flounders, roundheads, croakers and so on. . . with one fisherman hauling in 400 fish in one day's sitting! You may rent rods and reels, also purchase bait at the entrance to the VIRGINIA BEACH FISHING PIER. Snack bar close by. E. Lachman, manager.

TOBIN'S has long been a name at the Beach that means nationally advertised brands. . . complete lines of fashions in women's apparel, children's and infant's tops. MARY TOBIN takes personal interest in selling to mothers and their tots together. It's fun to buy the TOBIN way. A specialty at TOBIN'S is a smart and complete Junior Line in those hard-to-find sizes 7-15, including Gay Gibson designs. . . in air-conditioned comfort, they will help you select baby gifts, shower gifts and birthday remembrances, gift wrap them, too. If you have a Girl Scout in the family, MARY TOBIN stocks the official Camp Uniforms for $3.75. Girl Scout shorts, T-shirts, and even hats along with the Brownie shorts and T-shirts. TOBIN'S is the official GIRL SCOUT UNIFORM AND ACCESSORIES HEADQUARTERS at the Beach. . . 2106 Atlantic Avenue, phone 180, Virginia Beach.

Hats designed especially for you is LOUISE MILBY'S special talent. Hats designed for your own individual hair-styles, hats made to match your suit (using your own material), last year's hats still good made over and hats just freshened up. . . in the MILBY HAT SHOP is on the 5th floor of the New Monroe Building, 254 Granby Street, Norfolk. Now is the time to contact this shop for your Fall bonnet! Smart little 1952 Full-figured peruke and caroligan velvet hats, with velvet bags to match. . . features. Beautiful hats and halos for wedding attendants, youthful looking hats for the mother-of-the-bride and, of course, lovely made-to-order bridal veils. Prices at this shop are surprisingly reasonable! Drop in and meet LOUISE MILBY. Her phone number is 55631. . . after noon time and her phone number is 55631.

COLONIAL READY-TO-WEAR, 308 17th Street, DOT MILLAR'S shop for women, featuring women's sizes as well as those for the junior sizes and misses. Attractive summer cottons and sheers, beach tops, blouses and skirts, dressy summer sheers, throw-on light-weight sweaters in summer colors and bathing suits and shorts. Sportswear at the COLONIAL READY-TO-WEAR has always been a fashion specialty. Summer visitors who have "left behind" lingerie articles or those who find perfect substitutes here as well as unusually good buys in take-home gifts. This is a pleasant shop with comfy dressing rooms, with cordial personnel just opposite the Virginia Beach station. . . nice and handy for last-minute shopping. Store hours, 9:00 A.M. to 7:00 P.M.

As clever as the name—RAGGED ROBIN BOOKSHOP—you'll find this bookshop just as cleverly stocked with the best and newest in books, the most unusual gifts, plus an up-to-the-minute variety of stationery. . . in her customers and invites Summer Visitors to browse about the gifts and books, to make use of her rental library. It's located at 316 31st Street. Good books are wonderful Summer gifts and knowing the location of a tip-top rental library is a boon to "the stranger in town." Whether it's a new mystery, historical, biography, sign-of-the-times or "how to" book you're after, you can bet the RAGGED ROBIN has it! RAGGED ROBIN, or shop 1234, and see for yourself what fun you'll have in MARCIA'S book and gift nook!

Visitors may come and go but HARRY'S corned beef and salad sandwiches go on forever! His succulent pastrami has been nationally famous for years—remembered by folks who make a business of seeking out good eating. HARRY ROSENBAUM'S DELICATESSEN is located on the South End of the Beach, near Virginia Beach station. . . neighbor to the knowing alley. PEOPLE WHO LIKE KOSHER FOOD will want to know about HARRY'S, which is a "Carry Out" food operation also. The best of dairy products, meats and cheeses, especially fine potato salad and fresh raw dairy, made as only HARRY makes such mouth-watering good things. . . The best possible sandwiches you could dream up! The DELICATESSEN is air-conditioned with tables for friendly visiting for a snack between swims, or after the movies. Sunday is "Carry Out" day at HARRY'S. . . so when unexpected guests arrive just call on HARRY. . . Everyone's wish about HARRY'S!

Need we remind you to be sure your winter blankets, drapes and winter rugs are safely cleaned and stored away for the summer in COMPECO'S STORAGE VAULTS? How about the winter coats, suits, woolen garments—suits, dresses, baby's snow suit, sweaters, furs and fur trimmed garments? If you have neglected to call COMPECO DRY CLEANERS, 1608 Atlantic Avenue—phone 6—please do so at once for their pickup service. COMPECO DRY CLEANERS' larger cleaners and when your garments are in their storage vaults every article is thoroughly protected and insured against fire, theft, or moths. Special attention by experts is given to your furs. Memo to summer visitors: COMPECO CLEANERS, Virginia Beach's quality dry cleaning with a professionally trained staff. When your summer garments return from these cleaners, you can be sure they will be clean, sweet-smelling and looking almost like new!

SUMMER VISITORS: There is a safely conducted merry-go-round at the NEW CASINO PARK, 15th and Atlantic Avenue, catering to families and children! Hobby horses go round from two o'clock, each afternoon till closing. Benches are provided for mothers and nannies who bring the tiniest tots. A refreshment stand close by. Alongside is the newly-constructed MINIATURE GOLF COURSE. The prettiest hereabouts with summer plants and petunias giving garden touches to the ocean side. An excellent BATH HOUSE with hot and cold water, all sizes, is on the ocean front. Courteous attendants in charge. MRS. HORACE BLUFORD, owner, offers a pleasant spot for Family Fun at the NEW CASINO PARK'S MERRY-GO-ROUND, MINIATURE GOLF COURSE and CASINO'S BATH HOUSE. MRS. BERTIE NORWALK, business manager.

STRAIGHT From the SHOULDER Fashion, That Is!

By Alice Brewer White

(Fashion and Women's Director, WTAR)

Listen to the "Women's World," 9-9:30 A.M., WTAR, June 23-28, for Mrs. White's full fashion reports and interviews with famous American designers via direct wire from the NBC Studios, Radio City.

Color is definitely on the rampage in all types of silk fabrics for fall wear and since silk will take on many new faces and forms for fall '52, it's an even bet that top designers have been doing their trend-finding for the new season fashion moods, along the Silky Way!

Again, texture is still big fabric news but it is texture with depth and suppleness with the beautiful brocaded silks, lustrous silk satins, the various types of taffetas in rich color and over-changing iridescence pointing to fashions of regal splendor.

Ribbed silks in the faillie family are so significant that even silk crepes are woven to simulate the ribs of stiffer silk types. Being shown to fashion editors right now in New York are many silk fabrics with surface interest in shubs, ribs, linen and shantung faces. One famous designer insists that silk shantung is a year-round fabric!

In silk crepe, there is a change to distinct grain or pebble surfaces aptly called "sand crepe."

Both men and women will step forth in tweedy silks come the fall.

Silk shantung, twist, antique hosiery and something for the boys, their own silk suiting given its rough surface with the addition of unusual yarn. Yes, indeed, tweedy silks will bear watching.

Loft suiting, because it suits the "soft-but-crisp" school of thinking, will get big attention in the high-fashion circles. You will see lovely soft fabrics used for formal fashions as well as the more formal-looking brocades in taffetas and satins. Something definitely new this season will be the up-sweep of popularity for silk chiffon for formal evenings. Formerly chiffon has been pretty much a late spring and summer favorite but it looks like a Winter Winner.

Pure silk taffetas, in blues from muted slate to vibrant blue green and royal, will be important for daytime and cocktail hour frocks. Cardinal red seems to be the most popular color of many high-style designers. It's mighty gay and a moral-lifter if I ever saw one!

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

IT'S FUN TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK

See "Let's Cook" every Monday through Friday at 1 P. M. on WTAR-TV

Our Food Review for the month of June brings us the good news of an abundant supply of broilers and fryers for the entire month in the southeastern area.

I can remember when Sunday was "Fried Chicken Day," but not any more—we can enjoy fried chicken just any old time we'd like; 792 million broilers were produced in 1952. The United States Department of Agriculture estimates two and one-half million more for this year. That is really good news, isn't it? Whether it's broiled, fried, barbecued, smothered or even dressed up as "chicken meringue." Chicken is "de-lish," yes-sir.

Broilers usually from 8 to 14 weeks old weigh 1 to 2 1/2 pounds. Fryers from 14 to 20 weeks old weigh 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 pounds.

Whether you like it broiled, fried or some other way, chicken is just about the most economical food to buy.

Have you ever barbecued a chicken? Try this recipe:

Barbecued Chicken
2 frying chickens
2 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons flour
1-4 teaspoon dry mustard
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 cup vinegar
1 cup catsup
1 cup water
1 teaspoon celery seed
Cut chicken in pieces, wash, salt, pepper, dredge with flour. (I like to use a paper bag to shake it in—this is an excellent way to get all the chicken well floured.)

Then brown in frying pan, using enough shortening to brown chicken nicely. After all chicken is browned put back in frying pan. Blend sugar, flour, mustard, sprinkle over chicken, then the celery seed. Now mix water, catsup, vinegar and Worcestershire sauce, pour over chicken, cover tightly and cook 30 to 40 minutes over medium fire.

Now for a salad—why? Because they're luscious and full of those much needed vitamins. What kind?

Fruit Salad
Line a salad bowl with lettuce. Place pineapple nuggets, cubes of pear and chopped apples over the bottom, then arrange sections of orange and grapefruit sections over fruit; top with seedless grapes, Bing cherries that have had the seeds removed. If you prefer a different variety of fruits, choose those of your own liking, but do use orange and grapefruit sections; they make a fruit salad so good. For the dressing, let's use "Maiden Blush Dressing."

Blend whipped cream into mayonnaise, add Bar-le-Duc jam and other ingredients, whip chill. Serve over. (Continued on page 8)

MEMOS for Merry Malrons

HELEN HAYES: A real trouper, beloved for both her outstanding ability and her warm generous personality and at 52 the delightful star of "Mrs. McThing" on Broadway. One of the truly Great Ladies of the theater, her starring roles have been many with perhaps Queen Victoria her best, her latest movie role as the mother in "My Son John," an Academy Award possibility. Made her Broadway bow, age 59, with Lew Fields in "Old Dutch." Ever since has built a little mental index of how people really behave, consulting it in all her other roles. Advises beginners with, "the only way to learn to act is to keep acting before audiences." Lives with her writer-husband Charles McArthur in a comfortable place, Long Island, home. Commutes daily, can rest and relax on matinee days by sitting up in two chairs made like a chaise longue. Devoted to National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis—drives and activities as remembrance of her 19-year-old daughter Mary, who was fatally stricken with polio. A tiny woman with great dignity and charm, favors navy blue—all shades of blue—with impeccable taste in dressing. I've visited Helen Hayes in her Martin Beck theater dressing room, during her "rest" period of a day-long rehearsal bout with "Mrs. McThing," and recently listened to her sincere appeal that "mothers must go on when they lose a child and the best possible way to help that heart-break is to keep busy every waking hour, busy helping others." Truly, Helen Hayes is helping others with her delightful entertainment and her brave work for the polio-stricken.

IMPROVEMENT DEPT.: If it's the present state of your figure which keeps you from appearing in a bathing suit or smart, tailored slacks or crisp linen shorts, how about trying golf or tennis? Take morning lessons from a professional followed by a good massage and steam bath, or swim, plus a little pushing-back-from-the-table exercising when about to devour that terrific meal. Enrolling in a reducing class might help, too. Determination and less talk about doing something about my size will do the trick. Avoid skimping, tight-fitting, "cute" swim suits of bright colors. Do favor dressmaker-type suits, usually with circular-style skirts plus caution about the top to cover up the extra bulges, in dark, elegant shades of blue, forest green, plum or black. Avoid short topset-style beach coats. Be sure yours is on the long side, full and softly flowing. Large gay umbrellas will give you a merry lift with sun glasses not too. (Continued on page seven)

People, Places, Stuff & Things

Red Skelton certainly knows the Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County is on the beach bang all right since his long-distance-phonng one day last week with Mrs. Fred Trummer. Red Skelton, a natural idea-thinker-super, called Red to invite him to be a celebrity guest for the Big Dance on June 30. Her bait was the idea of Red riding in a convertible in the parade while some of the beautiful Junior Women attire in bathing suits, would go along the curbs "nopping up" with Tide. Red's sponsor's pride and joy. When Red heard Louise's idea, he dropped to the floor and rolled and howled over the idea. He was so enthusiastic about visiting the Beach that he suggested postponing the date so he could come to town. The present date will find him hospitalized for a much-needed operation. You can bet Skelton will tell Hollywood about the originality of Louise Trummer's. Lesley Savage, producer of the entertaining Theatre-Go-Round, will turn back the tent flap for the first production of this season on Monday next with last year's Broadway hit, "Lo And Behold." Lesley has brought an all-new group from Broadway with her this year — all new except the popular Romeo. We're pretty happy she didn't. (Continued on page seven)

Nothing can look so ratty as an extra belt hole made with an ice pick. If you do not have an leather punch, you can make one by grinding or filing off the point of a nail. This makeshift punch works on thin metal or soft plastic as well as leather! . . . The covered soup dish or casserole is becoming an integral part of more and more dinnerware lines. In some cases this piece is used for cooking or baking, but in others, where the ware cannot stand the heat, the piece is there simply because designers recognize the need for keeping food warm during leisurely meals — possibly while watching television — and certainly the big casseroles and bean pots would indicate the growing popularity of easy-to-prepare one-pot meals to be served directly in cooking ware! . . . New fashions in floor lamps show them to be lower in height but. (Continued on page 8)

THEATER-GO-ROUND, at 31st and Atlantic, with a 10 week season in the blue and yellow tent, starts off with "Lo and Behold," June 23-28. . . followed by "Peg O' My Heart," June 30-July 5. . . "State of the Union," July 7-12. . . "Kiss the Boys Goodbye," July 14-19, and so on through the summer season until Labor Day. . . LESLEY SAVAGE, producer, brings an entirely new Equity cast of players to the Beach this summer—all new excepting the most-popular Romeo who has been top favorite of the THEATER-GO-ROUND shows for the past two summers. Better purchase a season ticket early this year. They are now available for $25, $19 and $12.50 for the 10 shows with tax included—and a new deal this year, less 10 per cent. This means you may enjoy one show free if you buy your season ticket. Beach residents know what good theater has been presented in the last two THEATER-GO-ROUND seasons and are proud of this group. Beach visitors are especially invited to attend weekly. Folks like to sit close to the player. Sawdust under foot is the touch of atmosphere for outdoor, under-the-tent summer fun. Better hurry to the phone—ask the operator for the THEATER-GO-ROUND number—or to the tent box-office, but pronto!

MISS PATRICIA ATWILL WEDS WILLIAM SCHWARZ

The marriage of Miss Patricia Gordon Atwill, daughter of Mr. Gordon Atwill, of Virginia Beach, to Capt. William Wright Schwarz, USA, son of Mrs. Frances Wright Schwarz, of Williamsburg, took place Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the First Presbyterian Church, Virginia Beach.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Moffett C. Roeder, of Richmond, and Dr. W. G. Bond, pastor of the Virginia Beach Baptist Church. The church was decorated with garlands of greenery, white flowers and light-colored candles. Mrs. R. J. Browder, of Virginia Beach, played the wedding music and Miss Lillian Huber, of Williamsburg, sang "I Love Thee" and "With This Ring".

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Wm. N. Gordon, of Pittsburgh, Pa. She wore an imported gown of embroidered organza, fastened with a strapless scalloped bodice topped with a short organza train. The dress was decorated with garlands of greenery, white flowers and light-colored candles.

The bride wore a matching embroidered organza suit. Her champagne-colored French illusion veil fell from a small embroidered organza tiara with narrow ruffle in back, trimmed with ribbons of the veil and a tiny pale blue bow and she carried a semi-crescent bouquet of fleur-de-lis and stephanotis.

Mrs. Norman Louis Overton, of Norfolk, was matron of honor. She wore a gown of sea green organza, made with a beque bodice with cap sleeves and tiny Peter Pan collar, and a very full ankle-length skirt trimmed with narrow inset bands of matching satin, worn over a hoop and a matching ing crownless brim of stiffened net. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Ben Davis, of Norfolk, and Miss Margaret Walton, of Baltimore. They wore identical gowns and hats of pale yellow organza. All the attendants carried cascading bouquets of deep-seeded rainbow asters in contrasting colors.

James Louis Bozarth, of Williamsburg, was best man and the groomsmen were Everett Turner, of Huntsville, Ala.; Glen Branch, of South Norfolk; Herbert Phillips, of Norfolk; and William Barksdale, of Gilman, W. Va.

The bride's mother wore an ankle-length gown of bronze organza with small matching flower hat and a corsage of green cymbidium orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore an ankle-length gown of navy organza with small pink flower-trimmed hat and a corsage of pink roses.

After the ceremony a reception was given at the Princess Anne Country Club, Virginia Beach. Later, Corporal and Mrs. Schwarz left for a Southern wedding trip through the Blue Ridge and Smoky Mountains and upon their return they will reside in Huntsville, Ala., where the bridegroom is stationed as a research chemist with the United States Army.

The bride wore for traveling a suit of deep blue faille, small pink straw hat and matching blouse and a corsage of pink cymbidium orchids. Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Frances Wright Schwarz, Mrs. Laura B. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Ryland, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bozarth and Miss Marguerite Bozarth, all of Williamsburg; Mr. and Mrs. John David Hewlett, of Regent;

ITS ENGINE ADDS MUSCLE TO EVERY DROP OF GAS!

To many owners, the mighty 180 H.P. V-8 engine that powers the Chrysler New Yorker is the most remarkable feature of this remarkable car. It is certainly the most discussed automobile engine in many, many years.

This is the engine with hemispherical combustion chambers... the engine that gives more power out of every drop of gas. And non-premium gas at that!

Actually, it puts you in control of more power than you'll probably ever need use. You'll sense this... together with its unequalled response... the very first yards you drive. It runs smoother, more quietly, and with less wear than any other engine ever built into an American automobile.

... and it makes driving (both cruising and the short run) more fun than you have ever known it to be!

But that's not all! Along with this engine there are scores of other reasons, too, for driving a New Yorker before resolving on any new car. Like Full-time Power Steering that makes steering five times easier... and your control five times greater... than in ordinary cars. Like Power Brakes that cut needed pedal pressure by as much as two-thirds.

Like Oriflow shock absorbers that make even bad roads feel "newly paved"... restful chair-high seats... big, wide-opening doors... big windows that let you see more.

It's true... until you drive a Chrysler New Yorker you won't know what you're missing. Why not stop in today?

cadet silks have two or three colors or embroidered motifs woven right into the silk. Fairly-book elegance for these evening gowns!

Speaking of elegance—the new lustrous silk velvets are breath-taking. And wait 'til we really hit the winter gaiters for the appearance of the metallic silks with the heavily embossed or moiré effects in richly elegant forms.

Rich colors of port, wine, plum, cinnamon brown and rust will be good, while grey is the neutral expected to replace beige tones for fall. Much preference for gold and its derivations and the pinks, from rose to shell, will also bear watching. You'll see white again a top favorite for formal evening gowns this fall with the whole family of blues from pastels to royal and blue-green away in front in the fashion color parade.

Truly, color has gone on the rampage this fall of 1952! (Next week, capsule review of all 1952 fall fashions "watch for".)

FADS AND FANCIES: For summer, remember Mainbocher's straight line, the lines of a woman's body and the inevitable way that cloth should go! White organdy splintered with brilliant is cool looking! Now's the time for dark but plain sheers for after five! . . . Forget the colored belts if you carry extra pounds! . . . Using those gay, small dime-store parrot fans is smug-looking for humid days than tissue-mopping! . . . A long, thin neck can becomingly carry many ropes of light-weight beads in brilliant colors! . . . record exists of a beach tree being struck—it is practically immune . . . Cut roses will last longer the lower they are taken from the plant. Roses which bloom from shoots low on the plant take longer to develop than do those from higher up—and the longer a rose takes to open, the longer it will last as a cut flower! . . . Experiments reported in a recent home and garden publication show that African violets grow and bloom best when they are in an unobstructed east-window which will provide good lights if you stretch a thin glass curtain between your plants and the glass on sunny days. Plants in a south window need two or three thicknesses when the sun is bright. Light through a west window needs to be filtered through two thicknesses in sunny weather. Growers who want to be accurate can check the best light with a photographer's light meter! . . . If you plan to use the new chemical Kriol to condition the soil in clay pots, be sure to treat the soil before you fill the pots, not after. When researchers tried to knock the plants from the pots, in recent experiments, they found they were cemented in as solidly as if they had been cast in concrete. Kriol opens up tight soils by pulling together the fine clay particles to form grains of larger size. But when you apply it to soil in pots, the chemical combines just as effectively with clay particles half embedded in the porous clay. These are so tightly locked into the pot that it is all but impossible to knock out the root ball without breaking the pots.

DID YOU KNOW that some day gardeners may be able to buy a shirt or clothing that repels insects? Yes, reports from an Armed Forces laboratory are that insect repellents developed there proved effective against ticks, flies, mosquitoes, gnats, and possibly chiggers. The most promising compound is called M-1960. An emulsifying agent is added so the mixture can be diluted with water for the treatment of cloth. So, here's to that old repellent shirt!

forget Romeo because the Big Fellow has made such a hit with summer audiences for the past two seasons and with Lesley more out front, to greet her followers this year, and Romeo inside the tent to amuse, bewilder, entertain or terrify the cash customers—according to his character roles—all will be well again on the corner of 31st and Atlantic avenue. Most popular director Jon Dawson has television commitments in Manhattan but will visit the Beach now and then. Joe Busch is in the Guests Relations department at NBC and Paulette San Marchi, after a nose-bobbing job, is a real glamor gal leading lady elsewhere. . . . Incidentally, Ann Pennington did a cracker-jack job again this year in getting up the Go-Round season program. Hats off to Ann! . . . The B. M. Stanton family, autoing across country to California, are along the way as an educational activity for the young Stantons! . . . Some people love parades but we love merry-go-rounds. So, if you see us astride a hobby horse at the New Casino Park with big hat a-flying, don't be surprised. It's a beautifully painted merry-go-round, too! It's the apple of Marty's eye since he cleverly and fondly repainted this children's delight. Marty, in case you don't know, has many wall murals about the beach. . . . The Prince Charles Hotel restaurant has the cleverest road map of all. Marty, a former man of the sea, has several fine paintings of battleships, boats and such like in the Museum in Newport News! . . . The Pinkney's young Dickie is an autograph fan and had a field day at WTAR and WHPN—the other day getting autographs even from the boom man and A. B. W.'s secretary "Tom" Taylor. Is he proud of Chesapeake Junior's growth? . . . Hats Off to Elizabeth Conway who has just been fondly elected president for the twenty-first time of the Princess Anne Garden Club. Her great love and understanding of flowers and her knowledge and green thumb genius have been inspirations to the women gardeners in Princess Anne and Virginia Beach! We can't think of another club president anywhere more beloved by the members of her own club. Everyone is happy about friends by Joe Jarmon being well again and back at the Cavalier Beach and Cabana Club! . . . By the way, you do not have to be a member of the Junior Women's Club, the Cavalier Beach Club or the Princess Anne-Virginia Beach Rescue Squad Group to attend the Big Dance, Monday, June 30 . . . nor do you have to dress formal. . . . It's for a good cause, you'll have more fun dancing to Kinky's Orchestra if you dress informally . . . and don't forget those four-dollar-per-couple donations. We'll be seeing you there—Alistair.

Now is Dairy Month, so why not get right in and enjoy all the wonderful food recipes prepared especially for the month? Here's a "dip" that has become very popular at the latest "Dip and Dunk" parties.

Happy Sour Cream Dip
 1 cup thick sour cream
 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
 1-2 cup drained horseradish
 1 teaspoon celery seed
 1-2 teaspoon salt
 1-4 teaspoon paprika

Combine sour cream with other ingredients, whip until thoroughly blended, chill, and it's ready to serve.

With crisp potato chips or crackers you'll have a "dipping good time."
 When some of your favorite friends drop in, serve them a beautiful and good surprise.

Pastel Punch
 2 cups crushed and sweetened strawberries

 Few grains salt
 4 cups cold milk
 1 pint strawberry ice cream
 1 pint vanilla ice cream
 Mix cold milk and strawberries; fill tall glasses half full; now put in a scoop of strawberry ice cream; then a scoop of vanilla ice cream; garnish with whole strawberry if available;

if not, save one-half cup of the crushed strawberries and put spoonful on top of each glass.

Patricia Browder and A. V. Medlin Married

The marriage of Miss Patricia Ann Browder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Browder, of Virginia Beach, to Albert Vance Medlin, of Zebulon, N. C., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Albert Vance Medlin, of Zebulon, took place at the London
 Bridge Baptist Church, London Bridge, Sunday afternoon, June 1, at 5 o'clock.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. L. Wood Jones, assisted by the Rev. J. H. Hughes. The church was decorated with white gladioli, white anemones, palms and ferns.

Mrs. Norman Etheridge, of Virginia Beach, played the wedding music and Miss Betty Anders, Hendersonville, N. C., sang "From
 This Day Forward" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of white imported Chantilly lace over tulle, fashioned with a sheer yoke of tulle appliqued with lace trimmed with sequins. The fitted bodice was buttoned in the back with tiny self-covered buttons.
 The long light sleeves ended in points over the hands and the full gathered skirt formed a long sweeping train.
 Her fingertip veil of imported silk her dress, was arranged from a lace illusion appliqued with lace matching bullet cap. She carried a bridal toquet of white orchids and French carnations. She wore a single strand of pearls.

The maid of honor was Miss Elaine Myers, of Virginia Beach, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Duke
 Browder, of Beaufort, N. C.; Mrs.
 Carole Tippet, of Zebulon; Mrs.
 Carolyn Mitchell, of Winston-Salem, N. C.; and Miss Doris Harcum, of Virginia Beach. The maid of honor wore a dress of orchid nylon net over satin, fashioned on princess lines and trimmed with white lace. Her picture hat was of matching orchid and she carried a bouquet of mixed sweet peas. The bridesmaids wore Nile green dresses made similar to that of the maid of honor, matching green picture hats and carried bouquets of mixed sweet peas.

Miss Celia Hales, of Zebulon, was flower girl. She wore a dress of pink ruffles and carried a flower basket of rose petals.

Eric Claudy, of Virginia Beach, was ring bearer.

BEACH SAND FLOWS FAST FROM PUMP

OVER 700 FEET OF BEACH ALREADY HELPED BY FILL

It's full steam ahead for Virginia Beach's erosion control project with favorable weather aiding in the battle to restore the sand beach, and officials are pleased with the fine progress being made.

A view of the beach area just north of the jetty at Seventh Street will attest to the progress made thus far. On Wednesday more than 700 feet of the beach had been affected by the sand pumping operation.

Amateur observers expressed amazement at the force of the sand and water coming through the long line of pipes leading from the Rudee Inlet area to the beach.

E. H. Church, chairman of the Virginia Beach Erosion Commission, expressed complete satisfaction with the work that has been done. On Monday, he, along with other members of the commission, formally signed the contract with the Norfolk Dredging Company for the work that is going on.

The first phase of the sand restoration project will include the establishment of a 100-foot wide beach from Seventh Street north to 22nd Street. The second phase will then move northward to 49th Street.

The contract calls for the dredging firm to pump a minimum of 200,000 cubic yards of sand per month. The first phase is expected to require approximately 500,000 cubic yards.

Parish Women to Hold Bazaar, 28th

Women's Circle of the Star of the Sea parish plans a bazaar on the parish grounds, at 14th street and Arctic Circle, for Saturday, June 28, from 11 a. m. to 10 p. m. Luncheon and supper are to be served.

The various booths will include handicraft, white elephants and country store, old books, bag bags, etc. There will be music and amusements for children.

General chairman of the event are Mrs. George Loupre, Mrs. Hugh Lindsay, and Mrs. William Bradwell, all of Virginia Beach, and Mrs. John Collins of Thalia. Other chairmen include: Mrs. Leo Bliley, white elephants and country store; Mrs. Ralph DeMarco, president of the Star of the Sea Woman's Circle, amusements, assisted by Mrs. Dean Schmidt; Mrs. Edward Reedy, construction of booths; Mrs. George Loupre, luncheon, supper; Mrs. Charles Dean, decorations; Mrs. William Meredith, program; Mrs. Hugh Lindsay, handicraft; Mrs. J. Bravely, soft drinks; Mrs. Robert Barr, Jr., ice cream, and Mrs. Vernon Drinkwater, publicity.

American Legion Tops 1951 Count

The Virginia American Legion has surpassed its previous year's membership for the first time since 1946-47.

Department Commander W. C. Daniel of Danville has announced that Legion membership in the state has reached 30,224, exceeding the 1951 total of 29,956. It is expected that the margin of increase will be greatly widened before the close of the Legion year on July 31, Daniel pointed out.

He said the Virginia Legion membership since the start of the current year has consistently remained ahead of last year's pace. Latest figures show the membership of 1,598 ahead of the total at the same time last year.

Four of the Department's nine districts, the 1st, 4th, 5th, and 9th, have already surpassed their 1951 membership totals and the remaining districts are on the verge of topping last year's figures, Daniel said.

The upward trend in membership in the world's largest veterans organization is not confined to Virginia. Nationally, the Legion's membership is running ahead of that of last year at the same time. However, the margin of difference is not as great, on a percentage basis, as that in Virginia, Daniel added. Virginia is one of 17 departments of the Legion's 59 departments which have surpassed their 1951 membership p. he said.

The State Legion head attributed the current trend to several factors.

He pointed out that World War II veterans are now older, more firmly settled as civilians, and have in many instances assumed an active place in the life of the community.

A record field of entries is promised for this year's Payton Memorial National Golf tournament to be held over the Cavalier Country Club course, June 23 and 24.

Latest entrants are 24-year-old Richard Lubovitz and Miami player Herbert Krossman, members of the Ashbourne Country Club in Philadelphia.

Bobby Dunn, Ocean View pro, has entered a slew of his young golfing stars including Loring and Mike Harrin, Carter Smith and Bill Hyler. Hyler placed third in last year's Payton.

Among numerous brother teams signing up are Charles and Walter McCormick, from Halifax.

Bernard Cohen, of Richmond has joined the large contingent of players from that city headed by six of the Hermitage Country Club's best young players. They include 15-year-old Walter Lawrence, who reached the semi-final of his club's annual championship. He will be down this weekend, along with J. B. Hall, to get in some practice rounds.

Fonds Was Playoff

Hall, who was defeated by Porters' Dave Pond last year in a sudden death playoff, is hoping to sew up his third Payton crown. He faces some tough competition with Neward.

Delaware's top player, Leon H. Ryan, Jr., a member of the University of Georgia's team and holding a No. 6 handicap in the Philadelphia Golf Association, is also entered.

More Tidewater entries come from Charles Cloud, Norfolk; Bob Hartzell, Virginia Beach, and Memorial Park players Buddy Levi and Morty Zedd.

Princess Anne County Club's 15-year-old Jordan Ball and Richmond's Walter Lawrence are the two youngest entries.

The Payton Memorial was started by Sidney Banks, of the Cavalier, in 1948 to honor the memory of one of Virginia's most promising young golfers, George Payton, of Hampton, former state open king, was killed in an auto accident in October of 1947 at the age of 23. The Payton Memorial is open to all young men 24 years of age and younger.

This marks the first time the Payton has been a national event. A 54-hole medal play tournament, the first 18 holes will be played (Continued on Page Three)

Exams For Civil Service Workers At Little Creek

Civil Service examinations for truck driver, automotive mechanic, automotive painter and automotive body and fender repairer are now open, Merrill C. White, recorder of the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners at the Naval Amphibious Base, Little Creek, Norfolk, Va., said this week.

These examinations are announced to establish eligible registers to fill future vacancies by indefinite appointment at Fort Story, Va.

Salaries for these positions range from $9.76 to $16.32 per day.

No written test is required for these examinations.

Applications will be received at the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Naval Amphibious Base, Little Creek, Norfolk, until further notice.

County Says 'No' To Daylight Time

Although the Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors voted down the adoption of daylight saving time by a vote of 3 to 2 last Friday night, county offices have changed their hours.

The general offices of the county now open at 8 a. m. and close at 4 p. m., eastern standard time. At the same time it was announced that the Circuit Court convenes at 9 a. m., and the trial justice court at 1 p m.

Junior Women to Aid Rescue Squad

The Junior Women's Club of Princess Anne County is sponsoring a benefit dance to aid the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Rescue Squad, Inc. June 30, at 9:30 p. m., at the Cavalier Beach and Cabana Club, which Mr. Sidney Banks has donated to aid the project. The dance will be open to the general public, and they will be admitted by a donation of 14 per couple.

The Juniors, through this dance, are trying to aid in protecting the community by insuring the success and continued operation of the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Rescue Squad, Inc.

Virginia Beach Rescue Squad, Inc., is a non-profit corporation which, through the time and efforts of its volunteer active members, maintains a 24-hour ambulance service to answer all emergency calls to the sick and injured. Since the Rescue Squad is a mercy organization it must be dependent upon donations to continue operations.

TWO KILLED BY SPEEDER ON ATLANTIC

OFFICER, NAVY MAN, DIE WHEN HIT ON MONDAY

Two men lost their lives in one of the most unusual traffic mishaps on record last Monday afternoon in North Virginia Beach when they were run down by a speeding motorist.

The dead are Patrolman Charles Edward Porteus, 29, of 808 Pine Acre Circle, Virginia Beach, and Chief Petty Officer Richard Montgomery, 41, of Portsmouth.

Driver of the car which struck the two men and allegedly failed to stop was listed as Pfc. James Walsh Needham, of Fort Story. A Port Bragg major, Vernon T. Mergler, witnessed the accident and reportedly gave chase to the Needham car and brought the driver back to the scene.

Needham was placed in the custody of the Army on charges of involuntary homicide.

The force of the impact knocked Montgomery 85 feet, tore off his left leg and killed him instantly. Porteus was catapulted 10 feet into the air and thrown against a telephone pole. He suffered a fractured skull, a fractured leg and internal injuries. He died at the Virginia Beach Hospital three hours after the accident.

Porteus is survived by his wife and three children. Montgomery's home address was listed as Mobile, Ala.

Use Brain as Well As Eyes, Johnson Warns Motorists

Too many drivers read speed limit signs with their eyes only. That was the warning issued today by Chief of Police Reeves. Johnson to give emphasis to the importance of speed as related to traffic accidents.

"Drivers should use their heads as well as their eyes when they read speed limit signs," Chief Johnson pointed out, "if they expect to reach their destination without jeopardizing their lives or, perhaps, the life of an innocent victim of their recklessness."

Chief Johnson's statement was made today in cooperation with the traffic safety program of the Virginia Beach Police and the Governor's Highway Safety Committee. This month the safety organizations are stressing "Speed Control" in their efforts to reduce traffic accidents.

Even though the sign may say 35 mile an hour, that doesn't mean 35 is always a safe speed in that zone, Chief Johnson said.

Posted speed limits are based on favorable conditions, he explained, but safe speed depends on actual conditions. (Continued on page two)

Compensation to Be Increased for Widows of Vets

Following many inquiries from the widows of deceased veterans, the Veterans Administration said that increased rates of compensation and pension payments for certain classes of widows and dependent children, recently enacted into law, become effective July 1. The increased rates where applicable will be reflected in compensation or pension checks to be received at the end of July.

The increases will be made by V.A. without the need of action by the widows or children.

Public Law 356, signed by the President May 23, provided among other things that the monthly compensation rates for 560,000 dependents of deceased veterans, but not service-connected disabilities and who served either during wartime or since June 27, 1950, would be increased by approximately 15 per cent.

These increases apply to widows with one or more children and to the children of deceased veterans, but not increases were provided for widows without children or for dependent parents.

Death pension rates for approximately 375,400 widows and dependent children of veterans of World War I and II and those with service since June 27, 1950, who died from non-service-connected disabilities were (Continued on Page Three)

Geo. E. Fowler With Amphibs

Forty ships of the Atlantic Fleet, and units of the Atlantic Fleet Marines are undergoing an amphibious training exercise in the Caribbean.

Participating in Training Exercise No. 1, aboard the escort carrier USS Kula Gulf is George E. Fowler, third class, USN, husband of Mrs. Mary A. Fowler, 329 17th Street, Virginia Beach.

Two training amphibious assaults will be made, one at Vieques Island off the coast of Puerto Rico, and another at Onslow Beach, N. C.

$1,285,000 BUDGET SET UP FOR BEACH'S FIRST YEAR AS CITY

Real Estate Re-Assessment Soon

The City of Virginia Beach will operate on a budget of $1,285,000 for the next fiscal year beginning July 1. This was revealed at the Council's Monday night meeting when a budget of that figure was adopted on first reading. A special meeting on June 23 is planned for final adoption on second reading.

At the same time City Council authorized a raise in salaries for three officials and announced a proposed real estate assessment. The group also requested special monthly reports from city agencies.

The budget, prepared by City Manager Philip Ancell with the assistance of C. P. Miller, of the office of the State auditor of public accounts, Richmond, will be the first for Virginia Beach as a city.

The budget is broken down in the following manner: General fund, $721,559. Of this amount, $309,989 was deducted as transferred to other accounts. Other accounts including advertising, $26,700; refuse collection, $7,600; water and sewers, $248,201; school operating funds, $192,450; general debt, $106,692; and school debt, $75,448.

Each special agency for which the Council appropriates funds is being asked to make a monthly report to Council, supplemented by a yearly budget. These agencies include the Erosion Commission, the Chamber of Commerce and the city's Community House.

Salary raises were proposed for City Attorney Roy Smith from $1800 to $1600 annually as a retainer fee; Police Court Judge Eugene Gresham, from $1200 to $1500; and City Engineer Charles Kiley, from $4900 to $5200.

Mayor P. F. Murray announced that he would appoint citizens' committees within the next few days to study a retirement pension system for city employees, the city's recreation facilities and the functioning of the (Continued on Page Three)

County 4-H Team Wins Top Honors

Princess Anne County's 4-H poultry judging team won top place in district competition on Tuesday at the Atlantic Rural Exposition Grounds in Richmond.

County Agent H. W. Odell announced after his return with the team.

The team consisted of David Stewart, top point winner in the competition with a score of 670 out of a possible 800; Ira Fisk, who won 650 points, and Patricia Saunders, 600 points. All are members of the Kempsville Senior 4-H Club.

Buddy Redfern, of the Oceana Senior 4-H Club, alternate team member, scored 570 points.

Wins the district championship entitles the team to go to the 20th annual State Short Course at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute next week, June 23-28, to compete for the state championship and possible free trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

Teams from Gloucester, Hanover, Henrico and Nottingham counties, representing the southeastern corner of Virginia, were in the Richmond competition.

Fisk has already won a scholarship to the short course for his achievements in field crops and Miss Saunders has won a scholarship in gardening.

Others who have won scholarships to the course are Warren Brinkley, of the Oceana Senior 4-H Club, also in gardening, and Cecil Simpson, of the Creeds Senior 4-H Club, both for their achievement in field crops.

President Walter S. Newman, of VPI, and Dr. Paul D. Sanders, editor of the Southern Planter, will be among the speakers at the short course. About 1,000 top-ranking 4-H members of Virginia will attend.

90 Million Americans Will Observe Holiday

Ninety million Americans will go forth on the Fourth—for a holiday or a hallow day.

The National Safety Council estimates that there will be 40,000,000 passenger vehicles on U. S. Streets and highways during the three-day weekend and that they will travel 5,000,000,000 miles—enough to circle the world 200,000 times.

The figures only emphasize the tremendous amount of travel to be expected during the holiday, the council said. It emphasized that more cars on the road traveling more miles will inevitably mean more accidents unless there is more caution than usual on the part of the motoring public.

An ominous note already has been sounded this year with the traffic death toll for Memorial Day setting a new record of 360 lives lost in one alone.

In an attempt to prevent a holiday of tragedy for hundreds of persons, the council is conducting this year a nation-wide campaign for safe Independence Day celebration.

Top-Rank 4-H'ers To Attend 'Short Course'

Some 1,000 top-ranking 4-H club members from throughout Virginia will gather at VPI June 23-28 for their 20th annual State 4-H Short Course.

Naming of winners of several state contests, many of them carrying as awards trips to the National Club Congress in Chicago, will highlight the sessions.

Classes, tours, and recreation are scheduled for the day programs. At the Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday evening vespers programs the group will hear addresses on citizenship by Rev. James E. Tull, pastor of Blacksburg Baptist Church.

The Virginia Chapter of All-Stars, honorary 4-H organization, will be in charge of the Tuesday evening program. The annual All-Star ceremony and initiation of new All-Stars is scheduled for Friday evening.

During the week's program the 4-H'ers also will hear addresses by Dr. Paul D. Sanders, editor of the Southern Planter, Richmond; Dr. Walter S. Newman, president of VPI; Franklin Wilson, Augusta, 1961 International Pan Youth Exchange delegate; P. H. DeBart, assistant director of the VPI Agricultural Extension Service.

L. B. Dietrick, director of the Extension Service; and G. O. Clark, district agent, Luray.

4-H Club members attending the State Short Course from Princess Anne include the following: Attending on Scholarships—Warren Brinkley, garden work, Oceana Senior 4-H Club; Patricia Saunders, garden work, Kempsville Senior 4-H Club; Ira Fisk, field crops, Kempsville Senior 4-H Club; Cecil Simpson, field crops, Creeds Senior 4-H Club; Steve Squires, Kempsville Senior 4-H Club. Others going—Hunter Spence, Creeds Senior 4-H Club; Shirley Humphries, Kempsville Senior 4-H Club; Carolyn Norfleet, Kempsville Senior 4-H Club; Margaret Pentress, Kempsville Senior 4-H Club; Frances Mae Williams, Creeds Senior 4-H Club; Lois Wood, Oceana Senior 4-H Club; Walter Gresham, Oceana Senior 4-H Club; and Jacquelyn Carson, Oceana Senior 4-H Club.

The Princess Anne 4-H'ers will travel to Blacksburg on a chartered bus in company with the Norfolk and Nansemond Counties 4-H'ers.

Presiding over the Short Course will be Daniel Brubaker, Franklin County Extension Agent. (Continued on Page Three) and local safety councils are cooperating in the effort.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the council, appealed to every citizen to do his part in preventing traffic tragedy over the Fourth.

"You as an individual can do something about it," he said, "because these tragedies result from things we can control—haste, selfishness, and thoughtlessness, the desire to show off. Take it easy on the Fourth—be alive on the Fifth."

Make your holiday drive a safety drive, Mr. Dearborn urged, by obeying the following rules:

1. Make sure your car is in safe mechanical condition.
2. Start your trip in plenty of time, so you won't have to hurry.
3. Keep your speed down. Slow up here and show up there.
4. Pass other cars only if there is plenty of room.
5. Stay far enough behind other cars so that you can stop in an emergency.
6. Keep your temper, and be courteous and patient in heavy traffic.
7. Don't drive after drinking—even a little.
8. Stop and rest whenever overtired or sleepy.

21st Annual Congress Of Research Society
 To Be Held At Beach June 22nd thru 28th

By MARY ELLEN CARTER

Theme of the 21st Annual Congress of the Association for Research and Enlightenment to be held here June 22-28 will be "Effectual Living—Of What It Consists and How to Achieve It," according to Hugh Lynn Cayce, manager, who added in his announcement today that the emphasis this year will be upon practical approaches toward creative and religious goals.

Thomas Sugrue, author of "A Catholic Speaks His Mind," will be one of four prominent evening lecturers during the Congress which will be open to the public. Mr. Sugrue is also the author of "There Is A River," biography of the late seer, Edgar Cayce, who made his home, for many years prior to his death, in Virginia Beach.

In addition to the lectures, there will be classes offered throughout the week on the subjects related directly to the material presented in the thousand readings given by Edgar Cayce during his lifetime. This year more than ever before, lectures and classes will be planned to give practical aid to everyday living. Lectures will be given in the evening at 8:15 o'clock at the New Castle Hotel. First lecture in the series will be given by Julia Chandler, Virginia Beach author, playwright and radio commentator, who is chairman of the 1952 Congress committee, and whose topic will be "Paths to Effectual Living."

Hugh Lynn Cayce, son of the late Edgar Cayce, and manager of the Association, will speak Tuesday night on "The Secret Place of the Most High." James Welton, president of the Fairhope Educational Foundation, Fairhope, Alabama, will have as his theme Thursday night "Achieving Optimum Living," which will concern dianetic research. Thomas Sugrue, author, lecturer and critic, will speak on "The Future of Religion in the United States."

Classes will be taught by the following: Gladys Davis, Association secretary, and Max St. Clair, research analyst, both of Virginia Beach, who will have as their theme, "Keeping Your Body Healthy." Harmon H. Bro, professor of humanities and arts at George Williams College, Chicago, "Using the Arts for Effectual Living." Esther Wynne, of Virginia Beach, who was one of the compilers of "A Search for God," "Group Study," and "The Book of Revelation."

Florence Edmonds, of Norfolk, retired president of the Association and well known prayer group leader, "Prayer and Meditation for Healing." Thomas Sugrue, who will conduct a class called "Create Yourself." Robert L. Cox, Norfolk architect and member of the board of trustees, "Books and the Conduct of Life." Hugh Lynn Cayce, who will lead two classes, "Survey of Psychic Perception" and "The Growth of Psychic Perception." These courses will be supplemented by William Peterson, of Virginia Beach, who will conduct laboratory experiments, continuing his work of several years in the field of research into psychic matters.

Elsie Sechrist, director of the annual Western Conference held in Los Angeles for the past five years, will lead the class "Working With Karma." Registration for classes will take place Sunday at the A.R.E. headquarters, 14th Street and Arctic Circle. Expenses of the congress are being met through voluntary contributions based upon the number of lectures and classes attended. For further information about the program and fees, persons are asked to write the Association headquarters or to telephone Virginia Beach 954.

Wage Stabilization Authorizes Increase

Adjustments in wages and fringe benefits affecting 4,647 Virginia workers were announced this week by the 4th Regional Wage Stabilization Board. The largest group covered are 2,500 employees of the Virginia Electric and Power Company, members of eight separate units of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (AFL). The Board approved a wage increase of 3.3 per cent across the board, based on a claim of an inter-plant inequity, and made the adjustment retroactive to April 1, 1952, date of the company-union contract. It also sanctioned job rate adjustments to correct intra-plant inequities affecting 63 of the group.

An 8 1/2 cent hourly increase was voted on grounds of inter-plant inequity to 1,415 AEC tobacco workers of the Brown and Williamson Tobacco Corporation of Petersburg. In the same decision a 7 1/2 cent increase, as proposed by the union and the company, was allowed 235 employees of the firm's Winston-Salem plant. Fifty of the firm's non-union employees at Petersburg were allowed an increase of 9 1/2 cents to correct an intra-plant inequity and, on the same grounds, the Board voted an approval of 1 1/2 cents hourly for four AFL truck drivers and 7 1/2 cents for 10 AFL firemen and others. The Board denied a proposal of the P. S. Royster Guano Company of Norfolk to grant two weeks' paid vacation after three years' service to 154 employees, members of District

Lydia Bailey At Beach Theatre

Audience slant: (Adult). The exotic background and love story tropical wilderness and mountains and Haitian color filmed in Technicolor, plus some very able characterizations, with suspenseful climaxes, are sufficient to engage the interest of any audience.

Box-office slant: Action fans, the historically-minded, and the readers of Kenneth Roberts' novel, will doubtless turn out to see this.

Credits: Produced by Jules Schermer. Directed by Jean Negulesco. Screenplay by Michael Blankfort and Philip Dunne. Photography, Harry Jackson. Art direction, Lyle Wheeler and J. Russell Spencer. Dance sequence staged by Jack Cole. Technicolor color consultant, Leonard Doss. Musical direction, Lionel Newman.

Plot: Based on the best-seller of the same name, this is the story of the conflict between the natives, some Americans and the French assassins trying to gain control of the infant republic of Haiti in the year 1802. Spectacularly photographed in Technicolor with tropical wilderness and mountain scenes, "Lydia Bailey" retains the most essential elements of Kenneth Roberts' novel and has been directed for spectacular effect, with several side places at sharp and individual characterizations. It has the action and suspense that most moviegoers are seeking. Although without star names, it contains a number of fine actors who take advantage of the opportunities afforded them. The complicated plot moves forward under the directorial abilities of Jean Negulesco, incident following on the heels of incident so rapidly that interest has no chance to lag. The voodoo dance, the burning of Autremont's home, and of a town where the French are holding a ball, are spectacular sequences. Dale Robertson makes an upstanding hero, willing to tackle anything to obtain his purpose—first to get Lydia Bailey's signature to a document, and then to get Lydia for himself. Anne Francis makes an attractive, blond and slight Lydia, with an intrepid spirit William Marshall as the black King Dick, an aide to Toussaint L'Ouverture, gives a swell performance. Charles Korvin as Lydia's fiancé, Adeline de Walt Reynolds as his mother, Gladys Holland as Napoleon's sister, Roy E. Glenn as Mirabeau and Martin Williams as the voodoo priest, all lend pictorial and historic value to the film.

Deferments Granted To Foreign Students

Major General Lewis B. Hersey, director of Selective Service, said today that local boards have been advised that a high school, college or university student in a foreign country may be deferred if the evidence submitted is sufficient to convince the local board that his work is satisfactory and that his activity in his country is necessary to the maintenance of the national health, safety or interest of the United States.

Officials at national headquarters stressed that the advice does not mean blanket deferment of the students in foreign countries and that they are under the same obligation to keep their local boards informed of their student status, as are students studying in this country.

The advice was sent to the local boards in the form of an amended operations bulletin, No. 40, clarifying the original operations bulletin, which had been generally interpreted to mean that student deferments for students attending foreign educational institutions were limited to instruction at a high school, college, university, or similar institution of learning located outside the United States.

The amended bulletin follows: 1. The provisions of Section 162.25 (a) of the Selective Service Regulations contains ample authority for a local board to classify a registrant in Class II-S who is a student or who has been enrolled as a student at a college, university, or similar institution of learning located outside the United States.

Before classifying any such student in Class II-S, the evidence submitted by or on behalf of the registrant should be sufficient to convince the local board that he is satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction at a college, university, or similar institution of learning located outside the United States.

Mrs. King Presides Over Last Meeting Of Woman's Club

The Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach held the last luncheon meeting of the season on Tuesday at the Community House. Mrs. E. I. King presided.

Master Edward Mayle led the members in the Pledge of Allegiance. Linda Harrell sang "The Star Spangled Banner," and Frances Petty led the members in prayer.

Mrs. C. T. Fox and Mrs. G. Marshall, associate members, were present. Mrs. T. B. Petty, welfare chairman, was selected as the outstanding member of the club. Since she accepted the chairmanship in October, she has raised more than $1,500 for the club's civic affairs, including the Community Chest, the March of Dimes, and the Red Cross.

Mrs. R. W. Spruill was in charge of the program. It was presented by the youth organizations, and entitled "Natural Resources."

Misses Susan Harrell and Frances Petty explained the many new projects now in progress in connection with the Youth Club of the Junior American Citizens Club.

Johnnie Johnson, vice-president of the Junior Volunteer Fire Department, reported on the activities of the club, and the junior members assisted the senior firemen on duty-calls, and how to use life-saving and fire-fighting equipment.

Mrs. Spruill introduced the following members of the Paul Revere and Minute Men of the J. A. C. who participated in the program: Sharon Storey, Carol Hildan, Rose Marie Velles, Gladys Lee, Jackie Lee, Barbara Williams, Karen Bennett, Carolyn Clark, Jackie Storey, Edward Mayle, Michael Harrell, and Johnnie Harrell.

Guest speaker for the luncheon was Mrs. V. H. Kellam, who spoke on "Conservation Through Scouting."

Mrs. Spruill and Miss Betty Lou Lester, Festival Queen in 1951, were hostesses to members at the luncheon.

AN ORDINANCE. WHEREAS, the Board of Supervisors of the County of Princess Anne, Virginia, did on the 13th day of June, 1952, appoint the Planning Commission for said County, in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 25 of the Code of Virginia, 1950; and

WHEREAS, said Planning Commission will proceed diligently in the fulfillment of its duties as prescribed by law, and in the course thereof will prepare maps of said County, make extensive studies of existing land use, population distribution, trends of development and other factors relating to the physical characteristics and the desirable development of said County, including careful consideration of the characteristics of the various communities and neighborhoods within the County and the suitability thereof for various uses, and will prepare a tentative zoning plan for said County, including maps showing the proposed boundaries of various districts and the text of a proposed ordinance containing regulations to be enforced in said districts. In the course of the preparation of the zoning plan, said Commission will consult with the State Division of Planning and Economic Development and with the planning officials of adjoining political subdivisions in order to aid in the preparation of a comprehensive plan for the entire region of which said County is a part; and

WHEREAS, said Planning Commission will hold the hearing on said zoning plan which is required by law before submitting their proposed plan to the Board of Supervisors; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Supervisors has information that, and hereby finds that, during the time that will be required for the completion of said report by said Planning Commission and for the consideration thereof by the Board of Supervisors, including the required public hearing thereon, with the required notices of such hearing, and prior to the effecting of an ordinance adopting said zoning plan, certain uses may be established in said County in locations in which they would not be permitted under the provisions of said zoning plan, thereby impairing the effectiveness and comprehensiveness of said plan, and in which they would be detrimental to adjacent property and would thereby and otherwise be injurious to the welfare of their respective neighborhoods and of the County as a whole; now

Therefore, in order to prevent such detrimental results pending the adoption of said zoning plan by the Board of Supervisors and to protect the public health, safety, morals and general welfare:

Be it ordained by the Board of Supervisors of Princess Anne County, Virginia, as follows:

SECTION I. DEFINITIONS. For the purpose of this ordinance certain terms are herewith defined as follows:

A. "Street." A public right-of-way that is not an alley or that is not less than thirty (30) feet wide.

B. "Building." Any structure having a roof supported by columns or by walls, including tents, lunch wagons, dining cars, trailers and similar structures whether stationary or movable.

C. "Front Yards." The yard extending across the entire width of the lot between the main building, including covered porches, and the front lot line or, if an official future street right-of-way law has been established, the main building, including covered porches, and the future right-of-way.

D. "Lot." A piece, parcel or plot of land occupied or intended to be occupied by a main building and its accessory buildings, and including the open spaces under this ordinance.

E. "Residence District." The land fronting on both sides of a street and extending to the rear lot line where, in the case of enactment of this ordinance, less than 50 per cent of the frontage is used for commercial or industrial purposes.

SECTION II. REGULATIONS FOR RESIDENCE DISTRICTS. It shall be unlawful to locate, erect, construct, or alter any building in any residence district as herein defined except in keeping with the following regulations:

In any residence district no dwelling or group of dwellings shall hereinafter be located or erected on a lot less than 15,000 square feet of lot area and not less than 75 feet of lot width at its front for each dwelling, provided, however, this shall not apply where the ownership of any lot makes it impractical to have an area and width as provided above and which lot shall have been plotted and duly recorded in a plat or deed prior to the passage of this ordinance. And provided further, that in any community, section, subdivision, or block, where a public water supply or sewer is available to and used in connection with a lot, piece or parcel of land no building shall be erected on a lot having a square foot area of less than 9,000 feet and width of less than 60 feet at its front.

And provided further, on any lot, piece, or parcel of land where there is provided a public or community water supply and a public sewer, no building shall be erected on any lot, piece or parcel of land with the lot square area of less than 7,000 feet and a lot width of less than 50 feet at its front. All such lots or plots shall front on or have ingress and egress, by means of a public right-of-way.

In any residence district every residential structure shall have a front yard thirty (30) feet in depth, provided, however, that where the adjoining lots on both sides are already occupied by residences and their existing front yards are less than thirty (30) feet, the average depth shall determine the front yard depth required; further, provided, that said front yard shall in no case be less than ten (10) feet. The minimum required width of each side yard shall be five (5) feet, and the least sum of both side yards shall be twelve (12) feet.

SECTION III. REGULATIONS FOR COMMERCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL USES IN THE UNINCORPORATED AREA OF THE COUNTY. Until a zoning plan for the unincorporated territory of the County of Princess Anne has been adopted by ordinance of the Board of Supervisors and until the effective date of such ordinance it shall be unlawful to locate, erect or construct any building, structure, intended or designed for commercial or industrial purposes, or to alter a building or structure to be used for such purposes or to change the use of any building or land for such purposes, unless and until a permit has been secured from the Board of Supervisors. For the purpose of this ordinance airports, airfields and other public-use landing areas; automobile graveyards; commercial amusement or recreation establishments, including but not limited to amusement recreation clubs and establishments at which public dancing is permitted; and trailer courts are included in the definition of "Commercial and Industrial Uses."

SECTION IV. PERMITS. If the establishment of any of the foregoing uses does not require the erection, construction, reconstruction, enlargement, alteration or moving of any building or other structure, no permit shall be required hereunder, prior to the time of the passage of this ordinance, such use has actually been opened for business; if the establishment of any such use requires the erection, construction, reconstruction, enlargement, alteration or moving of any building or other structure, no permit shall be required hereunder, prior to the time of the passage of this ordinance, work has actually been commenced by the fixing of substantial construction materials in their permanent positions, or by the completion of substantial excavation, or by the moving of a building or other structure to its permanent position; but a permit shall be required before any of the foregoing uses are open for business if no erection, construction, reconstruction, enlargement, alteration or moving of any building or other structure is involved in any such use is commenced in any particular.

Every application for a permit required by this ordinance shall be filed with the Executive Secretary to the Board of Supervisors of Princess Anne County, who shall thereupon transmit the same to the Planning Commission. Said Commission shall consider the nature and location and the use covered by the application, in relation to the proposed zoning plan being prepared by said Commission, to the character of the neighborhood in which such use is proposed to be established and its suitability for particular uses, and, in general, to the probable effect of the proposed use on the health, safety, morals and the general welfare of the community.

of the County as a whole. Said Commission shall thereupon report its findings to the Board of Supervisors, together with its recommendations as to whether the application should be granted or should be denied. Such recommendations may be made on any of the conditions to be attached to an approval in order to accomplish the purposes of this ordinance. Said Planning Commission shall make its report to the Board of Supervisors within thirty days after receipt of the application from the Executive Secretary and failure of said Commission to report within that period shall be deemed to be approval. After its receipt of the report of the Planning Commission the Board of Supervisors may, in its discretion, according to law after which it may approve, conditionally approve, or deny the same.

SECTION V. APPLICATION FOR PERMIT. Every application filed under the provisions of this ordinance shall set forth all information as to the nature and location of the use of work covered by such application and shall be accompanied by a plot plan showing the location of the proposed use and of any building or other structure which is involved in the proposed use, together with the location of the property lines of the parcel of land on which such use is proposed to be established or such building or other structure is or is proposed to be located, and in relation to the lines of the right-of-way of any street or highway and to any existing or proposed building on the same parcel of land, together with such other information as may be required by the Planning Commission in order to enable said Commission to have all the information necessary to make a proper consideration of the application.

SECTION VI. FEES. Every application filed under the provisions of this ordinance shall be accompanied by a fee of $10.00 to defray the cost of advertising.

SECTION VII. NON-CONFORMING USES. Any building, structure or use existing at the time of the enactment of this ordinance may be continued even though such building, structure or use does not conform with the provisions of this ordinance.

SECTION VIII. ENFORCEMENT. The Executive Secretary of this Board is hereby designated as the Agent of this Board for the purpose of enforcement of the provisions of this ordinance and he is hereby vested with all the powers of this Board enacted in meeting and by resolution. Such powers shall authorize him to institute proceedings to enjoin any violation of this ordinance and he is hereby authorized to institute such proceedings in the name of the Board of Supervisors of Princess Anne County, Virginia. The Executive Secretary is authorized, in his discretion, to employ a technical advisor when in his judgment the same is necessary to determine whether the proposed construction, conversion, erection or placement is within the terms of this ordinance, with the right of appeal from the decision of the Executive Secretary, by any person, to the Planning Commission.

SECTION IX. PENALTIES. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, corporation, partnership or association to establish or maintain any use or to erect, construct, reconstruct, enlarge, alter or move any building, structure in violation of the provisions of this ordinance, or to do any of the aforesaid things except in full compliance with the terms of any permit issued under the provisions of this ordinance. Any person, firm, corporation, partnership or association who violates any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not exceeding $50.00 and each day upon which any such violation shall continue shall constitute a separate offense. In addition to any other remedies provided for in this ordinance, the Board of Supervisors may institute any appropriate action or proceedings to prevent the establishment, reconstruction, conversion, erection, enlargement, alteration or moving of any building or other structure, in violation of the provisions of this ordinance, to restrain, correct, or abate any violation of this ordinance, or to prevent the occupancy of any building, structure or land in violation of this ordinance.

SECTION X. An emergency existing, this ordinance shall take effect from its passage.

COUNTY OF PRINCESS ANNE TRAILER CAMP ORDINANCE.

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Supervisors of Princess Anne County, Virginia, will meet on Monday, the 23rd day of June, 1952, 10 a.m. at the Clerk's Office of said County, at which time the Board will be held in order to hear and consider the following proposed ordinance:

An Ordinance to regulate the establishment, construction, erection and operation of trailer camps within Princess Anne County, Virginia.

Section I. Definitions.
A. Trailer. Any vehicle used or constructed for use as a conveyance upon highways, so designed and constructed for the location of any trailer, a dwelling or sleeping place for one or more persons.
B. Trailer camp. Any site, lot, field, or tract of land upon which is located one or more trailers, or which is held out for the location of any trailer.
C. Person. Every natural person, firm, corporation, or association.

Section II. On and after the effective date of this ordinance, it shall be unlawful for any person to establish, construct, erect, or operate in Princess Anne County any trailer camp without first obtaining a permit as required in this ordinance and complying with all of the provisions of this ordinance and other duly enacted ordinances of Princess Anne County.

Section III. It shall be unlawful for any person to park any trailer used for human habitation on any street, alley, or lane, on other public place in the County.

Section IV. It shall be unlawful for any person to place, keep, or maintain for more than three (3) consecutive days any trailer used for human habitation upon any lot or parcel of land in the County, except in a trailer camp.

Section V. Any trailer camp shall be provided with a supply of pure and wholesome water and unless said trailer shall have a separate connection with a sanitary sewer, providing said trailer is located on a lot or parcel of land abutting on a street in which there is a public sewer, and if not, then said trailer shall be provided with a method of sewage disposal that conforms to the requirements of the State Board of Health for abutting on a public sewer.

Section VI. Permit for trailer camp.—required. It shall be unlawful for any person to establish, maintain, or operate in the County any trailer camp without first securing a permit from the County Public Health Officer and the County Public Health Officer shall issue such permits only after approval has been secured as set forth in this ordinance.

Section VII. Permit for trailer camps.—application. Any person desiring any such permit shall make application therefor in writing to the County Health Officer, furnishing copies of the said application to the Board of Supervisors and to the County Zoning Commission, stating the name and address of the applicant, a description of the property whereon or wherein it is proposed to conduct such camp, the proposed method of garbage and sewage disposal or removal, the plan for providing water and sewage disposal, and such other information as the County Public Health Officer may deem necessary.

Section VIII. Same.—investigation; report; issuance or refusal. Upon the filing of such application the County Public Health Officer shall investigate the premises whereon or wherein said trailer camp is to be located; the County Public Health Officer shall report to the Board of Supervisors and to the County Zoning Commission, with the provisions of this ordinance and other ordinances and laws of the State and the regulations of the State Board of Health relating to such; the Board of Supervisors shall direct the County Public Health Officer to grant or refuse such permit after determining under the applicable provisions of this ordinance if said permit should be issued or be refused.

Section IX. Same.—revocation. Any such permit may be transferred from one person to another upon written application of the holder thereof and with the consent of the County Public Health Officer.

Section X. Same.—action by County Planning Commission. Upon the filing of an application for a permit to establish, or operate a trailer camp, the County Zoning Commission shall review the findings of the County Zoning Commission and, if they deem necessary, hold a public hearing to determine the advisability of issuing a permit, the establishment and maintenance and operation of a trailer camp and shall communicate their decision to the County Public Health Officer and to the applicant for the permit.

Section XII. Location and drainage of trailer camps. Every trailer camp shall be located on a well drained area and the premises shall be properly graded so as to prevent the accumulation of storm or casual water.

Section XIII. Required space in trailer camps; arrangement of trailers. Every trailer camp shall be laid out with available space of not less than twenty feet by forty feet for each trailer. The trailers shall be arranged in rows abutting or facing on a drive way or unoccupied space of not less than thirty feet in width which drive way or space shall have unobstructed access to a public street or lane.

Section XIV. Water supply. An adequate supply of pure water for drinking and domestic purposes shall be supplied to meet the requirements of such trailer camp. Said water supply shall be obtained from faucets only, conveniently located on the premises, and no dipping vessels shall be permitted.

Section XV. Toilets. There shall be provided for each trailer camp, to be conveniently located on the premises, one water closet for each sex, in the ratio of one water closet for every eight males or fractional part thereof, one water closet for every eight females or fractional part thereof, living or sleeping in trailers parked on or in such trailer camp. Said water closets shall be distinctly marked "For Men" and "For Women," respectively.

The Health Department shall require to be paid a fee of $5.00 for the inspection of each septic tank installed in such trailer camp. Such fees are to be paid into the General County Fund of the County.

A record number of Virginia's farm youth was recognized last night by the highest honor conferred by State Associations of the Future Farmers of America.

SCOUT NEWS

Many thanks to the Virginia Beach Sun-News for making available this column to Princess Anne District, Boy Scouts of America.

Scouting in Princess Anne has increased steadily since the organization of Troop 60 at Virginia Beach in 1933. Growth had been slow through the years until the "Together Plan" under the leadership of Judge Kellam in 1950 organized four new units. Since then four more have been added. Today there are over 2,500 boys of Scouting age in our district, but only 469 of these are in Scouting. Since we know from surveys that four out of five boys want to be Scouts, we are forced to admit that 1,500 boys cannot join Scouting even though they want to become members! The reason for our lack of Scout units is lack of men. Of our four units organized under "Together Plan" only one is currently chartered. Many of our units have lapsed because the men in our county have not volunteered to help them. If you are interested in assisting the youth of Princess Anne, call Virginia Beach 937-J or Norfolk 56378.

The following units are now under organization: a Cub Pack at Scott Memorial Methodist Church; a Scout troop at the Fire Department in Port Story; an Air Squadron at the American Legion in Virginia Beach.

On Sunday, June 15, five boys from Princess Anne District left for Philmont, our huge Scout ranch in New Mexico, where they will spend seven days on horseback. Four of these boys, Luther Senter, H. Ronald Heddy, Leroy Senter, and Terry Parkerson, are from Troop 69. Jimmy Oglesby is from Troop 62.

Don't forget Camp Darden opens on June 22. If you are not already registered be sure to do so as quickly as possible. District Committee meeting of all adult Scouters on Thursday night, June 19, at Oceana Scout Cabin at 8:30 p. m., daylight saving time.

meeting in Blacksburg. The State Farmer Degree was conferred upon 150 outstanding Virginia FFA members at a session of the 26th annual convention of the Virginia FFA Association.

Award of a gold key of a State Farmer is limited to 2 per cent of State membership. Virginia has 7,731 active FFA members, over 1,000 attending the annual FFA "Rally" held on the campus at Virginia Tech.

As a group, the newly elected State Farmers received over $300,000 profit from their farming enterprises while in high school. Of this amount, over $150,000 has been invested in farming. The total number of self hours devoted to their enterprises by the State Farmers exceeds 250,000.

Feline Trouble

Beach residents who wondered what happened to their electric current Tuesday morning can blame it on a poor, unfortunate tomcat.

Officials of the Virginia Electric and Power Company explained the lack of power this way: A stray cat wandered into the power station equipment and shorted the circuit. The feline lost his life and beachites lost their electricity from 6:50 a. m. until 7:09 a. m.

Tax Specialist Hired By City

Collectors of Virginia Beach's special luxury taxes are required to maintain complete records and the city is employing a specialist, who will be authorized to inspect tax records of business firms in Virginia Beach.

A suggestion was made at Monday's Council meeting to employ a tax collector by Mayor P. F. Murray and the Council gave its immediate endorsement to the idea.

The action is being taken to insure that the city collects all tax monies due it. Officials were of the opinion that there was a degree of looseness in the collection of these taxes last year and with the addition of a tax collector it is felt that this condition will be corrected.

City fathers realize that it is imperative that all taxes be collected to finance the erosion project and advertising of the city.

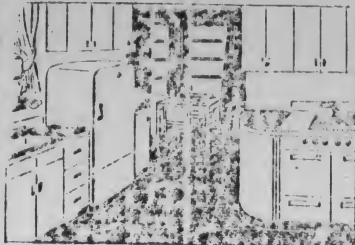

The luxury taxes include a 3 per cent tax on rooms and meals served in hotels, a 2 per cent tax on prepared foods, 3 cents per pack on cigarettes, and a 5 per cent amusement tax.

Virginia Weather

Good progress was made in cultivation of crops, harvesting of beans, and most other farm work during the week ending June 6, according to the weekly weather and crop report issued jointly by the U. S. Weather Bureau, County Agents of the Extension Service, and the Virginia Cooperative Crop Reporting Service. Growing crops in most sections of the State were making satisfactory growth, but rain was needed in southwestern and some southern and central counties.

Growth of corn in southern, southwestern and a few central counties was not as rapid as in other areas because of light rainfall.

FISHING

Thousands of game fish are caught annually in the Chesapeake Bay and in the James, the York, the Rappahannock and the Potomac Rivers, but by far the largest catches are pan fish varieties such as croaker, spot, trout, hogfish, rock bass, sea bass, bream, perch, flounder, and kingfish. Near Cape Charles, a great many drum and herring are caught each summer. Other good bay and river spots are Ocean View, Buckroe Beach, Hampton, Newport News, Old Point, Colonial Beach, Redsville, Yorktown, Urbana, Irvington, and Delaville.

MARIE RICHARDSON'S spacious new quarters for her ANTIQUES-DECORATING SHOP on Laskin Road is a clever example of what an imaginative, determined and clever woman could do to the old Wagon Wheel Building. She has made an early visit to this unusual structure where you'll find gifts of all types. Venetian blinds, modern and traditional furniture, lamps and interior decorating ideas with services in carpeting and wall papering. It's quite a place! MRS. RICHARDSON'S phenomenal success in five years marks her for the successful business woman's bracket at the Beach. A hobby, a decorating training course at William and Mary Extension School, a small lamp shop and now—Laskin Road's smart new establishment. Summer visitors best a path to MARIE RICHARDSON'S door, in appreciation of having found a big-time shop, outside you might say.

HARRELL'S PHARMACY has two locations which give "the cure for the sick" at the Beach. Visitors are most welcome. One is the HARRELL MAYFLOWER PHARMACY, in the new Mayflower apartments (there is also a large, air-conditioned HARRELL COFFEE SHOP adjoining) and the other is located in the Jefferson Hotel, corner Atlantic and 18th Street. WILLEY C. HARRELL, owner, is particularly proud of his pharmaceutical services with the original and old-fashioned idea that a drug store is a drug store for a fact! He maintains registered pharmacists at all times to give aid to the sick folks—and even vacationers like to know where their prescriptions are given. Of course, if you're in need of sun oils, lotions, cosmetics, beach accessories, magazines, gifts, souvenirs, cigarettes, candy, luncheonettes and T-shirts, you're at HARRELL'S. You'll find all the things you expect to find in an A-1 modern drugstore... at both HARRELL STORES.

THE VIRGINIA BEACH FISHING PIER, open day and night, 24 hours for fishing on the 912 foot pier. Beaches all along the pier seaward. Local and visiting "Isaac Waltons" have been pulling in trout, spots, flounders, roundheads, croakers and so on... with one fisherman hauling in 400 fish in one day's sitting! You may rent rods and reels, also purchase bait at the entrance to the VIRGINIA BEACH FISHING PIER. Snack bar close by. E. Lachman, manager.

TOBIN'S has long been a name at the Beach that means nationally advertised brands... complete lines of fashions in women's apparel, children's and infants' MARY TOBIN takes personal interest in selling to mothers and their tots together. It's fun to buy the TOBIN way. A specialty at TOBIN'S is a smart and complete Junior Line in those hard-to-find sizes 7-15, including Gay Gibson designs. Here, in air-conditioned comfort, they will help you select baby gifts, shower gifts and birthday remembrances, gift wrap them, too. If you have a Girl Scout in the family, MARY TOBIN stocks the official Camp Uniforms for $3.75, Girl Scout shorts, T-shirts, and crew hats along with the Brosie shorts and T-shirt. TOBIN'S is the official GIRL SCOUT UNIFORM AND ACCESSORIES HEADQUARTERS at the Beach... 2106 Atlantic Avenue, phone 180, Virginia Beach.

Hats designed especially for you is LOUISE MILBY'S special talent. Hats designed for your own individual hair-styling, hats made to match your suit (using your own material), last year's hats still good made over and hats just freshened up, all in the MILBY manner. The MILBY HAT SHOP is on the 5th floor of the New Hotel. Building, 254 Granby Street, Norfolk. Now is the time to contact this shop for your Fall bonnets! Smart little 1952 fall-styled peruke and cardigan velvet hats, with velvet bags to match, are June-June features. Beautiful hats for wedding attire and for the bride, looking hats for the mother-of-the-bride and, of course, lovely made-to-order bridal veils. Prices at this shop are surprisingly reasonable! Drop in and meet LOUISE MILBY. Her phone number is 55631. after noon time and her phone number is 55631.

COLONIAL READY-TO-WEAR, 308 17th Street, DOT MILLAR'S shop for women, featuring women's sizes as well as those for the men's sizes and dresses. Attractive summer cottons and sheers, beach togs, blouses and dresses, throw-on light-weight sweaters in summer colors and bathing suits and shorts. Sportswear at the COLONIAL READY-TO-WEAR has always been a fashion specialty. Summer visitors who have "left behind" lingerie articles or hose will find perfect substitutes here as well as unusually good buys in take-home gifts. This is a pleasant shop with comfy dressing rooms, with good personnel, just opposite the Virginia Beach station—nice and handy for last-minute shopping. Store hours, 9:30 A.M. to 7:00 P.M.

As clever as the name—RAGGED ROBIN BOOKSHOP—you'll find this bookshop just as cleverly stocked with the best and newest in books, the most unusual gifts plus an up-to-the-minute rental library. Owner, MARCIA COUPLAND takes a friendly interest in her customers and invites summer visitors to browse through the gifts and books, to make use of her rental library. It's located at 316 31st Street. Good books are wonderful Summer pals and knowing the location of a tie-top rental library is a boon to "the stranger in town." Whether it's a new mystery, historical, biography, sign-of-the-times or "how to" book you're after, you can bet the RAGGED ROBIN has it! Newest novels and gay books of humor. Hop on down to the RAGGED ROBIN, or phone 1234, and see for yourself what fun you'll have in MARCIA'S book and gift nook!

Visitors may come and go but HARRY'S corned beef and salami sandwiches go on forever. His succulent pastrami and corned beef are famous for years—remembered by folks who have been nation-wide seeking out good eating. HARRY ROSENBAUM'S DELICATESSEN is located on the South End of the Beach... Atlantic, near 16th Street, between 15th and 17th. HARRY ROSENBAUM'S DELICATESSEN will want to know about HARRY'S, which is a "Carry Out" food operation also. The best of dairy products, meats and cheeses, especially fine potato salad and fresh salad daily, made as only HARRY makes such mouth-watering delicacies. The best possible sandwiches you could dream up! The DELICATESSEN is air-conditioned with tables for friendly visiting for a snack-between-swims, or after the movies. Sunday is "Carry Out" day at HARRY'S... so when unexpected guests arrive just call on HARRY... Everyone's wild about HARRY'S!

Need we remind you to be sure your winter blankets, drapes and winter rugs are safely cleaned and stored away for the summer in COMPECO'S STORAGE VAULTS? How about the family's winter woolen garments—coats, suits, dresses, baby's snow suit, sweaters, furs and fur trimmings garments? If you have neglected to call COMPECO DRY CLEANERS, 1608 Atlantic Avenue—phone 6—please do so at once for their pick-up service. COMPECO is Virginia's largest cleaners and when your garments are in their storage vaults every article is thoroughly protected and insured against fire, theft or moth. Special attention by experts is given to your furs. Memo to summer visitors: COMPECO CLEANERS, Virginia Beach's quality cleaners, has an enviable reputation for many years of satisfactory dry cleaning with a professional training staff. When your winter garments return from these cleaners, you can be sure they will be clean, sweet-smelling and looking almost like new!

SUMMER VISITORS: There is a safely conducted merry-go-round at the NEW CASINO PARK, 15th and Atlantic Avenue, catering to families and children. Hobby horses go round from two to six in the afternoon till closing. Benches are provided for mothers and nurses who bring the tiniest tots. A refreshment stand closes. Alongside is the newly-conditioned MINIATURE GOLF COURSE. The prettiest hereabouts with summer plants and palm trees giving guests a touch to the ocean-side course. An excellent BATH HOUSE with rental of suits, all sizes, is on the ocean front. Courteous attendants in charge. MRS. HORACE BLUFORD, owner, offers a pleasant spot for Family Fun at the NEW CASINO PARK'S MERRY-GO-ROUND, MINIA GOLF COURSE and CASINO BATH HOUSE. MRS. BERTIE NORWALK, business manager.

..... Fashion, That Is!

By Alice Brewer White
(Fashion and Women's Director, WTAR)

Listen to the "Woman's World," 9-9:30 A.M., WTAR, June 23-28, for Mrs. White's fall fashion reports and interviews with leading Avenue designers in direct wire from the NBC Studios, Radio City.

Listen to the "Woman's World," WTAR, 9-9:30 A.M., Monday through Saturday next week. The fall season is all with us, the fall season. Let us behold!

There seems to be a luxurious air pervading all fall fashions since queens and royalty seem to intrigue the designers. Don't be surprised when you see casual clothes with important fabric, making a point of rich and elegant detail. Silhouette changes are so subtle that you'll have to look the second time for them. But they are there with fabulous ideas employed to give the silhouette that sleek-slim look while still carrying about tons of fabric. Some waistlines rise high, stressing the bosom, some drop low to stress the hips, with many wide and often wrapped waistline effects. Waistlines are no longer "nipped in" at the center, but delineated.

Those Elizabethan touches! Elizabethan necklines and bod-

MEMOS for Merry Matrons

Eleanor Roosevelt: Washes her own stockings, rides the subway, doesn't smoke, slips nothing stronger than wine, hates bribery, never uses cosmetics, loves to talk to strangers who speak to her because "she makes them think of their mother." A gentle woman with boundless energy, now almost 68, keeps interested in her five children, her 17 grand-children, in addition to her activities at the United Nations. Still writes her newspaper column, does a monthly page for a woman's magazine, makes many radio and television appearances, works 17 hours a day and most of it in behalf of her fellow man. When 80 she said, "Think! I'm over 80, which means I have only 15 years left for useful service." (We witnessed Mrs. Roosevelt wear a Home Demonstration Clubber's hand-made gown, as gracious and expertly as any Corset model on the runway during a Farm Week fashion show at Cornell University. A Merry Matron we like to remember!)

Furniture today—designwise—is as interesting as it is useful. Today's furniture is not French Provincial, it is not modern—it is Regency. At long last, 20th Century pattern is beginning to emerge. The modernists have consolidated many gains. New materials—plastics and metal—offer much needed serviceability. Aid simplicity of form and helps itself to the important trend toward coordination and multiple uses of basic designs in the living room, dining room and bedroom.

There is great interest in tables that do things. The dual-purpose functions of new tables such as drawers for storage, tray tops for serving, walls and shelves for magazines and books is increasing!

Have you seen the newest room dividers such as bookshelf units that can be stacked, or a china-type top which fits on a buffet with a drop desk unit for the living room side and drawers for (Continued on page 8)

Discriminating women of fashion for thirty-three years have confidently looked to FLORENCE WILSON for fashion-rightness as each season changes. FLORENCE WILSON'S smart fashions have been modeled in many charity benefit fashion shows presented by club women at the Beach. She enjoys the patronage of many fashionably smart Princess Anne-Virginia Beach women. Although MISS WILSON is now a resident of Virginia Beach, her shop is still located at 300 West Freemason Street, Norfolk, where free parking space is available to her customers. You'll find daily arrivals of new summer cottons, sheers and silk shantings... stunning mid-summer hats with brims. (To wear one of FLORENCE WILSON'S hats is a true mark of fashion distinction!) You'll find wonderful gift suggestions for your summertime week-end hosts in Home jewelry and Henri Bendel cosmetics as well as divine lingerie and delicately lovely blouses, the ultimate in loveliness. Hours at this shop are 9:30 till 5 daily. Phone: 25226, Norfolk.

IT'S FUN TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK

See "Let's Cook" every Monday through Friday at 1 P.M. on WTAR-TV

These warm days everybody is "eating off the shelf" to one degree or another. And I don't mean standing up to a breakfast bar or soda fountain counter. I mean planning menus from the provisions on the pantry shelf. There are late afternoons when you rush home from P. T. A. Red Cross, Canada party or maybe you've had a busy day cleaning house, anyway canned goods on the pantry shelf are a blessed convenience. From them you can whip up a dinner that finds favor among all members of the family.

The other day I found a new item and I'm sure you'll want to include it in your reserve groceries. Its canned South African lobster meat. It isn't expensive and I found I could do properly with a six-ounce can. Properly manipulated, four servings. Can you imagine that? Four delicious servings of rock lobster a la King. Here is:

- 1 can South African rock lobster
- 4 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2-3 can sliced mushrooms
- 2-3 can sliced green peas
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1-8 teaspoon pepper
- 1 cup milk
- 1-2 cup cream
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento

Drain rock lobster. Flake meat. Melt butter or margarine in sauce pan, add mushrooms and green peas, stir and cook over low heat for five minutes. Stir in flour and seasonings. Add milk and cream gradually when thickened beat in lemon juice. Add

GREEN THUMB

Jottings

How about mulberry leaves in a low copper bowl, spreading out fan fashion a-front of your fireplace for a soothing summer effect?

One carnation or one rose, lily or poppy from your garden, or a couple of sweet peas in a no more than six inch single container, at each guest's place at the luncheon table makes a most festive dining room table (in months when flowers are rare this is an especially economical idea). Any flower will please most people—and longer—if you clean it after each use, and oil and grease the working parts before each moving season begins. According to Better Homes and Gardens, your most important maintenance tool is a rake—used to rid your lawn of sticks, stones, toys, or clumps that ram between cutting edges and rack them out of line. Jam your mower repeatedly, and the blades only—only a part of their length—on the shear bed develop high and low spots. A reel mower, with blades that revolve inside a frame so they move against a cutting or "shear" blade, usually needs to be adjusted less often during the summer to keep it cutting easily and well. Most reel mowers have adjusting screws which raise and lower the front edge of the shear blade against the blades. Your mower will foot roll easily unless you keep it well lubricated at all times. Apply a light grease to gears in the wheels now and again later on during the mowing season. You should oil the wheel bearings, if your mower is fitted with them, when you grease the mower gears.

A fairly new and thoroughly exciting way to use flowers is (Continued on page 8)

flaked lobster and pimiento. Heat thoroughly but slowly. Add dash of Worcestershire sauce. If there is any doubt you will forget, put it in a double boiler to keep hot. Serve over toast rounds or in party shells.

I made some inquiries about these South African lobsters and found that they are caught in very cold, rough water off the Cape of Good Hope. As soon as they are fished out of the ocean, they are promptly processed in modern plants and, I understand, mostly American machinery is used under the strictest government supervision. The rock lobster is steamed right in the can. Isn't that interesting?

Here's a dessert you can make quickly, and is it good?

- Butterworth Cake Ring
- 1-4 cup butter or margarine
- 1-2 cup brown sugar
- 1-2 cup chopped nut meats (of your choice)
- 1 package yellow cake mix
- 1 cup whipping cream
- 1-2 teaspoons vanilla
- 1-2 cups crushed pineapple (drained)
- 1 cup pitted Bing cherries
- Grease 10-inch ring mold, break butter or margarine in tiny pieces and place in bottom of mold. Sprinkle brown sugar around evenly and the nut meats.
- Prepare cake mix as directed on package. Four in mold and bake at 350 degrees, 40 to 50 minutes. Turn out at once. Cool.

People, Places, Stuff & Things

Mordecai Stanislawski, stage manager of Lesley Savage's Theater-Go-Round productions, is a nephew surefoot of THE Stanislawski who revolutionized the acting art. Ingenue Joan Gray, "Peg" of next week's "Peg o' My Heart," with her director-hubby Jim Winslow, are the first Mr. and Mrs. team to play under the yellow and blue tent. Joan, by the way, is a "next-of-kin" protégée of Charles Chaplin's and the merry redhead had the lead, under Mary Connelly's direction, in the Broadway play "My Brother Who Could Talk to Horses!" Another Mr. and Mrs. team at the Beach, the E. C. Mansfields, are definitely polaroid camera fans this summer! 13-year-old Bill Brathwaite is no mix-match fashion fancier, with his "everything must clash" costume in the Eastern Shore Chapel parade contest. Mighty proud of his pen-and-pencil prize, Tiny Fontaine Syer, the first prize girl winner in orange ballet costume, ladylike as all get out, thought a romp on the stadium bleachers was much more fun!

Incidentally Miss Ruth Epperson, Eastern Shore Chapel general chairman of the Fair, gets our Hats Off for the week since the Fair itself was splendidly put on — for a first time event — with Karl Frischhorn's callopie and magic tricks. TV newsman Boyd Harrier's microphone and Auctioneer Traflet Robertson's fun, all adding a wallop where needed. The Eastern Shore Chapel ladies, in their gay old-time country women costumes, sitting under the multicolored beach parasols, were a pleasant vision as you entered the Oceana stadium. The Oceana Band, rigged up in blue jeans, bandanas and straw hats, with children all over the place, gave you a good feeling that, at last, here was an event for, and appealing to, children! Laugh of the day: Big, brown? (Continued on page 8)

Tobacco Study

Work on the Featherston location this year includes: a resistant variety test in which 12 leading varieties are used; a fertilization - spacing - fumigation test, to determine the response of a resistant variety to spacings of 14, 18, and 22 inches in the drill on two rates of fertilization; and a test to observe the type of growth and yield resistance of 48 different varieties, most of which are wilt or blackshank and wilt resistant.

The work is being inaugurated as the result of recently appropriated state funds to combat tobacco diseases, particularly the blackshank and wilt. It is under the direction of the plant pathology-physiology and agronomy departments at VPI.

LaPrade says farmers and agricultural workers are invited to visit the location at their convenience. Tentative plans are to hold a field day there about July 10.

In 1861, the Secession Convention met, and members of the Congress of the Confederacy in 1861 through 1862. There are many of the Virginia-born presidents in the Capitol building. This was the only statue to ever stand here.

Bluefish Captured At Gloucester Point

In the bluefish about to stage a comeback in Chesapeake Bay? This was the question asked by scientists at the Virginia Fisheries Laboratory last Friday when they caught a young specimen, about two and a half inches long, near the laboratory pier. The fish was caught by Doctor Flavin of the laboratory staff while reeling for young spot and croaker.

Very small bluefish have seldom been seen in Chesapeake Bay. Four specimens, averaging about a dozen of an inch in length, were taken at the mouth of the bay in 1930. Larger young about the size of the one just caught, have been taken in the ocean off the North Carolina coast.

Bluefish are believed to spawn in May or June, probably offshore. The young from the year's spawning move ashore in late May or June. Growth during the first summer is rapid, and in the fall the young probably move south to warmer waters.

Adult bluefish migrate in June schools. Their movements are very erratic and are probably controlled by hydrographic conditions, such as temperature. The poor catches of bluefish in Chesapeake Bay in recent years may have been caused by a change in the migration route of these important game fish.

Game Men Study M.D. Marshlands

In the effort to find methods of improving the marshlands of water of this marshland in the lower James River, game men are studying the marshlands of Virginia for waterfowl. The marshlands are being studied by game men from the Virginia Department of Game and Inland Fisheries. ## Care and Training of Dogs Requires Skill, Patience

These days the owner of a breed of racing greyhounds must be a clever business executive, a practical veterinarian, scientific breeder and experienced trainer. The handling of racing dogs has in the last ten or fifteen years developed into a business involving hundreds of thousands of dollars and spread clear across the nation.

It's nothing like the good old days. Then, when notice of a race meeting was relayed by word of mouth through the western states, a farmer would call in a few of the greyhounds running loose about his yard, put them on a solid meat diet for a couple of weeks and then load them in the back of a dilapidated touring car and head for the track. He raced dogs as a hobby, because there could be hope of making money from the meagre purses offered.

Today some breed owners own several hundred greyhounds of varying ages and have breeding establishments that cost up to $300,000 for land and equipment. One top greyhound recently earned more than $70,000 in purses and breeding fees during a period of three years.

Take Freddy Palermo as an example. He is one of the men now racing at the Cavalier Kennel Club, just across the Virginia State line at Moyock, N. C. A few years ago Freddy handled a half dozen dogs belonging to western breeders, on a loose arrangement. By wise manipulation of his wagering operations he was able to make ends meet. The dogs added enough to pay for their feed. Now Palermo has a large breeding farm in Mississippi, a handsome bungalow and modern permanent kennel at Miami, Florida, and three strings of greyhounds running for him at Cavalier, Portland, Ore., and Taunton, Mass. The value of the dogs alone probably run into something more than $100,000. Add to that the cost of kennels, trucks, cars and other equipment and Freddy qualifies as a big business executive.

The change in conditions among greyhound owners has resulted from recent increases in purse offerings by race tracks like Cavalier, where 700 greyhounds will earn approximately a quarter of a million dollars this summer.

Palermo, incidentally, just arrived with 20 dogs and hopes to wind up among the top purse winners before the meeting closes. Ten races are held each night at the Cavalier Kennel Club. The track is just a short drive from Norfolk and Portsmouth.

Jap Beetle Control Area Is Expanded

Seventeen Virginia counties have been added to the regulated area for control of the Japanese beetle.

U. S. Department of Agriculture officials point out that the entire state already is under federal quarantine. Regulated areas, however, are confined to those parts that are actually infested. Shipments of plants and soil from a regulated area must be examined or treated by a federal inspector before they can be certified for shipment.

Counties added to the regulated area include: Amelia, Cumberland, Fluvanna, Green, Lunenburg, Madison, Nelson, Nottoway, Shenandoah, and Wythe; all presently non-regulated portions of the counties of Amherst, Bedford, Henry, Page, Pulaski, and Roanoke; the city of Martinsville and the magisterial district of Ivy, in Albemarle County.

VPI Entomologist J. O. Rowell says the main damage from the Japanese beetle in Virginia is to the corn crop. Although the insects have been found mainly in northern Virginia and the eastern shore, Rowell expects them to show up in large numbers throughout the state where farmers have been trouble with them before.

He says a DDT spray will kill the adult beetles; while soil poisoning with chlordane and an application of milky spore disease should kill the grubs.

For wedding anniversary, sending the celebratory couple a bouquet that includes one blossom for each year of their married life. It's almost always best to send a ready-made arrangement of flowers or a flowering plant in preference to a box of cut flowers to a friend in the hospital. Remember, busy nurses have precious little time to find containers and do other little things that are necessary to making cut flowers attractive in the patient's room. By the way, for someone who is extremely ill, you should never choose flowers that are overly fragrant—and if the patient is inclined to be nervous, flowers in the quietest, palest shades are better than those of the brilliant colors! A nice gesture is to include an extra penny for the patient's nurse. If you're being a patient and are leaving the hospital, a proper expression of gratitude to the nurse who attended you is to send each of them a corsage!—A. B. W.

Fun to Cook

Whip cream, adding sugar and vanilla, until very thick. Fold in pineapple and ling cherries. Fill center of cake, then! You have a dessert that will please your guests—and you'll be very proud to serve.

Two favorites of the salad maker are in the food news this week. Both eggs and lettuce are abundant, in fact they are the U. S. Department of Agriculture's plentiful foods of the week in the southeast. Serve them often—when crisp green leaves of lettuce frame a cool, refreshing salad, appetites really wake up.

Egg production this June may be 2 to 4 per cent higher than a year ago. Prices are attractive, too. So buy an extra dozen eggs now, while supplies are heavy. Eggs are nutritious, healthful food. Eggs, when deviled, make an excellent addition for a buffet supper. They're so good.

Food for thought: Your hostess may say, "It is perfectly all right" when you are 30 minutes late for dinner, but it comes not from the heart. Next time you may not be invited.

Send me good daily newspaper thoroughly every day and can review of the news every morning. I'm sure you read that most-forgotten book and one current novel that everyone says, "You simply must read." Plan to use at least one really good fiction picture per month and a good story. Reading one of these comes by radio, if no other way—a monthly "must-read." Study the drama news and theater pages in Big Town papers to know what to see when you go out of town. With this routine, however, you'll have plenty of conversation pieces, other than the latest fashion chat—

Double Chin Tip: Mr. Bailey says, "Hold up your head; look the world in the eye." And that's right—walk tall, think tall, hold up your head, and it will develop into a chin-up habit in no time. Try to avoid the "dancer's hump" and definitely avoid chokers, scarves wrapped or tied about the neck, and elaborate neckties, many-strapped bowties, bulky fur collars about the face and above all, shawl hats that tend to down-droop in front or dip down in back. No fluffy ruffled collars. Do severe V-shaped necklines and neat collar tips at the back of the neck, single strands of beads longer than choker length, pearls in all shades for color allure. Do choose medium or short-haired fur hats with the up-swept tip and deeply trimmed, and when you buy a hat be sure you look at yourself in a full-length mirror from every angle, particularly the side-side. If you can't do something about your double-chin, after all this, then make it a part of your personality and appearance. Flash that smile, look happy and walk tall, head up—and "make like" a queen!

17-YEAR LOCUST CONTROL HAVE BEEN LISTED

Control recommendations for the 17-year cicada, commonly but incorrectly called the 17-year locust, have been listed by John Aiken, associate entomologist at VPI.

The unmistakable "humming" of the cicada is now being heard in many areas of Virginia, and the insect is busily riddling trees and shrubbery. Aiken said.

Tetraethyl pyrophosphate or hexaethyl tetraphosphate are effective in killing the cicada. Forty per cent tetraethyl pyrophosphate should be used at 4 ounces to 100 gallons of spray. The hexaethyl tetraphosphate (100 per cent) has been used at varying rates of 6 ounces to one pint per 100 gallons with good results at all dosages. Adding fungicides or other insecticides takes away the value of the phosphatic spray.

Study Completed On Ranges

The combination range, a relatively new cooking-heating device, seems a wise choice in homes with no central heating where it is necessary to provide individual room heat.

This fact is pointed out in a recently completed field study in which 205 Virginia families were queried as to the performance, advantages and disadvantages of their combination ranges.

Staff members in the department of agricultural engineering at VPI, who conducted the study, say if rural people were better acquainted with combination ranges their doubts would be many more of them in use today. Apparently only a limited number of rural families have seen or heard of this type of cooking equipment.

Requests for information on combination ranges have been received for several years. The purpose of the study was to obtain information from homeowners actually using this cooking equipment. Heretofore, the only information available was the material published by the manufacturers.

The combination range provides room and cooking heat from a wood, coal, oil, or gas fire during cold weather and cool-room cooking with electricity or gas in warm months. It is equipped to provide both oven and surface cooking heat from either fuel separately or from both fuels simultaneously.

Of the 205 homeowners taking part in the study, 190 said they were "completely satisfied" with their combination ranges. On the other hand, only five "completely dissatisfied" with this type range and would replace it with another. These women and homes were better suited to their needs. While combination ranges did not meet their own needs these women conceded they might be suitable for smaller families and kitchens. Eight homeowners appeared dissatisfied with some features of their ranges, yet they did not want to replace them.

Homemakers who want further information on the study should consult county home demonstration agents, home economics teachers, or home economists for electric power supply companies.

Phosphatic sprays are highly toxic to animals. Use much caution in handling them. Precautions are on the container in which the material comes.

COUNTY BOARD APPROVES $289,000 ROAD BUDGET

Building Permits Issued For Five Millions Work

Approval of a budget of $289,000 for the county's secondary road system was given by the Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors at their meeting on Monday.

The budget was prepared by Resident Engineer J. H. Miller, of the State Highway Department, and allows for $100,000 for maintenance, $90,000 for reconstruction, and $99,000 for new roads.

The budget would become effective July 1. It provides that after that date $1 million of bonds be issued for the Northampton Airport, between Routes 140 and 142, and $1 million for the transfer from the secondary road system to the primary system. A part of Route 140, from Route 142 to the old Northampton Airport administration building, would be transferred from the primary system to the secondary. The new bridge would be built at the intersection of Route 140 north of Crofts where the bridge is completed at the Ferry ferry.

The supervisors passed a resolution to require bids on the only $100,000 worth of State County Road bonds authorized in a recent referendum. Bids are to be requested of at least eight Virginia investment brokers and they are to be opened July 26.

The issue is to be retired in 1953 at the rate of $5,000 a year for the first 15 years and $6,000 a year for the last five years.

A delegation from East Ocean View complained to the supervisors about speed limit notices in Little Creek tract residences.

The supervisors were informed that a bill passed by the 1952 General Assembly made it unlawful for any person to operate a motor vehicle, except those used solely for racing, upon tidal waters, unless equipped with a muffler or silencer, exhaust, and a tail light.

Different interpretations have been placed upon the law, and the supervisors indicated they would welcome a test case to see what the law means.

The board approved purchase of a new photocopier machine for the recording of deeds in the clerk's court office. It was explained that the state would reimburse the county for the cost.

New Beach Telephone Directory On Monday

Delivery of the 1952-53 Virginia Beach Telephone Directory will start on Monday, June 30. This directory will exceed the 1951-52 volume by eight pages in the alphabetical section and by twenty pages in the classified (yellow) section. For comparative purposes, it is interesting to note that the 1947 Virginia Beach telephone directory contained 19 pages of alphabetical and 40 pages of classified listings.

Volume of listings will have 35 pages of alphabetical and 132 pages of classified listings.

Percentagewise the latest directory will have approximately 84 per cent more alphabetical listings than its 1947 counterpart and a classified section some 203 per cent greater in size. Such data justify conclusively the introduction of a separate Virginia Beach telephone directory. They also offer further evidence, if such is needed, that this city is really on the way.

Small Farms Appeal to City Folks

Appeal of the part-time farm is still strong to city workers, it was indicated this week by the 33rd periodic survey of the real estate market by the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Volume of sales of part-time farms was listed at last year's level or higher in more than three of every four areas reported in the survey, which covered 251 communities representative of all geographic regions and urban areas.

The trend toward part-time farming by the city population was emphasized also by the return received from metropolitan areas with a million population or more. Three-fourths of those showed that farm sales were higher than a year ago, and the remainder said they were the same. This finding was in line

Alpha Phi Meets At Cavalier Hotel

More than 300 student and alumnae representatives of colleges and universities throughout the United States and Canada opened the thirty-third biennial convention of Alpha Phi International Fraternity of College Women today at the Hotel Cavalier.

Alumnae chapters of all leading women's fraternities in Norfolk and nearby areas have been invited to send representatives to the opening Luncheon Banquet tonight, 6:30 p. m., when Edward G. Kemper, Jr., of the Federal Bureau of Investigation will speak. Mrs. Ralph Stone Smith, Virginia Beach, is hostess arrangement for the Virginia dinner at 1:00 o'clock, Sunday. She is being assisted by Mrs. John Gordon, Mrs. Karl Louthier, and Mrs. E. W. Adams, all of Norfolk, and Mrs. August Swanson, of Virginia Beach.

Many activities have been planned for guests of the five-day convention. Among them are a lunch supper and song fest, surprise party, performances by the convention choir, two formal banquets and a trip to Williamsburg. A memorial service will be conducted on Sunday from 9 to 10 by the Rev. Edmund Berkeley, the pastor of Calvary Episcopal Church, in the Cavalier garden. Supper at luncheon and dinner each day will be arranged by chapters in the fraternity district, including Norfolk College chapter, Miami Alumnae club, University of Alabama chapter, Alabama Alumnae chapter, Virginia Alumnae chapter, Duke University.

New 'Get Tough' Traffic Laws Go Into Effect in Virginia Saturday

TRUCK SPEEDS DOWN, AUTOS LIPPED; LITTERING OF HIGHWAYS HIT HARD

Virginia's new highway laws will become effective on Saturday.

Probably history-making in its impact is the new law which for the first time gives the State Highway Commission the authority to construct toll turnpikes. Previously, special laws have authorized the road agency to construct toll bridges, but no other law has allowed the State to build toll roads. The law gives the Highway Commission the right to issue revenue bonds "for the construction of modern express or superhighways" as toll roads.

Speed limits for trucks will be decreased five miles per hour; and the limit for automobiles raised five miles per hour. The new limits will be 45 for trucks and 55 for automobiles.

The 1952 General Assembly had enforcement of the new speed laws in mind when the legislators authorized an increase in the State police force and provided for additional penalties.

A mandatory 60-day suspension of driver's license was made for the second offense of speeding within 15 months, with a 10-day suspension for a 10-day period for the first offense. The suspension of license applies in zones of 45 miles per hour or more.

The law against dumping trash on public highways will be strengthened after Saturday. The old law makes it a misdemeanor, punishable by a heavy fine and/or a jail sentence, to dump trash along the highways. The amended law makes it also a misdemeanor to throw or leave a bottle, can or other substance on the highways. The legislation further requires any wrecker or any one moving a wrecked vehicle to remove any glass or other debris at the scene of the accident from the highway.

Cities and towns will benefit under an amendment which now allows the municipalities to use those State funds previously reserved for maintenance to pay debts incurred for street construction.

The chief engineer of the State Highway Department will become "deputy commissioner" so that he may act for the commissioner in his absence or when delegated to do so.

The procedure for construction or relocation of railroad underpasses and overpasses at grade crossings was simplified. No limit was placed on the cost that either the State Highway Department or the railroad will bear. Where agreements cannot be reached, the dispute is to be referred for settlement to the State Corporation Commission.

Another law gives the Board of Supervisors of the respective counties the authority to install and maintain lights on streets and highways. The previous legislation confined this privilege to counties adjoining a city with a population of 25,000 or more.

The new laws will become effective at midnight June 26. Highway engineers said the new speed limits will be posted as rapidly as possible after that time.

MUSIC, COLOR, SPECTACLE TO FEATURE DANCE

A gala parade down Atlantic Avenue will set the pace for the Rescue Squad Dance to follow on Monday night. Flags which are displayed on Atlantic Avenue have been loaned by the Twenty-first Merchant's Association.

The parade will assemble at 11th Street and Atlantic Avenue at 1:30 p. m., proceeding north to the Cavalier Hotel. Individuals and organizations participating in the parade include Shirley Pender Brown, Majorie Corp., Creeds High School Band, N.A.S. Ocean Ground Forces, Drum and Bugle Corps from Fort Eustis, Miniature Ferry of the modern diesel Norfolk County Ferries, Norfolk Naval Yard boat fleet, Virginia Beach Coast Guard Life Boat Station, Duke and Surf Boat, Color Guard from Fort Story, company of three hundred men from Fort Story, six amphibian trucks from Fort Story, Dr. Carl Frischman's calico, which will be played by Mrs. D. Murray Malbon, a member of the Junior Woman's Club, North Beach Patrol, South Beach Patrol, and the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Rescue Squad, Inc., ambulance and float.

Adding a "clean sweep" to the parade will be members of the Junior Woman's Club who will sweep the streets with brooms, symbolic of the fact that they hope the Monday night dance will curtail the financial obligations of the squad.

An "animal fair" will also be a feature of the parade with twelve members of the club dressing as animals.

Dance to Benefit Palsy Victims

A benefit dance for the Tidewater Cerebral Palsy Center and the Norfolk Dental Clinic is being sponsored by the Junior League of Norfolk tomorrow night at the Surf Beach and Cabana Club. Dancing, which begins at 9 p. m., will be to the tune of Larry Clinton and his orchestra. Mrs. Robert Wainwright is general chairman of the dance, assisted by Mrs. William Hunkitt. Chairmen of committees include: Mrs. Douglas Hubbard, tickets; Mrs. David Dashiell and Mrs. T. N. P. Johnson, posters; and Mrs. Stuart Baldwin, publicity.

Admission is five dollars per couple, and tickets may be purchased from any member of the Junior League or at the door. According to Mrs. Wainwright, attire for the evening is semi-formal.

She also expressed appreciation to the personnel of the Surf Beach and Cabana Club for donating the club and also to Larry Clinton and his orchestra for their services. Mrs. Wainwright stressed the fact that not only would all who attend have a good time, but they would also be helping a very worthwhile cause.

District Picks Robeson At Old Point Meeting

SENATOR BYRD ENDORSED

Representative E. J. Robeson, Jr., Newport News, was unanimously nominated to succeed himself by delegates to the first district Democratic convention held Tuesday at the Chamberlain Hotel, Old Point Comfort.

At the same time the convention endorsed the candidacy of Senator Harry Flood Byrd in the July 15 primary. The resolution endorsing Byrd received only one dissenting voice when William Hale Thompson, Negro attorney of Newport News, assailed the resolution as contrary to the purpose of the convention.

In nominating Robeson for another term the delegates voted complete approval to the retired Newport News business man. There were no other nominations and Robeson was declared nominated on the first ballot.

It became evident soon after the convention was called to order in the Virginia Room of the Hotel Chamberlain that Robeson's nomination was a cut and dried affair. The various delegations, including a 45-man unit from Princess Anne County, indicated they were just as much interested in the July 15 senatorial primary. Praised Byrd

Crockett, who serves in the House of Delegates from York, drew applause in his keynote address when he praised Byrd as a Senator who has "exercised conspicuous leadership." He charged that opposition to Byrd's reelection is led by:

"A candidate and a political machine whose entire campaign

gram of mudslinging, innuendo, invective and bilinguism, and which has advanced not one single constructive Democratic proposal."

Robeson's stand for Byrd came as he addressed the convention after being nominated by acclamation. The motion to make him the party nominee by acclamation came from William A. Wright, of Tappahannock, who opposed him in the primary two years ago.

Robeson told the convention delegates he intended to follow only the time-honored tradition of integrity and honor established by Virginia's delegation to Congress.

Traffic Imperils Children's Safety

"Many hundreds of children are killed or injured each year because they run into the street in front of approaching cars, according to national figures," Sgt. F. W. Struncius, of the Virginia Beach Police Department, announced today.

"Child exposure to traffic accidents increases in mild weather when children are playing ball and other games outdoors. These summer days many of Virginia Beach's children are playing near the streets," said the sergeant, reminding motorists always to be alert for children dashing into the street.

"Motorists should travel at slow speed in areas where children are playing because a child may dash into the street at any moment," said Struncius.

The police sergeant also urged parents to impress their children with the danger of running into the street. To prevent children from chasing a lost ball into the street, he suggested that parents keep an extra ball at home so that they can replace a lost one immediately.

"Caution on the part of motorists, when driving near playing children, and reminding of children to play away from the streets by their parents will help make Virginia Beach a safe place for children," Struncius, who is Virginia Beach representative for the National Parent-Teacher Protection Council, announced in the American Automobile Association.

What Makes Doggie Run?

"What Makes Doggie Run" could be the title of an interesting volume of canine lore — interesting, that is, to greyhound racing fans who nightly congregate to study the improvement of the breed at the Cavalier Kennel Club, across the Virginia line at Moyock, N. C. — questioned closely, kennel men and racing officials would come up with a wide variety of answers to the problem. Instinct, of course, is the basic reason why greyhounds like to run. A zest for the chase has been bred into these animals over a period of some 1,000 years. It's about the only thing they know or care about.

But what makes a good greyhound run fast in the tenth race at Cavalier Tuesday night were top dogs last winter, yet this summer they have either been unready for first class competition or unable to compete on even terms with the same sort of dogs they outfought handily a few weeks ago. Blitzenian, one of the best animals in the Blackwell Kennel, and Anyway, from the Earl Baxter string, are the dogs referred to. Both were of such good class last winter they competed in the Hollywood Derby, biggest race of the season at the Hollywood Kennel Club. Anyway, late to get into condition, ran a dismal race in Grade 2 her first time out, and Blitzenian, after seven attempts, has yet to win a race.

On the other hand some of the best performers at Cavalier this summer were very ordinary greyhounds while in Florida. It is the change in climate, difference in furs, starting boxes or the footing? Nobody knows for certain. The uncertainty of year-to-year performance may perhaps be one of the intriguing factors in greyhound racing. At any rate, Cavalier is crowded every weekday evening with men and women who believe they have the secret of forecasting the result of dog races. Ten times a night they choke the mutual windows trying to get tickets on their selections. Sometimes they're right—sometimes wrong, but right or wrong they always have fun, and that's why the dog track is so popular these hot evenings.

Darden Chairman of Princess Anne Fair

James Darden, president of the Princess Anne Ruritan Club, has been elected chairman of the Princess Anne County Fair to be held in early September, it has been announced.

Serving as co-chairman will be Mrs. Fred S. Perkins, president of the Princess Anne Woman's Club. The two clubs are serving as co-sponsors for the popular event.

Other officers named at a meeting this week were Mrs. Harold B. Kelam, secretary, and R. E. Thompson, treasurer.

Norfolk-Virginia Beach Chapter Of Soroptomists Install New Officers

The installation of 1952-53 officers of the Norfolk-Virginia Beach Soroptomist Club was held at the social meeting Monday evening, June 23, at the cottage of Agnes Birch on 65th Street.

The following officers were installed:

Louise Hale, president; Fran Woolf, vice-president; Esther Pious, secretary; Mildred Edwards, corresponding secretary; Thelma Walsh, treasurer; Agnes Birch, parliamentarian; Ida Jordan, a new board member, was also installed.

After the business meeting, the group enjoyed a social hour and a boxed supper. The meeting was the last of the club's schedule until fall.

Job's Daughters Return From Convention

Thirty-one members of Bethel No. 17, International Order of Job's Daughters, have returned to Virginia Beach after attending the recent Grand Council at Natural Bridge, Va. Chaperones included Mrs. Loyce Fentress, Mr. and Mrs. George Aldridge, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Savage, Mrs. Ferpha Hatcom, Mrs. Annie McGregory, Mrs. Letha Fondran, Mrs. Carl Ann, Mrs. Maurice McKenney and Mrs. Lucy Saunders.

The word "girl" appears twice in the King James version of the Bible.

Stocks and Midgets Both Race at Speedway

T his Friday night brings together Tidewater's leading stock cars and Virginia's leading midget racers in the first twin bill of its kind in Virginia's racing history, when the Virginia Beach Speedway promoters turn on the lights at the Boulevard track.

Last week thrills for the fans started early, only fifteen minutes after time trials had started, to be exact. Andy Scott turned his number "11" over, coming out of the last turn into the home stretch, and flipped three times before coming to rest in front of the grandstand. Shortly after Scott turned turtle, Ken Remy turned over at the same place on the "straight-away" and slid across the finish line on his side, to place fourth in the first heat.

Minor cracks marred the entire evening for the drivers, but kept the fans on their feet as eight cars in all were wrecked before the night's racing was completed.

Last week's winner, Dick Given, will find the going rougher this Friday, as some of the faster cars had dropped out long before the feature ever started. This week, he may not be so lucky.

When the midgets take their turn on the track, the fans will see two of Virginia's top midget stars, Charles

Kempville News

KEMPVILLE SENIOR 4-H CLUB OFFICERS ATTEND STATE SHORT COURSE

Kempville Senior 4-H Club is again well represented at the 29th annual Short Course, held at Virginia Polytechnic Institute in Blacksburg this week. Officers attending from the club are Shirley Humphries, president; Ivar Pisk, vice-president; Margaret Fentress, secretary; Steve Squires, treasurer; Patricia Saunders, reporter; Carolyn Norfleet, recreational leader; David Stewart, outstanding club member.

B & P Women Elect Officers

Mrs. Virginia Holland was elected to a second term as president of the Princess Anne Business and Professional Women's Club. Mrs. Holland led the club in receiving several awards at the Virginia Federation convention held recently in Roanoke. The awards: National State Achievement award for attaining an increase of over 20 per cent in membership; State Stabilization award; National Sponsoring citation for the organization of a club.

At the convention in Roanoke, Mrs. Holland was appointed state chairman of radio and television for the ensuing year. Other officers for the local club are: First vice-president, Mrs. Nancy Strickler; second vice-president, Mrs. Elizabeth Heneghan; recording secretary, Miss Frances Brillhart; treasurer, Mrs. Edna Kistebeth Hodges; parliamentarian, Mrs. Agnes Johnson.

Mrs. Holland has appointed the following committee chairmen:

Zimmerman, leading point man in the midget standings, and Bill Williams, runnerup. Zimmerman is from Jarrett, Va., and Williams from Richmond.

FORMER ASSISTANT COUNTY AGENT JACK W. BROTHERS RECEIVES TOWN FROM 4-H

The 4-H members of Kempville Senior Club presented Jack W. Brothers, former assistant farm agent of Princess Anne County, a pair of bronze 4-H bookends at their last meeting as a symbol of their appreciation of the many services and valuable assistance he has given them. Mr. Brothers served as assistant farm agent of Anne County farm agent for the past 31-2 years and submitted his resignation in order to go into the florist business at Virginia Beach.

Members of the club attribute much of their success in the carrying out of club and recreational projects to the assistance and advice of Mr. Brothers. Miss Jane Craig, home demonstration agent, and H. W. Oglin, county farm agent; Mrs. Louise C. Lee, club sponsor; and Mrs. R. F. Humphries club leader.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Whitney Sure "Rang the Bell"

Telephone woke me out of a sound sleep last Friday about eleven-thirty. "This is Whitney Fisher out on River Road," says a voice. "I just wanted to tell you how much I like this week's Clarion."

"Thanks, Whitney," I told him. "But why in blazes call to tell me at this time of night?" "Simple," he says, "your paper boy just delivered it a short while ago. Been waiting for it all evening."

Next day, Buxy Wilson tells me he delivered Whitney's paper late because he stayed for the school dance and thought it would be OK to drop it off on his way home. From where I sit, I can't blame Whitney for his joke. He was just reminding me we owe other people the same respect we expect from them. Since I'm always talking about respecting the other fellow's rights—including his right to enjoy a glass of beer if he chooses, it was only fair that Whitney should "wake me up" to his right to get his copy of the Clarion on time. Thanks again, Whitney!

THE TAX INCREASE

The action of the City Council at a special meeting this week in which that body approved on first reading an increase in the real estate tax by one dollar per $100 valuation is a step that was inevitable and one that should meet the approval of all. It will now place the real estate tax at $4.75 per $100 valuation in place of the present $3.75.

As pointed out by Council, the expanded school building program makes the increase a necessity and the increased cost of operating the city school system. The building, equipping and operation of the new high school is also a major factor in the increase, but is to be expected in a progressive educational program.

It is interesting to note the city's first budget as a city which reaches the modest total of $1,286,000. That is not a large budget for a community of Virginia Beach's complexities and potential problems. Virginia Beach has always operated on a comparatively small annual budget and the new one as a city is in keeping with those of the past.

The tax increase will receive a public hearing before final passage but there should be little or no opposition to the tax hike since it was anticipated with the construction of new school facilities. Its enactment will help the young city to continue its march of progress.

"FOLLOW THE GLOOM"

(Reprinted from The Providence Journal)
 "Strangely enough, Mrs. (Francis Pickens) Miller's most widely known literary effort is a Methodist hymn, 'Follow the Gloom,' which she wrote during her college days."

—The Sunday Star, June 14, 1952.

We assume that the title given the above-mentioned hymn is due to a prophetic error by the typist. However we are convinced that Mrs. Miller has been following "the Gloom" ever since she married the candidate for the Democratic Senatorial nomination, while both were students in England. Indeed, we feel that the title would make an ideal slogan for the supporters of Francis Pickens Miller in his race against Harry Byrd—"Follow the Gloom."

"Mr. Miller is certainly making 'gloom' the keynote of his campaign. He paints a gloomy picture of Virginia under Byrd's leadership; he paints a gloomy picture of the future of the United States if Byrd is returned to the Senate; and he paints a gloomy picture of world catastrophe if Byrd has a voice in future international policy."

"The future of America and of the world does indeed look gloomy—but Senator Byrd cannot be blamed for it, since his voice has been ignored by the National Administration during the past twenty years. The picture in Virginia, on the other hand, has been quite bright—and that is about the only place where Senator Byrd's advice has been followed."

The national and international policies of the National Administration have had the support of Mr. Miller. We can assume, therefore, that had he sat in the seats of power, he would have done just what has been done—with the resulting disastrous effect. During these years the world, as we knew it, has been wrecked; England and America have been eched out of their all-powerful position, and now are beset by the mongrel hordes of Eurasia; and our national substance is being devoted largely to erect defenses against the threatened disaster.

There used to be an old American saying, "The proof of the pudding is the eating." True, Mr. Miller didn't cook the menu that has been set before us—but he approved the menu, and has highly praised the cooks.

Those who wish may "Follow the Gloom," but as for us, we shall remain loyal to the man who has maintained one bright spot in a troubled world.

DALE CARNEGIE

CONQUER THE WORRY HABIT

Finley McDowell, Niagara Falls, Ont., says that during 18 years as a goatherder his first 11 years were filled with worry and fear. First, he would worry over the possibilities of injury of which he had received his share. He had seen many of the back players hurt seriously by high kicks, sharp stabs, flying pucks, and above all uncalculated body checks. Many of the players had received injuries for life. He would lie in bed at night worrying over the outcome of a game which he had to play the following night. When game time arrived, he would be so tired and nervous from worrying, and his initiative to play the game that was expected of him would be almost nil in two. Consequently, due to fear and worry, he had many a game, the reason for which only he knew.

Suddenly there came an all-important playoff game and at all games were discussed between player and coach, he had heard from round-the-horn circles that he was neither coach nor player's choice to play this game and he had accepted the inevitable, but when the time came to board the bus which was to take the team to its destination he found that he was the only goatherder aboard. That meant that he was going to play. He resolved to do the best he could and not worry. The game he played that night will live long in his memory. He won "three" and the game he had given his best, and from

District Picks

"I am sorry to find our senior Senator—a man who in my opinion could be elected President if the Democratic National Convention would choose him—the victim of demagoguery and vilification," he said.

Robeson said he believed in the sovereignty of the states, the right of the individual and the right of property ownership. He said Virginians hold these things dear, and he hoped the State delegation to the House of Representatives and the United States Senate would be returned intact to continue its leadership for such ideals.

Prince Albert of England composed songs, church music and an opera.

TROUBLES OF A COON HUNTER

GARDEN GAB

Fancies from Seed

The arrival of our favorite pansy seed catalogues reminds us that it is time to tell you how easy it is to grow pansies from seed. For the little extra trouble involved you will be repaid with the loveliest ones you've ever had.

We order our seed from pansy specialists because they have a wide assortment of the fancy varieties, and because we want to be sure we are getting fresh seed. Pansy seed should be kept under mild refrigeration until you are ready to plant it. Seed may be planted between the first of July and the middle of September. We plant ours in August.

In preparing your seed bed, start with a layer of manure or fine gravel for drainage. On this layer put a mixture of equal parts of garden loam, peatmoss or leaf mold, and vermiculite or sand. Level the surface and water it thoroughly. Sow the seed on a layer 1-4 inch deep of vermiculite.

Treat seed with copper oxide or Semesan. Plant seed sparingly in rows two inches apart. Cover by sifting on 1-8 inch of peatmoss and compost. You should be able to see a few uncovered seeds. Gently press down the surface with a block of wood, and water lightly. Cover with coarse burlap, which may be placed directly on the ground. Water carefully, keeping the soil damp but not soaked. Seedlings should begin to appear in about 10 days. After they have come up generally over the surface, remove the burlap and sift on 1-4 inch of peatmoss. If damping off should occur, water ter with Semesan solution. We continue to shade ours from the mid-day sun until they have produced the second set of leaves. Thin the seedlings at this time so plants will be compact. Leaving them crowded without sufficient room to grow will cause plants to be spindly and difficult to transplant.

Pansies are usually ready to transplant in five or six weeks, when they have at least six of their true oval and notched leaves. Set plants out at least eight inches apart. Put a trowelful of peatmoss and a spoonful of bone-meal in the bottom of each hole. Take as much soil as possible with the roots when you lift plants, and set them a little deeper than they grew in the seed bed. Fill around plants with soil and gently press down.

Spread leafmold or peatmoss over the surface as a mulch. Water well in dry or hot weather. When further watering is necessary, do so in the morning so the roots will have the benefit of the cooling effect of evaporation during the day.

Pansies bloom in about 12 weeks from the time they are sown. Pick branches as well as blooms occasioned, so in the morning so the roots will have the benefit of the cooling effect of evaporation during the day.

Across the Desk

The West Carroll Gazette, Oak Grove, La., took its readers to task in a recent editorial for lack of courtesy to the flag. The editorial seems to have been written by a man who is not a native Englishman, but who is a native of the South. The editorial is a particularly malicious one, and it is a pity that it was published in a newspaper of the South. The editorial is a particularly malicious one, and it is a pity that it was published in a newspaper of the South.

From the Herington Advertiser-Times, Herington, Kansas: "American progress is due to the fact that by and large, every American has been able to work at the thing he wants to do for himself. Certainly there have been inequalities and injustices from time to time, which have required correction. But the same spirit of freedom which gives every man his economic chance has also devised ways and means of correcting whatever abuses have arisen."

From The Telegraph, Brownsville, Pa.: "Planned slavery is dependent on voluntary self-control, on human intelligence and integrity, on an inward energy. Our nation has widely within ourselves. It cannot be gained or guaranteed by 'enforceable laws,' statute books, a constitution, a commandments or any of the rest of the paraphernalia of external controls."

Memory Jiggers

On Home Fire Safety

With vacation time now upon us the Statewide Fire Safety Committee of the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce has issued a few "memory jiggers" on how to have a "fire-safe home away from home."

That is the second theme in a series of three devoted to help persons save not only their own lives, but the lives of others as well, as they join thousands who will through the beaches, the mountains, hotels and resorts.

One of the reminders is "remember to use your ash trays as you travel the highways—a discarded smoke may mean a major forest or roadside fire."

And use every precaution with the picnic and camp fires, the committee warns. Also, remember the common sense rules about swimming.

The safety group also added a few tips for hotel guests, as outlined by the National Board of Fire Underwriters. They are:

1. On arriving at the hotel, investigate all possible means of emergency exit.
2. Read carefully any instructions to guests posted in the room.
3. Do not smoke in bed.
4. If you detect smoke or fire, give immediate information to the management.
5. Close transom door at once.
6. Take time to plan your exit.
7. Feel the door before you open it. If it does not feel hot, open it slightly. Hold head away. Brace door with foot. Put hand across opening to test heat or air.
8. If hallway appears safe, use the already planned exit.
9. If hallway is not safe, stop up any openings or cracks which smoke may enter, using wet towels, sheets, blankets, mattresses, etc.
10. Open window slightly and stay near it. Keep calm, avoid hysteria. Do not jump out. Many lives have been saved by closing doors and transoms, blocking all openings for hot air and gases from hallway, and calmly awaiting rescue.

Bath County Deer Range Is Damaged

Upon his return from an inspection tour of Bath County deer range, I. T. Quinn, executive director of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries, reported that the range is badly damaged from the overbreeding of too many deer.

Quinn cited two widely separated localities, Wilson Creek in the southern part of the county and Back Creek in the western part, where the range is heavily overbred. This was especially true on the Wilson Creek area, which makes up a goodly part of Bath County's deer country, where trees and shrubs are so heavily browsed that the area resembles that of a park. Wilson Creek is the area in which a great number of deer have been found dead.

According to game technicians and U. S. Forest Service personnel, the deer here are in a poor and emaciated condition. One hunter described the deer in the Wilson Creek area as "so poor that he could hang his hat on their hips." Quinn related that post-mortems performed on dead deer which were not yet decomposed showed practically all stomachs empty.

WHEN YOU TRY POWER STEERING...
HERE'S WHERE TO COME FIRST!

You've heard about it and read about it. Now, if you haven't felt what Power Steering does for you, we invite you to try it first in a Chrysler New Yorker... where you will find full-time (not partial) Power Steering! What happens is this...
You handle the steering wheel in normal fashion. But 4/5 of all the work is done for you by hydraulic power, constantly at your command. Also, you turn the wheel 1/3 less distance now for every maneuver... the feeling you get of utter control is as wonderful as it is new.
Even at a standstill you can turn the wheel easily. Now, parking is a whole lot of trouble (and fatigue!)... and you can negotiate traffic, awkward drives, and garage doors precisely and with ease.
You can double the longest day's drive you've ever known... and up free from arm and shoulder strain. Rough roads, soft shoulders, snow, mud?... the power that helps you steer now prevents the car's wheels from "steering back" at you. The course you set is held, at any speed, till you want it changed. Yet, with this 3-times greater control, "wheel feel" is always the same.

Why not come try it? Learn for yourself why growing thousands of motorists say they'll never be without Full-time Power Steering from now on. Drive a Chrysler... and learn the Difference!

"Common Glory" Opens July 1st With Many Changes In Script

Virginia's own great historical drama, "The Common Glory," will open for its sixth consecutive season at the beautiful Lake Monacan Amphitheatre in Williamsburg on July 1. Many changes in script, costumes and cast, it was announced last week by Allen R. Matthews, executive vice-president of the Jamestown Corporation.

Seasons during this season, which will run from July 1 through August 31, the drama will draw its 300,000th member of the audience and during the past six years has shown from every state in the nation and many countries of the world.

There are over 150 persons in this year's production, and during the past six years has shown from every state in the nation and many countries of the world.

chair that has been widely hailed for its stirring music.

The program, called a symphonic drama because it employs virtually all forms of the theatre, including music, dance, pantomime, lights, folk songs and poetry, chorus voices and acting, vividly tells the story of the founding of free America. It covers the Revolutionary years from 1774 to 1781. America's heroes of the past who have a major part in the story are Thomas Jefferson, George Washington, George Wythe, Benjamin Franklin, Patrick Henry, John Q. Adams and Roger Sherman.

Taft, an ex-President, swore Herbert Hoover into office as President.

Lewis M. Warren In Chemical Warfare

Among the men to report for a course of instruction in Chemical Warfare was Lewis M. Warren, attorney and partner, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Warren and husband of the former Miss Esther Smith, all of Route 1, Box 77, Ivor, Va.

Warren, who entered the Navy in August, 1951, and received his recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill., is a former employee of H. P. Smith and Sons of Cortland.

The course gives students information in the use of shipboard chemical defense equipment.

Upon completion of the course, the students return to their original commands, either on board ship or shore installations.

Landlords Are Advised to Flood Rent Ordinance

Mayor F. P. Murray has issued advice to those landlords renting out or more rooms that they should get their information on the 3 per cent tax on rooms and tenements to avoid penalties.

Mayor Murray stated that it was important that the tax be collected from guests and that operators have their records in order to avoid penalties by the special tax inspector of the city.

Full particulars are available at the city hall, the mayor stated.

Music Scholarships Awarded by W. & M.

The College of William and Mary-VPI in Norfolk announced the establishment of two new music scholarships for the coming school year. These scholarships, which are for $100 each, are made available through the generosity of the members of the music faculty of the college listed below.

Music scholarships are offered by Elton Brunseder, Eugene Pollard, Edwin Martin and Frances Morris. Two string scholarships will be awarded—one for a student in violin to study with Nadine Burdon and one for violin work under I. E. Feldman.

Two voice teachers, Elton Key and Lillian Weiss Terrie, are offering vocal scholarships. Also, a scholarship for a clarinet major will be given by Herbert Seiden and one for an organ major by Charles E. Vogan.

These scholarships will be given in addition to the three which were established last year, and are available again for next year. These include the Chorus Scholarship for a voice major; the Band Scholarship for a wind instrument major and the Ensemble Scholarship for a stringed instrument major. These three scholarships also are for $100 each. All scholarships will be awarded on the basis of need, musical talent and scholastic record.

Applications for these scholarships should be made to Lewis W. Webb, Jr., Director of the College, by July 15th.

Micro Waves Carry Phone Calls and TV

Telephone calls and television programs now are being flashed through the air across the continent by means of 107 waves which contain approximately 200 million cycles per second. To be able to use them, a station of power is needed to send them from one tower to another, Mr. F. I. S. Hall, Jr., of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia, said today in speaking before the Sportsmen's Club at the Paramount Restaurant.

This is made possible by the Bell system's new radio relay system connecting New York and San Francisco, which was first placed in operation in August for telephone service and in September for television transmission. The towers, which are spaced from 25 to 30 miles apart, vary in height from two and one-half feet to 415 feet, depending on the terrain. Micro waves are tiny electric waves only about three inches long. Those used in this system have a frequency of vibration so great that 4000 million of them will pass a given point in a single second while their speed is such that they flash across the continent in a fraction of a second.

Scientists of the Bell Telephone Laboratories have devised a unique type of giant lens 10 feet square which concentrates the micro waves into a narrow beam and sends them from tower to tower. Mr. Hall said. Amplifying equipment in each tower revitalizes the faded signals and sends them out again," he continued.

"At each end of the system and at appropriate points along the route if practical.

Wrap green or tender plants in moist paper, or cloth, place them inside a paper box, and mail at once. Write your name and address plainly on package.

If large leaves, such as those of tobacco, are to be mailed, first press them and then lay them between pieces of cardboard, or other stiff material, for mailing.

Send some of the affected leaves and branches from trees and shrubs; but examine the entire plant for other indications of disease. If different symptoms are found on other parts of the tree, report them, and if practical send specimens. In the case of wilt, such as a maple wilt, Dutch elm disease, or oak wilt, it is necessary to send small lengths of living diseased wood. Select green wood that shows dark discoloration underneath the bark. Dead wood is not suitable for making a proper diagnosis. Usually about six such small branches, about one-half inch in diameter and about six inches long, are enough.

special equipment is provided to cut out the hundreds of thousands of variations which can be caused continuously by each radio relay beam and send them on their way to their respective destinations.

"In the case of television when the picture reaches the end of its journey, it must be accompanied by the sound portion of the program which normally travels over a separate channel, telephone technicians at control centers along the route synchronize these two parts of the program so that both picture and sound are received at television stations simultaneously."

Mr. Hall was assisted in his lecture by Mr. E. H. Gandy, who demonstrated on specially designed equipment, the principal points in the speaker's talk.
